LANDSLIDE IS INDICATED

Coolidge Victory Augured by Poll

Final Report on Straw Vote of Literary Digest Puts G.O.P. Far Ahead

Republican Ticket Leads in Twenty-eight States With 327 Electoral Votes

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The final report of the Literary Digest's presidential poll made public tonight indicates a sweeping victory for President Coolidge.

Out of 2,384,941 votes received, President Coolidge receives 1,343,-000 more than the combined totals of his principal opponents, Senator La Follette, with 803,516 votes, and John W. Davis, with 805,410.

The Digest estimates that President Coolidge will receive an electoral vote of 327, which is sixty-seven more than the majority necessary to election. This calculation is based upon the premise that the Democrats will lose all the doubtful states. California is listed as Republican.

The Digest classifies the States, and their electoral vote as follows:

FOR COOLIDGE

Maine	6
Nebraska	8
New Hampshire	4
New Jersey	14
New Mexico	3
New York	45
North Dakota	5
Ohio	24
Pennsylvania	38
Rhode Island	5
Utah	4
Vermont	5
Wyoming	3
	327

FOR DAVIS

South Carolina	9
Texas	18
	139

FOR LA FOLLETTE

Wisconsin	13

DOUBTFUL

North Dakota	5
West Virginia	11
	25

California's vote has held much interest, as La Follette has been running hard upon the Presidency. This week's totals on that state give President Coolidge 76,-000, La Follette 66,169, and Davis 64,000.

"California," states the Digest, "however, has from the first shown strong sentiment for the Wisconsin candidate, and therefore, in the case of the present vote, the State remains doubtful."

The Digest gives to Mr. Davis the entire South, with a total of 139 electoral votes, classing Oklahoma, which is doubtful, as Democratic.

ROOSEVELT'S TASK HARD

Governor's Race Uncertain

Upper New York State Favors T. R., Jr., But Democrats Are Optimistic

Capital Area Apparently is Certain for Coolidge for President

BY LOUIS SEIBOLD

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ALBANY, Oct. 30. — Perfectly safe for Coolidge and uncertain as between Roosevelt and Smith, is about the way the political war map around the State capital looks to an observer.

It is not until an inquirer progresses as far east as the upper reaches of the Hudson that he encounters substantial reasons to justify the confidence of the Smith managers that he will win a third term.

From the grape belt of the western fringe to the mill districts between Syracuse and Utica, the chances for the Republican Presidential ticket could not be more satisfactory, nor the opportunity provided the second Theodore Roosevelt more inviting.

Backed by a united party and apparently sure of the bulk of the slacker vote in the rural sections, Roosevelt should retrieve to the Republican field enough votes in the rural sections to make Smith's job in the city a difficult one. If rural slackers come out of their holes next Tuesday the aggressive New York Governor will have his work cut out for him.

Two years ago, when 604,000 rural voters above the Bronx were not interested enough in Nathan L. Miller, the Republican candidate for Governor, to go to the polls, Smith carried thirteen of the most populous counties in the L. W. and R. issue, meaning, of course, light wines and beer—which they didn't get.

Even his most ardent supporters, who now predict that he will "beat the tar out of Roosevelt" next week, don't expect him to do as well this time. Democratic hopes for the State ticket in upstate districts are based on the theory that the demoralization which exists in rural Republican organizations still continues.

This theory is not correct. Just the contrary is true.

Democratic leaders in these counties apparently have less control over their party voters than their Republican rivals. They have virtually abandoned hope of carrying their districts for Davis and Bryan. The La Follette candidacy is chiefly of interest as affording opportunity for trading votes to improve the chances of Gov. Smith and nominees for local offices.

COOLIDGE TO TALK ON EVE OF ELECTION

President Meets Popular Demand; Station KHJ to Broadcast Speech

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. — In deference to a general demand for either a public appearance or a public utterance from President Coolidge on the eve of election, the President consented today to speak on the radio from the White House Monday night. His consent was qualified by specifying that he will not make a partisan address.

Instead he will confine himself, it is understood, to calling upon all good citizens of whatever party to be mindful of their obligations as citizens and to vote election day. The President on several occasions like other leaders of popular thought, has deplored the nonvoting habits of the American people. He is expected to amplify these remarks on Monday night.

The Republican National Committee began this afternoon the task of arranging for a country-wide broadcasting of the speech. One of the first stations signed up was KHJ at Los Angeles. The committee expects to have the President's speech distributed over the country quite as generally as was his speech before the eastern section of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States last week.

WHY FORD LIKES COOLIDGE

Motor Magnate Says President Short on Promises but Long on Action; Will Hew to Line

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DETROIT, Oct. 30.—In response to a telegraphic inquiry Henry Ford today told why he supported Calvin Coolidge for the Presidency and why he expected him to win. The statement follows:

"I support Calvin Coolidge and confidently expect his election for the following reasons:

"Our government has been freer of the influence of the money powers during Calvin Coolidge's brief administration than for a long time before.

BUSINESS AND MONEY POWER

"He understands the difference between American business and money power. American business is the means by which we earn our living and supply the needs of the country. Agriculture, manufacture and transportation are its three pillars. It is constructive. The money power represents the exploiting, gambling and destructive counterfeits of business.

"Two systems of business confront each other in this country —production for use as against production for profits only. Calvin Coolidge is on the side of productive service and prosperity.

"He is increasing the number of jobs in this country, by drawing back into business the moneys that have been driven out by high taxes. The greatest prosperity will not arrest Calvin Coolidge's drive against high taxes.

"He is sprung from the old American stock which went south and west and fixed our American course and he will hold the government steady to that course.

"He is short on promises and long on action.

PREFERS THE DOER

"In our business we prefer the doers to the talkers. I want as good or better service for the nation as we insist upon in the Ford Motor Company.

"Why all this talk about throwing the election into Congress? Who would want that except those who cannot hope to control the people, but could easily control Congress? Such a mistake would indicate that Americans are not intelligent enough to decide an election—and that is not the case. Americans are able to elect their own President and they are on guard against all efforts to cheat them out of that right.

"I believe in Calvin Coolidge regardless of party because he is an honest, able man, with a task that deserves the help of all forward-minded men regardless of party. I like him because he knows how to think, because he can see clearly and because the politicians do not like him."

PIER COLLAPSE CAUSED FIRE

Six Men Perished on Burning Tanker and Seventh Drowned; Blaze Still Raging

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—Seven men perished in the $1,500,000 fire which destroyed the Associated Oil tanker Alden Anderson, a large pier and barge No. 2 of the Alameda Transportation Company at Avon, Contra Costa county, Wednesday night.

Officials of the Associated Oil Company expressed themselves satisfied that this is the truth of the disaster, after interrogating surviving members of the crew who, in borrowed clothes and grinning wearily, were paid off at the company's offices this afternoon.

SIX BELIEVED BURNED

Six of the men are believed to have been cremated on board the burning tanker, while the seventh is thought to have drowned.

The missing members of the crew are:

Paul Schroeder, first mate, San Francisco.

P. Anderson, third mate, Moline, Ill.

O. Eide, seaman, 59 Clay street, San Francisco.

Nelson Bouchard, seaman, Fall River, Mass.

Jack Crawford, pumpman, 416 Freeman avenue, Hawthorne, Cal.

J. W. Towner, oiler, Maro, Ariz.

Arthur McDonald, messman, New York.

Eide is the man who is believed to have drowned. Several of the surviving crew saw him at the stern of the tanker preparing to jump overboard when the first explosion occurred.

Any attempt to search for the bodies will be impossible for several days. The tanker was blazing all day today as fiercely as on Wednesday night, and the fire fighters were merely standing by, allowing it to burn itself out, which is expected to take until some time tomorrow. The San Francisco fire boat, Dennis T. Sullivan, was standing by.

BLAME PIER COLLAPSE

The first official statement of how the tragic mishap occurred was made this afternoon by F. B. Henderson, assistant general manager of the Associated Oil Company, after he had received reports of special agents investigating.

Henderson said that the sudden collapse of the pier was attributed to the destructive "toredo" worm which eats away the wooden piles below the surface of the water. The Alden Anderson was unloading 6000 barrels of crude oil, which she had just brought up from San Pedro through feed pipes at a point midship. When the pier collapsed, it broke the feed pipe and caused a short circuit of electric wires, the sparks igniting the spilled oil. In an instant, the pier was ablaze, and almost as quickly, the tanker itself was on fire. Meanwhile, the crude oil kept spilling out of the broken pipe into the water and this too, became ignited in great burning patches.

The blaze spread to the lines holding the Associated Oil tanker Marcus Whittier, which was lying empty alongside. Capt. George McGrath, the skipper, seeing the approaching doom of his vessel, ordered "full steam astern" and the Whittier backed out and away from the fire. She was taken in tow by the tug Arab.

CONSERVATIVES' MAJORITY IS GREATEST IN CENTURY

Liberals Routed With Loss of 110 Seats, Labor Drops 41; Fear of Bolshevism is Factor

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Oct. 30.—With less than a score of divisions still to report from yesterday's general election, the results show that the Conservatives have won the greatest majority in a century.

The latest figures give the Conservatives 393 seats, which is a net gain of 149, and Labor won 154 seats, which is a net loss of 41. The Liberals have been completely routed with a loss of 110 seats. They won 40. The Independents won 4 seats, the Constitutionalists 3, and the Communists 1.

MAJORITY OF 191

The figures so far indicate that the Conservative party has a majority of 191 over all others. Ramsay MacDonald's Socialist-Labor government sowed the wind of suspicion by playing with the Moscow Communists and has reaped the whirlwind of defeat. The Conservatives scored one triumph after another, and proved beyond doubt that this country will stand for no truckling to Bolshevism.

Former Premier Stanley Baldwin will form the new Conservative Ministry.

The incendiary Zinoviev letter proved a decisive factor in the election, not by robbing the Labor party of any of its strength, but by bringing to the polls thousands of men and women who ordinarily do not vote, but who on this occasion, were eager to cast their ballots against the Socialists[

Women newly enfranchised, as well as suffragists of the old school, swarmed at the polling booths in unprecedented numbers. They were laboring under strong emotions based upon their intuitive fear of Bolshevism and aggravated by resentment at Communist interference with Great Britain's domestic affairs.

LIBERALISM KILLED

Labor's success in office, and MacDonald's personal popularity, could not stem the tide of this emotional reaction. Liberalism, caught between two fires, received a death wound. The clearing away of the smoke of battle disclosed a field strewn with Liberal warriors, among them the heroic figure of Herbert Asquith, the country's greatest parliamentarian.

Real grief over Mr. Asquith's defeat is expressed by members of both the old parties, who realize the need in the House of Commons of mature judgment such as his. He may run for Parliament again, but his long and illustrious career is nearly ended. David Lloyd George is left as the leader of a woefully small remnant of a once dominant party.

The Conservative victory at the polls started when MacDonald chose to go to the country on the issue of the Russian treaties and the now famous Campbell case, involving charges of Communist influence within the ranks of the Labor party. He could not have selected a worse basis for his appeal to the people, but it must be remembered that Labor had a two-fold object.

The first was a desire to capitalize the government's success in foreign policy, especially the reparations settlement, and the second was the equally important desire of Labor to rid itself of Liberal control and, if possible to wipe the Liberal party out of existence.

Failing in their first object, the Laborites achieved more than they expected in their second aim, for Liberalism no longer exists as a major influence in this country's political life. Labor, with MacDonald re-elected and still head of the party, stands today as the undisputed opposition. MacDonald, however, just barely was elected, slipping in with a majority of only 2100 at Aberavon.

From an international point of view the Conservative reaction in England raises interesting speculations. One of the first things the Conservative government may be expected to do is to re-establish the McKenna duties removed by the Laborites.

This will bring the prices of American motor cars back to a level with the prices of British cars. It will also put a damper on the large trade in such products from the continent as watches and textiles. German trade will come in for immediate restrictions.

The new Conservative Ministry, with Stanley Baldwin as Prime Minister, will deal with Russia in a manner most abhorrent to the soviet authorities. Plain words will soon be spoken to the soviet representative in London. He will receive the treaties now up for ratification and will be requested to take them out of England and burn them. The relation fostered between London and Moscow by MacDonald undoubtedly will become more than strained.

Within a short time the delicate question of a new division of the reparations payments must be taken up. Where MacDonald put larger issues, such as world peace, first, it is likely that the Conservatives will take a more restrictive view and probably will make pointed inquiries regarding the outstanding war debts.

COAST HIT BY GALE

Freighter Broken on Rocks

Storm Off Oregon Sweeping Rapidly Inland; Rain in Its Wake

Fishing Crew is Rescued in Seventy-Mile Wind; Ships Far Off Courses

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—Terrific gales at sea that will hinder shipping, high winds and rain on the mainland from San Francisco north will follow tomorrow in the wake of a storm raging off the Oregon coast and sweeping rapidly inland, according to Federal Weather Bureau predictions tonight.

With one vessel driven ashore and destroyed and others in distress off the California Coast the government weather station in San Francisco was flashing emergency warnings of gales and mountainous seas tomorrow. Rainfall and wind are expected from the San Joaquin Valley to the Oregon line.

FREIGHTER ON ROCKS

Life-saving crews from Fort Point and Point Bonita Coast Guard stations this afternoon rescued the crew of the Ocean Queen, fishing trawler, adrift two miles off Seal Rocks, after a heavy sea had carried away her pilot house and fouled her propeller. The crew fought the gale and high seas for more than an hour before the rescue boats got a line aboard and towed the disabled craft to safety.

Driven ashore by the force of the gale the motor ship Shark of the Crescent City Transportation Company was piled up on the rocks off Crescent City today and tonight had been broken up by the sea. Her crew of ten men escaped. Vessel and cargo are a total loss. Owners of the lost ship, a sixty-four-ton freight carrier, were represented in San Francisco by the Bayside Steamship Company.

Tugs from Astoria today saved the Hammond Lumber Company schooner Trinidad, drifting sixty miles at sea, off Coos Bay with a rudder smashed by high seas. A Red Stack tug from San Francisco prevented a wreck today by pulling the French schooner Roy Somers away from Mile Rock, toward which the gale was driving her.

Gales off the coast of California and Oregon today ran seventy miles an hour, forcing offshore and coastwise vessels far out of their courses and delaying them for hours.

MAIL LINER LATE

The Pacific Mail liner President Pierce, due in San Francisco early tomorrow morning from the Orient, will be a full day late, she wirelessed tonight.

Reporting to the San Francisco Weather Bureau by wireless today, just as the storm overtook her, the Matson liner Mahukona, twenty miles off the Oregon coast bound for Honolulu, said that the high seas were just beginning and that she was fighting a sixty-four-mile gale.

Warned by a rapidly falling barometer, the Weather Bureau immediately sent out emegency warnings to all coastwise shipping. Rain

LOONEY GAS IS BARRED

Fifth Man Dies in Experimenting

Metropolis Board of Health Prohibits Sale of Liquid Creating Insanity

Injections Direct Into Blood Expected to Save Plant Workers Stricken

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Gasoline containing tetra-ethyl, the mysterious "looney gas" compound, may no longer be sold in New York City. The Board of Health today adopted a resolution prohibiting its sale after the death of the fifth of the thirty-three laborers affected by the fumes while experimenting with the mixture in the Bayway (N. J.) laboratories of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. The health board also made it a misdemeanor for anyone to use the gasoline in motors in the city. In addition the officials authorized Health Commissioner Monaghan to make a thorough investigation of the elements in the mysterious death-dealing gas and seek a mode of effective treatments for its victims.

Herbert Fuson, 29 years of age, Elizabeth, N. J., was the fifth man to succumb to the gas poisoning, which has made its victims insane. He died at Reconstruction Hospital early today confined in a straight jacket, a few hours after the corps of Standard Oil physicians and scientists seeking a successful treatment of the baffling malady had announced their quest successful.

A few hours after Fuson's death eleven more gas-crazed men were taken to Reconstruction Hospital. This brought the total of those affected to thirty-three, out of the forty-five who were employed in the laboratories. experimenting with a mixture of tetra-ethyl and gasoline, in an effort to add power to the fuel and eliminate knocks in motor-car engines.

REMAINING VICTIMS SHOWING IMPROVEMENT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ELIZABETH (N. J.) Oct. 30.—Hyposulphite of soda injected directly into the blood of the sufferers is the remedy developed by physicians for the poisoning, which had baffled them for days. The drug dissolves out of the tissues of the body the lead which the victims had absorbed in working with the tetra-ethyl gas.

Discovery of the new remedy came too late to save Fuson, the lead having already worked its way too deeply into his system. The other men still in the hospital have showed marked improvement under the new treatment and doctors announced tonight they believed the situation was under control.

The brains of several of the men killed by the gas were being examined today by Dr. Alexander O. Goettler of Bellevue. As soon as his examination is completed he will report to Medical Examiner Norris.

On the heels of the Board of Health action in barring the lunacy gas came a protest from the Workers' Health Bureau of New York against the exposure of human life to the vagaries of the gas.

Bureau of Mines experts are en route to the laboratory to make an investigation independent of the various others.

RESTRICTION OF TAX SCRUTINY EFFECTIVE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—A semblance of order has been restored to the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue with the new ruling limiting the scrutiny of income tax returns to two hours a day or three days a week. As a result of "shooing away" the crowds, a step made necessary by the serious interference with routine work of the office, the collector for this district said that it would now be possible for the office to get out the December income tax notices without having to resort to night work.

Last Rites for Famed Creator of Fauntleroy

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PLANDOME (N. Y.) Oct. 30.—Funeral services for Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, 75 years of age, world-famous novelist, who died at her home here yesterday, will be held Saturday.

Expressions of sorrow were voiced today not only in the literary world, but by thousands of readers in this country and abroad who had followed Mrs. Burnett's works since the success achieved by her best-known story, "Little Lord Fauntleroy."

DEATH PENALTY IS REVIVED BY SWISS

FIRST EXECUTION IN SCORE OF YEARS TAKES PLACE IN URI CANTON

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BERNE (Switzerland) Oct. 30. The death penalty was inflicted yesterday in Switzerland for the first time in twenty-two years. At Altdorf, capital of the Canton of Uri, Clement Bernet was guillotined for the murder of a young girl who surprised him while in the act of burglary.

There was no official executioner in Uri and the authorities had difficulty in finding anyone to carry out the sentence. A trainhand, who offered to do the job for 500 francs, was forbidden by the Federal railroad management, when other employees threatened to strike if he were allowed to "cast discredit" upon them. Finally a mechanic was induced to pull the trigger releasing the knife.

Bill Giffin was arrested on a charge of felonious assault and carrying weapons. Giffin asserted that he returned to his home and found Webb there with Mrs. Giffin. He handcuffed Webb and sitting on Webb's chest, branded him, according to his story.

AIR HERO "FALLS" FOR CUPID

World Flyer Nelson Will Take off on Matrimonial Flight With Ohio Girl, It is Told at Party

Having come safely through the hazardous air journey around the world Lieut. Eric Nelson is getting ready for another journey—this time for life.

Miss Ruth Butler

At a gathering of friends, including all but one of the heroes of the globe-girdling flight, last night at the home of Maj. and Mrs. C. C. Moseley, the engagement of Lieut. Nelson and Miss Ruth Butler of Dayton, was announced. They will "take off" soon, it was said.

CAT OUT OF BAG

The announcement came as a surprise and was cleverly revealed. Mrs. Moseley appeared before the guests carrying a paper bag. Shortly after she had said she would "let the cat out of the bag," the bag was broken and a coal black kitten strutted across the floor pulling a tiny cart. On the cart was a placard that announced "Eric and Bunny are gonna be married."

Among the first to congratulate their friend and companion were Lieut. Lowell Smith, flight commander, and his flight companion, Lieut. Leslie Arnold; Lieut. Leigh Wade, and Lieut. Jack Harding, Nelson's flight companion. All are bachelors. They commented at length on the engagement and offered their best wishes. They also

Interests of Wage-Earner Declared Best Served by Republicans

PROSPERITY FOR ALL WITH G.O.P.

Assistant Labor Secretary — Points Out Benefits

Decries Attempt to Stir Up Class Hatred in Nation

Says Entire Country Shares in Good or Bad Fortune

Problems of the day as viewed from the standpoint of the wage-earner, and the activities of the Department of Labor on behalf of the wage-earner were discussed at length by E. J. Henning, assistant Secretary of Labor, at a largely attended Coolidge-Dawes rally in Long Beach last night. Mr. Henning, who is a resident of San Diego, arrived in Southern California a few days ago. After a number of addresses at Republican meetings, he will go to San Diego to vote Tuesday.

Mr. Henning called attention to the fact that when the Republican party went into office on March 4, 1921, there were 4,500,000 unemployed men in the United States. By July, 1921, the number of unemployed was close to 6,000,000. All of the unemployed men have been absorbed in the industries of the United States, and for nearly two years there have been virtually no unemployed.

This condition, Mr. Henning attributed to the protective tariff and to the program of economy in government inaugurated by the Republican party. Under this program, annual expenditures of the government have been reduced by $3,000,000,000, and the national debt has been reduced by an equal amount.

SOCIALIST FAILURE

"Our Socialist friends promise much," he said. "The Socialist government of Great Britain, which went into power a year ago under similar promises, has failed. When it went into office there were 800,000 unemployed in Great Britain. This number has since been increased to 1,400,000, and the end is not in sight. It is folly to seek prosperity by adding more people to the government pay roll.

"I like to express the thought that all of us in America are in this thing together. He who advocates class hatred in America is either ignorant or vicious. In America we go up and down together in fortune and misfortune.

"We are all traveling together in a great automobile, you and I, and our families, our children, our hopes and our aspirations. The American automobile is more wonderful and more magnificent than that of any other country. We are the world's greatest producers of wealth as well as the greatest consumers. We are 6 per cent of the total population of the world. We produce approximately 50 per cent of all that goes into modern civilization and life, and we consume almost 50 per cent of the world's good things."

La Follette is an enemy of labor, declared Congressman Walter F. Lineberger of the Ninth Congress District, and the La Follette movement is inimical to the best interests of union labor.

"I am convinced," said Congressman Lineberger, "that the people who held the convention at St. Paul were the same Socialistic and Communistic sympathisers who, during the World War, and after the war, got into the labor unions by a process of infiltration, and then sought to Communize the country by a process of boring from within.

"President Coolidge's record shows him to be the friend of labor, and I believe the future will vindicate the position I am now taking. This is no time for demagoguery for the purpose of getting votes."

Yesterday a series of meetings were conducted by the flying squadron of the local Coolidge-Dawes headquarters, composed of Congressman Linsberger, Cadet Taylor, Republican nominee to the State Senate in the Thirty-third District; H. F. Sewell, Republican nominee for the Assembly in the Sixty-ninth District; Dr. John S. Copeland, F. W. Mears and Van Lee Hood, local attorneys. Meetings were conducted at Azusa, Glendora, Puente, Baldwin Park, Covina, San Dimas, La Verne and Pomona.

VENTURA COUNTY TOWNS CHEER COOLIDGE SPEAKERS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA PAULA, Oct. 30.—Voters of the Santa Clara Valley gave the Coolidge-Dawes flying squadron an enthusiastic welcome today cheering loudly when reminded of the prosperity that the Republican administration had brought to the United States and this county in particular. George Neilsen of Los Angeles, an ex-service man, was well received when he told of President Coolidge's stand on the bonus and pointed out how after the bonus was passed again after it had been vetoed that it was Coolidge himself who provided the means to put the bonus into operation by providing an emergency appropriation to take care of the ex-service men after the very men who had framed the bill had neglected to name the means by which the bonus funds were to be provided. Nelson also pointed out that La Follette had voted against the protection of the essential industries and crops of Ventura county and that La Follette's stand on tariff matters was just as bad as that of the Democratic party.

Orr was followed by L. C. Drapeau of Ventura who in a few brief remarks, discussed the Constitution with reference to the third-party attacks upon it.

The flying squadron came here from Fillmore and Moor Park, where other enthusiastic meetings were conducted, afterwards going on to Ojai, where another street meeting took place.

COOLIDGES USE MAILS FOR VOTING

Absentee Ballots Sent to Bay State; Hughes to Go to Home Polls

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—President and Mrs. Coolidge executed their absentee voters ballots early this afternoon in the presence of the White House office staff, a notary administering the oath in compliance with the laws of Massachusetts for "voting by mail."

Immediately after the oath was administered on the lawn at the rear of the White House, where the ballots were made out, the ballots were deposited in the mail for transmission to the City Clerk at Northampton, Mass.

Among State officials who will go home to vote is Secretary of State Hughes, who will cast his ballot in New York State, leaving Washington Tuesday morning and returning the same day.

La Follette Hit by Wet Leader as Dodging Issue

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Because he had "failed to take an unequivocal stand for the repeal or modification of the Volstead law," the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment has "refused its official indorsement of the Presidential candidacy of Senator La Follette, W. H. Stayton, executive head of the association, said in a statement tonight.

In announcing that word to that effect was being sent to the membership of the association, many of whom, he said, had been "led to announce their intention to vote for La Follette on the ground of his misunderstood 'wet' tendencies," Mr. Stayton asserted that the "fast-and-loose tactics adopted by the Wisconsin Senator were designed to capture the votes of both wets and drys."

LA FOLLETTE SCORED BY WORKERS' PARTY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—A bulletin issued by the Workers' party tonight stated that "its first great task is to destroy the La Follette illusion."

The party, the announcement states, "is against La Follette and considers La Follette a danger to the labor movement of the United States."

Attention is called in the bulletin to the fact that "Rudolph Spreckels, the multimillionaire San Francisco banker," is "one of the most ardent supporters of La Follette," adding that "the Workers' party's aim is to destroy capitalism."

ROOSEVELT HAS DIFFICULT TASK

ties concede the radical Presidential candidate "a substantial vote" in the small towns in the Mohawk and Hudson valleys, at Troy, Schenectady, West Albany, Utica, Amsterdam and Johnstown, but not enough to menace the chances of the Coolidge-Dawes ticket.

ONLY UNCERTAINTY

The only uncertainty which provides speculation relates to the State contest. Of the dozen or more counties falling in the Albany group Smith seems to have a better-than-even-money chance of holding from 60 to 75 per cent of the advantage he gained two years ago when "all the breaks" favored him.

Republican leaders in these counties are extremely confident he will not find it so easy this time. One reason is that the Republicans are not now fighting among themselves; another is that the national situation is helping Roosevelt and is handicapping Smith. It is true, of course, that the split ticket will enable Democratic and independent voters to cast their ballots for Coolidge or La Follette for President and Smith for Governor.

Many will undoubtedly do so. But it is also true that many Republicans who were won by the wet and dry issue two years ago will right about face this year. It is also true that rural adherents of the nightgown and pillow-slip outdoor sport, of whom there are hundreds of thousands in the Capital District will vote for Roosevelt, he being a Protestant and Mr. Smith a Catholic, though both are opposed to the Klan.

VOTE LOSS EXPECTED

It is believed by observers that the Governor is going to lose a lot of votes he polled by the State two years ago and will have to break his own remarkable record in the more reliable sections stretching from Oneida on the north and west to Brooklyn on the east.

Of the thirteen up-State counties carried by him two years ago six were embraced in the capital zone—Albany, Rennsselaer, Schenectady, Oneida, Montgomery and Saratoga. These were also the most populous, mainly industrial and pronouncedly wet in sentiment.

A much more significant fact was that in all these counties the Republican organizations were all shot to pieces. Most of them are just beginning to recover. A further fact of interest is that Republican recalcitrants generally prevail. In Albany, which Smith carried by 16,000 two years ago, for instance, 9000 citizens did not vote; in Rennsselaer (Troy,) where his plurality over Miller was 9000, the number of defaulters was 8000; in Schenectady, where the Governor won by 4000 more than 6000 voters remained away from the polls.

The same proportion extended to the other counties in the capital group. Republican local leaders are confident that absentees will be on hand this year and that 75 per cent of them will not be for the Governor.

SOCIALIST SUPPORT

There seems little room to dispute the Smith claim that Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Utica and Saratoga will again favor him, but by greatly reduced pluralities. He will lose the important Socialist support that went to him in these centers. Thomas, the Socialist candidate for Governor, has paid considerable attention to the mill districts and, according to local leaders of his party has made much better impression than either Roosevelt or Smith.

If Socialist leaders in Little Falls, Utica, Troy and other industrial centers are correct Smith is also going to forfeit the 100,000 Socialist votes in the five boroughs of the city which went to him two years ago, unless, of course, Tammany trades votes that should go to Davis with the progressive leaders in exchange for ballots for Smith.

Most of the Democratic as well as Republican leaders in this section of the State are absolutely sure that this is just what is going to happen.

Rural Democratic leaders have already opened negotiations with their La Follette friends in this direction and naturally expect Tammany will do the same.

Here at the State capital where Gov. "Al" grips the affections of thousands of adherents of both parties, he is the favorite in the betting at odds around 8 to 5 with plenty of takers. Democratic confidence in the Governor's ability to duplicate his feats of four and two years ago in the city districts is responsible for the odds on him.

In the Harding landslide four years ago Gov. Miller, who beat Smith by 74,000 votes, polled 936,147 up-State to 552,208 for Mr. Smith.

In the "off year" two years ago when Mr. Smith beat Mr. Miller by 385,993, he polled up the State 641,217, while Mr. Miller's total was 751,690 in the same section. Wherefore the Governor will have to beat his own record below the Bronx to defeat Roosevelt this time if Republican appraisal of up-State conditions is correct.

BERLIN SAYS SOVIET DUG LABORITES' GRAVE

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BERLIN, Oct. 30.—M. Zinoviev dug the grave for the Labor government in England, and his reward is a Conservative government. Although Moscow revenged itself on Prime Minister MacDonald, the soviets must face the most anti-Bolshevik government in Great Britain for years. This is the opinion of the German press, which otherwise sees little of interest for Germany in the election.

A most significant fact here is that the Dawes plan has taken Germany out of European politics and placed it on an economic platform so that for the first time an upheaval in the entente finds little reaction here. Germany does not care whether the Liberals, Labor, or Conservatives rule Great Britain, because Germany's international future is pretty well arranged for it through the London pact and it has nothing to lose or gain.

However, the British elections are expected to react upon Germany's elections in December. When the people raised the cry that Germany must have a Liberal government to deal with Premier Herriot and Prime Minister MacDonald recently, the German Conservatives are now crying it is best for Germany to return the Conservatives and Nationalists and the monrachists expect to make great capital out of the English result.

It is generally believed in political quarters that the Liberal party has been dealt a death blow. Great Britain in the future having only Unionists and Laborites. The monarchist organs, however, rejoice that Socialism also is dead in England.

NO POLICY CHANGE FEARED AT WASHINGTON

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. — No radical change in the foreign policy of Great Britain toward this country is foreseen here as a result of the rise to power of the Conservative party.

The State Department refused to comment but in independent quarters it is pointed out that the official policy of Great Britain toward the United States since the war has been one of co-operation in all matters of common interest and of consideration in all controversial points on their individual merits uninfluenced by any set rule of national policy. There are no indications that this policy which was pursued by the Conservatives during their previous tenure of office will be reversed.

Likewise no concern is felt here as to possible amendments to or interference with the Dawes plan. This is deemed here to be too firmly entrenched and to have shown too clearly its beneficial possibilities to run any danger of being upset by the Conservatives as a measure sponsored by their political rivals.

GENEVA PROTOCOL

The treatment of the Geneva protocol at the hands of a Conservative Commons is considered no more problematical than under a Labor government. It is believed here that the fate of this plan, if it reaches the British Parliament, will be dependent on the international condition in Europe when it comes up for ratification and on what possibilities it offers of solving any outstanding problems at the time.

Russo-British relations are naturally expected to be more strained in the future, but it is doubted whether the new government will go to the length of severing what relations have already been established. Probably no further advances will be made, but it is thought likely that unless hostile action on the part of Russia develops, present conditions, with charges d'affaires in London and Moscow, will be maintained.

PARIS SEES WARNING TO RADICALS IN ELECTION

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PARIS, Oct. 30.—Great circumspection is being observed in official circles over the British elections although there is comment among those close to Premier Herriot to the effect that the Conservative victory in Great Britain raises a permanent dyke against the Bolshevik flood.

Political circles are inclined to consider the fate of the Liberals as a warning to the radicals of M. Herriot's party, which now is so tied to the Socialists that it is unable to carry out its program independently of Socialist reforms.

Ramsay MacDonald's downfall is regretted by Herriot's closest collaborators because of fearing that the Conservatives may not look with the same favor as the British Labor leader on the disarmament and security program as laid down at Geneva. In the lobbies of the Chamber the feeling seems general that the outcome of the British elections will change the direction of France's policy, the Clerical party especially hoping that Premier MacDonald's check will influence that government's treatment of the church.

Most of the Paris evening papers do not expect to see any great or immediate change in the foreign policy of Great Britain. L'Information, an independent financial organ, for instance, thinks it unlikely that the new Ministry will go back on the preliminary measures adopted by its predecessor with the soviets.

COAL TRADE DEPRESSED

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Fifty collieries have closed down indefinitely in Northumberland because of the deep depression in the coal trade following stiffened foreign competition. Notices have been posted in other mines in the same district notifying the miners that their services soon will not be required. High prices have added to the depression.

POLL POINTS TO G.O.P. VICTORY

West Virginia and Maryland as doubtful between Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Davis, though the President is leading in each one of them. Granting that the Democrats carry these three doubtful States, says the Digest, the Davis total would be 165 electoral votes.

Senator La Follette is granted only Wisconsin as safe. Though the President is ahead in North Dakota, South Dakota, Nevada and California, these are termed doubtful as between La Follette and the President. Granting victory for the Wisconsin candidate in these States his total electoral vote would be 39.

The La Follette-Davis total would then be 204, including all the doubtful States, leaving the President with 327.

An interesting feature of the poll is that President Coolidge receives more votes than did President Harding in 1920. Of the 2,336,052 people who sent in their ballots, 1,337,738 voted the Republican ticket four years ago.

The world dances to Victrola because Victor dance records are latest and best

Today the dance music enthusiast goes from the favorite dance floor to the Victrola at home and enjoys the same up-to-the-minute music in either place. The dispatch with which Victor Records of the latest dance hits are issued makes this possible and accounts for the preference given them by those who know big dance orchestras as a matter of course and recognize unusual dance music when they hear it. If it isn't on a Victor Record it isn't a big hit.

Memory Lane (de Sylva-Spier-Conrad) Mah Lindy Lou (Lily Strickland)		Amelita Galli-Curci Amelita Galli-Curci	1047	1.50

The tender "Memory Lane" with its swinging waltz-rhythm; and the quaint "Lindy Lou" in American Negro dialect, with a bright celesta and a banjo-like accompaniment which give an unusual background to the lovely voice.

Goin' Home (Words by William Arms Fisher) Follow Me (Fields-Coy-R. Nathaniel Dett)		Reinald Werrenrath Reinald Werrenrath	6472	2.00

"Spirituals" of modern derivation—the first based on the slow movement from Dvorak's "New World Symphony"; the other, highly dramatic in style, by a prominent American Negro composer.

Melodious Instrumental

Coppélia Ballet—Entr'acte and Waltz Naila Ballet—Intermezzo		Victor Symphony Orchestra	19435	.75

Waltzes from Leo Delibes' great ballets—immortal masterpieces of music written for the dance. Both have delicate, gossamer-like melody with a smooth pour of counter-melody underneath.

Light Vocal Selections

Tea for Two (from "No, No, Nanette") I Want to Be Happy (from "No, No, Nanette")		Helen Clark-Lewis James	19463	.75

Tuneful numbers which are big duet successes. The first in its original form for the voices and orchestra; the second with some interesting orchestral effects.

Fox trot songs by this famous comedian, with orchestral accompaniments which make them as agreeable to dance as to listen to.

Recitations

Proud Father and Dirty Hands The Man to Be and Compensation		Edgar Guest Edgar Guest	45454	1.00

Simple and familiar rhymes of American domestic life. The poet, perhaps the most prominent figure in the American literature of today, "speaks his own pieces."

Dance Records

Sweet Little You—Fox Trot If I Stay Away Too Long from Carolina—Fox Trot		Henry Halstead and His Orch. Art Hickman's Orchestra	19406	.75

Fox trots from Pacific Coast organizations of immeasurably more than coast repute. The first soft-toned with brisk tempo; the second in moderate tempo with strongly marked rhythms.

Go Your Way and I'll Go Mine—Fox Trot Oh Peter—Fox Trot		Glenn Oswald's Serenaders	19410	.75

These records adapt themselves perfectly to the "Collegiate" and similar dances, but may be used always for the standard fox trot.

Rose-Marie—Fox Trot (from "Rose-Marie") My Road—Fox Trot (from "Be Yourself")		Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra	19461	.75

Two tempting fox trots, done in Whiteman's brightest, snappiest and latest style; new, different effects, but the familiar perfection of time and rhythm.

DOUBTS ON TWO STATES ERASED

Observers Put West Virginia and Maryland With G.O.P.

Davis Can't Carry Own Ward, Says ex-Congressman

Senator Weller Reports Gain for Republican Ticket

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—West Virginia, the home State of John W. Davis, and Maryland, one of the last, lingering hopes of the Democracy, were definitely and irrevocably taken out of the doubtful category today and awarded President Coolidge and the Republican party by two observers of national reputation.

Senator O. E. Weller of Maryland, after a conference with President Coolidge, in which the Senator and Galen Tait, Republican State chairman, took up the final phases of the campaign, issued a statement in which he declared that all doubt as to the result has vanished and that the State will give its electoral vote to President Coolidge by a comfortable plurality.

The victory for Coolidge, he said, will be a victory for conservative progress against the forces of radicalism and the chaos and confusion that would result from La Follette getting control or Gov. Bryan being chosen by the Senate.

J. Hampton Moore, former Mayor of Philadelphia, and former member of Congress, returning today from West Virginia, said that the State may now be definitely placed in the Coolidge column, with a clear-cut victory along the whole line, including the election of Col. Guy Goff for United States Senator and Howard Gore for Governor.

"I feel confidence," he said, "after my survey of the State and the detailed reports I have seen, that Davis will not carry even his own ward in Clarksburg. He will certainly not carry Harrison county and as for the State there is no doubt whatever. The 'favorite-son' asset has to a large extent failed him. The people are not impelled by sentiment in this election. He has been away from the State and has little contact with the needs of laboring men or the business men of West Virginia.

"The veranda and the wall built by the town of Clarksburg from which the home of John W. Davis looks down on the city is now referred to, in common parlance, as the bridge of sighs."

LA FOLLETTE SAYS WE ARE IMPERIALIST

Radical Candidate Finds New Charge to Lay Upon Administration

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—Senator Robert M. La Follette, carrying his fight for the Presidency into President Coolidge's home State, assailed in a speech here tonight the recent and present foreign policy of the American government, and contended that the United States has been "launched upon a career of imperialism which leads inevitably to war and to the decay which has destroyed every empire in the world's history."

"During the last twenty years," continued the independent Presidential candidate, "this nation has abandoned the foreign policy which, through a century and a half made her great and respected by all the world. Our government has adopted the aims and methods of European diplomacy and has slavishly copied the policies upon which the British Empire was builded.

"We are today creating in Central and South America our Irelands, our Egypts and our Indias. Helpless people are being crushed into submission in order to compel them to pay tribute to our International bankers and industrial exploiters. At the same time, in Asia, Africa and in Europe, in the Near East as well as in the Far East, American oil interests and concession hunters, with the aid and encouragement of our State Department, are competing with the financial imperialists of England and France for the control of the world's natural resources.

"The conquest of India, Egypt and South Africa and the subjugation of Ireland were not for the benefit of the British people. By the same token our conquest of Haiti and Santo Domingo and our repeated interventions in Mexico have not been for the benefit of the American people.

"I indict as traitorous to American ideals the administrations in Washington responsible for the conquest of Haiti and Santo Domingo, of the republics of Nicaragua and Honduras, of Bolivia, Panama and Costa Rica."

Bryan Tries to Belittle Dawes Reparation Plan

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WEST POINT (Neb.) Oct. 30.—Invading the German-American sections of Eastern Nebraska, Gov. Bryan, Democratic candidate for Vice-President, delivered three speeches today, two of which he devoted to denunciation of what he termed "the reparation settlement" and a reaffirmation of his stand for withdrawal of French troops from German territory.

Taking up the reparations question for the first time, Gov. Bryan criticised the Republican administration "for trying to take credit for settling the reparations problem when they have already admitted the United States was not officially represented at the council table."

"It was not a settlement between governments," he asserted, "but a settlement between bankers, and if we are to have prosperity we must have an international policy based on fairness and justice between man and man."

Mr. Bryan told the crowd that gathered about his crude sidewalk platform at Scribner "they are using me as a 'bogey man' to help raise campaign contributions from the privileged class."

MOTOR BUS MEN TELL THEIR SIDE

President of Carriers Asks Public to Consider Tax Question on Its Merits

Asking that the voters consider the proposition on its merits, W. E. Travis, president of the Motor Carriers' Association of California, presented the attitude of the association on Proposition No. 1 on the coming ballot relative to a proposed change in the method of taxing companies handling passengers and freight by automobile on public highways.

Mr. Travis pointed out that the automobile transportation business has taken its place along with railroads and street car companies and should be taxed as such public utilities are taxed. Amendment No. 1 will accomplish this, Mr. Travis said, by taxing the automobile transportation companies on the basis of their gross receipts, as in the case of other transportation utilities.

"No logical reason exists why there should be a difference in the method of taxing these various classes of utilities," Mr. Travis said. "The taxes received from our various classes of utilities at present are used for the current expenses of the State, and this includes redemption of highway bonds and interest due thereon, already issued by the State.

"The proposed amendment provides that the tax collected from the busses shall be so used, unless the Legislature places the tax money in special funds—such as motor vehicle fund or the gas tax fund, from which the Highway Commission gets its revenue. If the Highway Commission can make a proper showing it is safe to assume that the Legislature will give them the proceeds of such tax."

Mr. Travis denied the statement asserted to have been made by representatives of the State Highway Commission that the auto stage companies will be relieved of the 2-cent gasoline tax if the amendment passes. He pointed out that this tax is collected as part of the price of gasoline regardless of who the consumer is, adding that this tax is available for the Highway Commission.

Mr. Travis also denied that the amendment will lessen the taxes paid by the motor transit companies. He pointed out that the Duval Act passed by the last Legislature taxing this class of carriers 4 per cent of the gross receipts but deducting all county and municipal taxes was recently declared unconstitutional by the Superior Court of Fresno county.

WARNS OF IMPORTED THEORIES

J. L. McNab Tells Glendale Voters American System is Under Attack

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

GLENDALE, Oct. 30. — "The time has now come when we must make our choice between the American constitutional form of government and the type of government which the crazy theorists of Europe would foist upon us," declared John L. McNab, prominent San Francisco attorney, at a Coolidge-Dawes rally here tonight. McNab was accorded an enthusiastic reception.

"Mr. La Follette promises us public ownership of industry," said Mr. McNab. "If a typhoon were to sweep over the United States, destroying its cities and paralyzing industries, no greater harm would be done than by the program promised by La Follette.

"North Dakota tried the experiment of public ownership of industries, with disastrous results. Its State-owned mills closed down in one year with a loss of $500,000. The State-owned Building and Loan Association failed for $113,000. The State-owned bank became insolvent with a deficit to the taxpayers of nearly $500,000. The State-owned creamery failed with a deficit of $15,000.

"At the end of one year of government ownership, the tax rate in North Dakota had increased 400 per cent, and she was compelled to bond herself to the extent of $17,000,000 to pay her creditors. This is the very system which Mr. La Follette would foist upon the people of the United States.

"The crowning proposal of the La Follette program is the amendment to the Constitution which would prevent the Supreme Court from declaring a law unconstitutional. In the 137 years that we have existed as a nation, Congress has passed about 50,000 laws, only thirty-eight of which have ever been declared unconstitutional.

"If Congress can pass a law beyond the control of the court, it may vote itself a life term in office; it may increase its salaries from $5000 to $100,000 per year; it may abolish the Presidency.

"These attacks upon the Constitution are the result of soviet philosophy. The Socialist and the Bolshevik want to destroy our government.

"In this crisis, the United States is fortunate in having Calvin Coolidge. He is the soul of personal integrity. His career is a model for every young man in America. He has held the country on an even keel in stormy times. He deserves the support of every American who treasures his country's good."

WHEELER STILL SURE HONESTY'S ONLY ISSUE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

TOLEDO (O.) Oct. 30.—Addressing himself a second time to Toledo voters, Senator Wheeler, independent Vice-Presidential candidate, again stressed the declaration that the "only campaign issue this year" was honesty. He spoke to an audience gathered at night in the same hall in which five weeks ago he held a day meeting and remained in the city overnight. "During a trip that has taken me to the Pacific Coast and back again," he said, "I have found no reason to change my view that the issue is honesty. The people themselves have made the issue. Three and one-half years of dishonesty in national administration have made the American people determined they will have four years at least of honesty."

ELECTION WILL DECIDE BUILDING

Wilshire Program Depends on Proposition "C"

Twenty-five Million Dollar Plans Involved

Opposition Against Invasion of Residence Section

Passage of Proposition "C" at the polls next Tuesday will result in an immediate building program involving more than $25,000,000 on Wilshire Boulevard, officials of the Wilshire Boulevard Association, which is actively backing a huge development program for the street, announced yesterday. The buildings would all be erected between Westlake Park and Western avenue on Wilshire and contracts already have been awarded for several huge structures subject to the success of the proposition on November 4.

"This program can only be carried out if Proposition 'C' is a winner," officials of the association stated. "This would be only a small portion of the ultimate expenditure. Four height-limit buildings now are being held back for the election—and the building program is only one phase of the development of Wilshire.

WIDENING SOUGHT

"The boulevard would be widened fourteen feet from the west limits of Westlake Park, Parkview street to Rimpau avenue, a distance of two and one-half miles, which would relieve traffic congestion to a great degree through the west and north sections of the city.

"Widening of the boulevard which is provided for in Proposition 'C,' would not cost taxpayers a cent, because property owners on Wilshire have agreed to pay all costs. This would make Wilshire a seventy-foot thoroughfare.

"We also plan to beautify Wilshire with ornamental trees and shrubbery and to make it one of the best lighted boulevards in the West. But no part of this program can be carried out unless the proposition wins. All of Los Angeles would benefit by the program and all voters should favor the proposition which means so much to the city."

OPPOSITION'S STAND

Opposition to Proposition "C" which provides for the rezoning of Wilshire Boulevard has been crystallized by P. W. Croake, real estate dealer and member of the Wilshire Referendum Committee.

Mr. Croake takes issue with the proponents of the measure particularly in his assertion that the widening of the boulevard is not actually involved in the proposition. This, he says, can be accomplished by cutting off seven feet on each side of the present twenty-two-foot parkways, still leaving fifteen feet for sidewalks and parkways.

He claims that the erection of commercial structures will increase traffic congestion; that there is no "crying necessity" for the wholesale decentralization of the downtown shopping district, and that such downtown and Hollywood trading centers will suffer at the expense of the Wilshire development.

HIGH RENTALS

It is Mr. Croake's opinion, expressed in open forum meetings, that rentals would have to average $500 a month for a twenty-foot store in order to yield 7 per cent net on the investment. He charges further that the plan is speculative and that the property will sustain no loss in volume, as alleged by proponents, "inasmuch as the street never was dedicated to business purposes, hence had never acquired the fictitious values quoted."

He professes alarm at the invasion of the residential section, and says that if Wilshire is turned into a shopping street it will not reflect the soul of Los Angeles, "nor the true character of her home-loving citizenry."

LOEB WIDOW SOLE HEIR TO ESTATE

Mother of Boy in Prison Given Free Control of $3,000,000 by Will

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. — Anna Loeb, widow of Albert H. Loeb, is made the sole beneficiery in the will of the late merchant, Attorney Sydney Adler announced today. Allan Joeb, elder son, is appointed executor.

No amount was stated in the will, nor was any particular real estate noted, according to Mr. Elder, who added that the document was very brief. The will was dated November 4, 1918. The estate is said to be worth $3,000,000.

Richard Loeb, one of the killers of Robert Franks, who is in Joliet prison, must depend on his mother's disposition of the estate in the event he is released from prison.

HERO OF WORLD FLIGHT TO WED

praised Nelson for being the first of the world flyers to "fall."

MET IN NEW YORK

The romance between Lieut. Nelson and his bride-to-be dates back to 1921 when they met in New York. When the start of the world flight last March was nearing, Miss Butler was in San Francisco with her mother visiting friends. She persuaded her mother to come down for the start and was on the field when Lieut. Nelson took off with his comrades.

As the flight drew to a close, she was in Seattle and welcomed the heroes and her hero in particular. She returned to Dayton and witnessed the Pulitzer air races and a short time ago came here with Mrs. B. S. Wright, wife of Lieut. Wright, one of the advance officers of the flight.

About fifty guests were present at the announcement party at Mr. and Mrs. Moseley's home, 1119 Fuller avenue. Lieut. Moseley, formerly commanded Clover Field, the starting point of the world flight, and now commands the municipal airport in Griffith Park.

MISSING POSTMAN BELIEVED SUICIDE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DIXON (Ill.) Oct. 30.—Mystery surrounds the disappearance of Thomas J. Hultz, veteran United States mail carrier of this city and owner of a meat and grocery store. It is thought he jumped in Rock River late Tuesday afternoon, as his wagon loaded with parcelpost mail was found on the river bank and floating in the water near-by were his uniform and cap. Although the river has been dragged Hultz's body has not been found. A box that contained rat poison was found near his cap. It is reported that he had signed notes for friends for a large amount that he was about to be called upon to pay and this fact probably deranged his mind.

FUND INQUIRY NEAR WIND-UP

Borah to Close Hearing at Chicago Today

Hints He's Unimpressed by Scandal Rumors

Railway Union Chief Dodges on His Methods

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—After exploring new and old trails of political financing for another six hours today, the Chicago section of the Senate Campaign Fund Committee, still was without evidence to sustain charges of a Republican "slush" fund or of the expenditure of "enormous sums" on behalf of the La Follette-Wheeler independent ticket.

Chairman Borah gave notice that the hearings here would be closed at 4 p.m. tomorrow. He will leave for Washington immediately afterward, with a view of a conference with the other members of the committee there regarding the issuance of a statement on the investigation up to this week-end.

That statement probably will have reference to the circumstantial stories told by two Chicago witnesses and referred to before the committee last week by Samuel Untermyer of New York, who said the stories, if sustained, might have a "profound effect" on the Republican campaign.

Another effort to get information bearing on these stories was made late today by Untermyer, who asked Chairman Butler of the Republican National Committee, if he ever had seen before some documents which the New York lawyer handed him and which were withheld from the record and from publication. Butler said he had never heard of them before.

TO STOCK IN MATTER

Discussion as to whether it was proper to show the documents to the witness without having them spread on the record led Chairman Borah to make this observation:

"The committee at this point does not take any stock in the matter."

Untermyer said Senator Borah knew that he had expressed his own doubts about the whole matter and added that he had been very careful to see that the matter did not become public because corroboration was lacking. Besides Chairman Butler, half a dozen witnesses followed each other to the witness stand today. Some interesting sidelights were developed on the uses of campaign funds and the work being done on behalf of La Follette by the railroad unions and other labor organizations. There also were frequent tilts between counsel for the independent and Republican committees and Chairman Borah, who conducted much of the examination himself, after warning that the committee might find it necessary to get along without the presence of counsel.

L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, and John M. Nelson, field marshal for La Follette, were questioned regarding expenditures on behalf of the La Follette Presidential ticket, while Frank L. Smith, Republican State chairman for Illinois, and the publishers of two newspapers were witnesses on the subject of Republican finances.

HEDGES ON LETTER

Sheppard testified that there are seventeen railroad labor organizations working for La Follette and denied that his organization had coerced the members to support La Follette. When Weymouth Kirkland, counsel for the Republican National Committee, asked him about a letter he was presumed to have written to Fred Stewart of Oakland, Cal., a member of the conductors' organization, he declined to answer on the ground that the committee should not go into the internal affairs of the union. Sheppard finally agreed to produce the original of the Stewart letter if he could find it in his files here. Meantime the contents were withheld.

Representative Nelson reiterated that his organization had received only $250,000 in contributions up to the 20th inst., and testified that of this sum $99,000 had been reported by William M. Johnston, head of the International Association of Machinists, who has charge of Washington headquarters of the Committee for Progressive Political Action.

Other than the American Federation of Labor, Nelson said he knew of no independent organizations working for La Follette. He was asked about the Order of Railway Conductors and said their efforts had not been as productive as they might have been, because they were diffused in the support of various Senatorial, Congressional and State candidates of other parties.

ILLINOIS FUNDS

State Chairman Smith testified that his committee in Illinois had raised $75,145, of which $40,000 came from the National Committee. He said no records were kept of individual contributions, but that none of them had been large. The fund is in use, he added, in both the State and national campaigns.

Val J. Peter and J. A. Lochray, both of Omaha, Neb., were the newspaper publishers examined.

Peter said the Republican National Committee had paid him $10,000 and agreed to pay him $2400 more for the circulation of 200,000 copies of his German language newspaper among the German-speaking people in Iowa, Minnesota, and South Dakota.

Untermyer questioned Lochray about the switching of his publication The Widwest, from the support of La Follette to Coolidge. Lochray said he had changed support in the last week in September. This was before he received $1000 from the Republican National Committee through National Committeeman McCloud of Nebraska, for circulating extra copies of his paper in that State, he said.

Lochray produced a copy of his paper containing an editorial announcing the reasons for the shift to Coolidge and said this was written before he had asked McCloud to have the national committee pay for circulating extra copies.

COLLECTIONS AMONG POSTMASTERS SIFTED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Levies assessed by Republican campaign collectors upon postmasters and postoffice employees in Virginia and South Carolina and upon alcohol permittees in New York were testified to today before the Senatorial investigation committee.

W. E. Trusler, chairman of the Republican committee for Prince William county, Virginia, produced a list showing he had made the rounds of the postmasters and postmistresses of small towns in his and neighboring counties and collected sums ranging from $5 to $200 from each. Under questioning by Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, acting chairman, and Attorney Frank P. Walsh, counsel for the La Follette forces, he admitted he had been supplied with a list of names of postal employees by a Mr. Marcuse in Richmond, who has charge of gathering funds in the State for the national campaign and that this list also suggested the amounts to be asked from each postmaster. Trusler said he was aware of the Federal statute forbidding him to solicit campaign funds in the postoffices and that he made it a point always to call the postmaster outside or to see him at his home. He admitted he asked for specific amounts and that in most cases these amounts were forwarded him later by check. He turned the money, he said, over to the general funds.

MORE ON TOLBERT CASE

Further evidence on the Tolbert case, which was aired in Congress last spring, was given in affidavit form by C. R. Doyle, secretary of the United States Civil Service Commission. From a sheaf of affidavits he read one showing that Joseph W. Tolbert, former United States Marshal, and his brother, R. R. Tolbert, had sought $300 from a postmaster named Littlejohn to defray the expenses of a trip to "Washington to see about his reappointment."

A woman assistant to the postmaster was asked to contribute $150 and, it was stated, rural mail carriers were to be assessed $180 each. In answer to a question by Senator Caraway, Secretary Boyle said he had found this case typical of conditions throughout the State. Joseph W. Tolbert, it was brought out in testimony, spent more time at a Washington hotel while Congress was in session than in his State. It was also brought out that the machinery of the Federal government has been set in motion to correct these conditions.

E. H. Haug, an inspector for the Internal Revenue Department in New York City, assigned to check on the proper use of alcohol by perfume manufacturers, admitted he had collected sums of $300 and over from these permittees. He stated he had received permission from his superior to collect these funds only "in such cases as the contributors volunteered their offerings."

NEW JERSEY FUNDS

C. Stokes, president of the Mechanics' National Bank of Trenton, N. J., and former Governor of that State, testified he had collected about $120,000 to date in New Jersey. All of this was turned over to the Republican National Committee, he said, and $70,400 had been turned back for use in the State campaign. J. Henry Rorabach, Republican National Committeeman for Connecticut, testified he had collected $55,075.48 in his State and had turned $20,000 over to the national committee.

George Morris, Republican State Chairman of New York, sent word to the committee refusing to appear in answer to a subpoena unless the State Chairmen of the Democratic and La Follette parties also were called to testify the same day. Senator Caraway declared it would be only fair and reasonable for the other chairmen to be called, but no witness would be permitted to dictate when or under what conditions he could testify. He intimated Mr. Morris's appearance will be compulsory.

Senator George Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, also wired the committee, asking to be excused from appearing as he has no knowledge of "receipts and disbursements" of funds in that State. "After the election," he wrote, "I shall be glad to appear before your committee, if you want me, but in view of the fact that you are summoning only Republicans, I suggest that you devote some time to summoning Democrats." Sidney Hillman, president of the Garment Workers' Union; Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor; William M. Johnstone, president of the Machinists' Union; Edwin Keating, editor of Labor, official American Federation of Labor publication, and Alexander Kahn, editor of a radical paper in New York, also have been summoned to tell of funds raised for La Follette among unions and radical groups.

MRS RUPERT DIVORCED

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Oct. 30.—The Paris courts yesterday granted an absolute decree of divorce to Mrs. Leonie Rupert, formerly Miss Lamorere, against her husband, William Fassenden Rupert. They were married in St. Louis in November, 1915, and have been residing in France for two years.

MANY RALLIES SCHEDULED

Climax of Republican Campaign Will be Marked by Series of Important Meetings

The closing days of the Coolidge-Dawes campaign in Southern California are being marked by a series of important meetings and rallies in Los Angeles and near-by communities. Several meetings are scheduled for today.

Congressman John D. Fredericks and Senator Henry Carter will be the principal speakers at a rally of Republicans in the Gardena High School auditorium this evening.

Judge E. A. Tucker will speak at the East First-street school this evening, and B. J. Darneille will address a meeting under the auspices of the Hollenbeck Republican Club in Belvedere this evening.

F. M. Mears, O. S. Willett and I. S. Hurst will be the principal speakers at an outdoor mass meeting at Torrance this evening.

Several important meetings will be conducted tomorrow. At the Temple-street school tomorrow evening a rally will take place under the auspices of the Coolidge-Dawes Club of the Sixty-fourth Assembly District. The speakers will be Congressman John D. Fredericks, Senator Newton M. Allen and Assemblyman Harry Lyons. The rally will be preceded by a torchlight parade through the district.

In West Hollywood, under the auspices of the Coolidge-Dawes Club of Hollywood, a tea will be given in the auditorium of the new Laurel school at Haxworth and Willoughby avenues. The speakers will include Judge David S. Rose, Baroness Ottilie de Ropp, Miss Ethel Mae Neill, Mrs. E. P. Werner and H. G. Redwine. The tea will be open to all women voters.

At the Central Terminal Market at noon tomorrow, a meeting will be addressed by B. J. Darneille. The Italian Republican Club will have a meeting tomorrow evening at 810 North Broadway, at which Senator Joe Pedrotti and John L. Layng will speak.

Congressman Lineberger and Judge E. A. Tucker will speak at a meeting Monday evening at the A.M.E. Church at Watts. B. J. Darneille will address two industrial meetings tomorrow, one at Rivers Brothers Company, and the other at a joint meeting of employees of the Los Angeles Creamery and the Los Angeles Automotive Works, at 1020 Towne avenue.

Monday a rally will take place at the Alhambra High School at 8 o'clock in the evening, at which Prof. Willis L. Moore, U. S. Dist.-Atty. Joseph Burke and Cadet Taylor will speak.

At Van Nuys, at 7:30 in the evening, Judge E. A. Tucker and Henry P. Barbour will be the principal speakers at a rally of Republicans of that community, and Monday noon B. J. Darneille will address a meeting at the plant of the Hawthorne Furniture Company, 1200 East Eighth street. Daniel Beecher will be the principal speaker at a rally to be held at the Huntington Park intermediate school Monday evening at 7:30.

Attention Voters!!

There seems to be some misunderstanding concerning the approval of the Community Development Association in regard to the zoning of Wilshire Boulevard between Park View and Western Avenue for business purposes. In order to clarify the situation we are permitted to print the resolution of the Community Development Association concerning this matter. It is as follows:

November 7, 1923.

TO THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF LOS ANGELES, LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA.

GENTLEMEN:

It having been called to the attention of the COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION that a majority of the footage upon Wilshire Boulevard, between Park View Avenue and Western Avenue, desire and have requested that the said territory be changed from Zone B to Zone C, this is to certify that the Community Development Association approves said change and makes no objection thereto.

It has furthermore been represented to the Community Development Association that the owners of the property upon Wilshire Boulevard desire and that the best interests of this City will be subserved if a setback line be established by your Honorable Body of such reasonable width as in your judgment you deem best, said setback line to be applicable to future building upon said street. This is to certify that the Community Development Association heartily concurs therein and would request that said setback line be so established.

Very respectfully yours,

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION

UNION DESERTS RADICAL TICKET

Greater New York Council Switches to Davis

States There's No Hope of Electing La Follette

Gompers's Orders Overruled by Membership

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. — Outstanding developments in the candidacy of John W. Davis revolved today about the indorsement given him by the executive council of the Central Trades and Labor Council of Greater New York and the delivery by him of three speeches in Long Island districts.

Announcement of the labor action was made public by the eastern Democratic headquarters and was hailed by officials there as a revolt in American Federation of Labor ranks, which assured Mr. Davis "the support of approximately 700,000 union workers in the greater city."

The statement contained a recommendation to the entire membership and to all interested in the cause of labor, to vote and work for the election of Davis.

The statement by John Sullican, president of the council, incorporated as a part of the announcement from the Democratic headquarters, said:

"The indorsement of Senator La Follette previously given by the organization was made at the request of Samuel Gompers and his associates in the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, but that its withdrawal and the indorsement of Davis followed the insistent demands of the membership.

"We now realize that Mr. La Follette has no chance of being elected President."

"We have taken this action," the statement concludes, "not alone because it is our judgment, but because we have been requested by our membership to place ourselves squarely on record for the election of John W. Davis for President and Alfred E. Smith for Governor."

In speeches at Flushing, Mineola and Glen Cove, Mr. Davis tonight reviewed conditions which he declared had prevailed to the "shame and dishonor" of the Washington administration during the last three and one-half years.

The field for service, the candidate said, had never been larger than it was today and the Democratic party was called to take over the affairs of government for the people once more.

FREDERICKS REITERATES RIVER STAND

Congressman Declares His Attitude Distorted by Foes During His Absence

Answering the challenge that he was opposed to the building of a Colorado River dam at Boulder Canyon and the building of the canal, Congressman John D. Fredericks denied both assertions and explained his position before the Coolidge Club at the St. Paul Baptist Church, (colored.) 1385 East Twenty-first street, last night. He also told of the tariff bringing prosperity to the country; spoke of the personalities of Coolidge and Dawes and explained how he favored the building of the dam because of the power it would make available to Southern California. He was greeted by an enthusiastic and large audience.

W. H. Sanders, chairman of the Coolidge Club, presided.

Congressman Fredericks told briefly of what had been done for the Tenth Congress District and explained that during his absence before the primaries, facts had been distorted making it appear that he was against the Colorado River dam project and the canal project.

He favored both, he said, but not the building of both at the same time, nor including both in the same bill. Because both were included in the same bill, he pointed out, it had failed of passage during four years.

He pointed out how the building of the dam would supply water for irrigation, make available more power needed in Southern California, how the canal was a necessary project and he then asked his auditors if confronted with carrying 500 pounds they would prefer to take it at one load or make two trips and be certain of the job. He was answered with wild applause.

He urged his hearers in his conclusion to vote for Coolidge and Dawes, the records of both men entitling them to the confidence of the people.

DAWES SAYS WEST WILL VOTE RIGHT

Nominee Predicts Defeat for Radicals Which Will Bury Nation's Foes

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ST. JOSEPH (Mo.) Oct. 30.—Charles G. Dawes, Reublican candidate for Vice-President, predicted here tonight that a decisive defeat of the La Follette independent candidacy at the polls next Tuesday would mean that "it will be many a generation before mobilized extreme radicalism again will attack the foundations of this republic."

With this prediction Mr. Dawes closed his speaking campaign west of the Mississippi River, declaring he held no doubts as to the attitude of the West and was confident of the result registered at the ballot boxes next Tuesday.

The Republican nominee here tonight as in the past directed his attack on the La Follette candidacy, primarily at its platform declaration for Congressional veto of Supreme Court decisions and asserted that he had detected "from a heretofore very aggressive man some signs of weakening and explaining."

"And, when a man commences to explain in a fight, he is beaten," he added.

The court plank in the La Follette platform, he asserted, was a proposal "to destroy at one blow that balance of power which exists in this government under the Constitution between the executive and legislative branches and make the executive and judicial subordinate to Congress."

Such a proposal, he contended, would endanger the inalienable rights of every citizen—the rights, he asserted of freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom of the press and of trial by jury.

"Can anyone doubt the menace involved in this first mobilization against the existing order of things, aiming to tear away the foundations of the republic?" he asked.

The Democratic party, he declared, "was unwise enough, or unfortunate enough to nominate one conservative and one radical candidate," and had "ignored to a large extent" the issue raised by the La Follette candidacy. For that reason, he added, "there is not much room for them as I see it in this campaign."

PRESIDENT CONSULTS FARM HEADS

Leaders Asked to Offer Suggestions on Filling Wallace's Place

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Farm leaders were called upon today by President Coolidge to submit recommendations as to their preference for the appointment of a Secretary of Agriculture.

By telegraph, Mr. Coolidge asked officers of the Farmers' Union, the Federated Farm Bureau, the National Grange and the American Livestock Association, to consult heads of their State organizations in this regard. He is also planning to consult other organization, it was said at the White House, and will especially welcome any suggestions from any of the farm organizations of the country concerning the filling of the Cabinet vacancy.

While no new names were received at the White House today in connection with the vacancy in the Cabinet, it was said that additional indorsements of Charles March, of Lichfield, Minn., had been received. His name was proposed first by Republican leaders of Minnesota, including Gov. Preus.

An early appointment is expected to be made by the President in view of his plan to call an agricultural conference and appoint a commission to investigate farming conditions immediately after election.

CHAMBER BALKS ON POWER ISSUE

Directors Approve of County Grade Crossing Bonds

Traffic Plan and Financing Are Also Favored

Other Propositions Acted Upon by Commerce Body

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday took action upon the State, county and city propositions which appear upon the ballot in the coming election.

The State Water and Power Act, No. 16, is opposed. The county grade crossing bond issue is approved, as are the city's traffic plan and city's $5,000,000 bond issue to go with the traffic plan. No action was taken on the Wilshire Boulevard zoring plan.

The State propositions and the reasons for conclusions are as follows:

1. State taxation of highway transportation companies, Yes. Places motor transportation companies on same basis of taxation as steam and electric companies, but does not relieve them of the gasoline tax.

LEGISLATIVE SALARIES

2. Salaries and expenses of the Legislature. Yes. Adjusts compensation of Legislatures to fit present conditions.

3. Deposit of public monies. Yes. Permits placing into circulation through banks of public money not immediately needed for public work.

4. Inferior courts. Yes. Tends to relieve Superior Court congestion by enlarging scope of inferior courts.

5. Transfer of funds. No. Due to mistake in preparing amendment passage of this proposition would nullify present veterans' welfare legislation.

6. Personal property taxes. No. A mistake in preparing amendment making it apply to real property instead of personal property.

7. Boxing and wrestling matches. No action.

8. County officers. Yes. Permits Legislature to increase number of deputies of county officers, and to increase their compensation, by law.

(9.) Taxation. Yes. Permits Legislature to fix rates of taxation on "foreign" securities at a different rate from that on local securities.

KLAMATH QUESTION

(11.) Klamath Fish and Game District. Yes. This means conservation of the fish propagation of the river as opposed to power development.

(12.) Municipal courts. Yes. Permits establishment of municipal courts, which would relieve congestion in higher courts.

(13.) Poll taxes. No. Poll taxes in California before have been found not to be efficient nor productive.

(14.) Bonds. No. Permits public utility districts to issue tax exempt bonds, which the Chamber feels is not the proper economic policy for the State.

(15.) Tax exemption. No. The Chamber does not believe that the policy of exempting property from taxation, even for air port purposes, such as this one is, is a proper one.

(16.) Water and Power. No. Creates staggering indebtedness, vesting practically unlimited powers in the board without adequate checks and safeguards.

(17.) Eminent domain. Yes. Extends authority of State Railroad Commission in eminent domain proceedings.

(18.) Suffrage. Yes. Permits voters to vote in precinct from which he might have moved within thirty days prior to an election.

Randall Against Over-riding High Court Decisions

Charles H. Randall, candidate for Congress in the Ninth Congress District, is making a special appeal to Republicans in an effort to get out the vote. During an address at Long Beach last night the former Congressman declared his opposition to the plan to enable Congress to overrule the decisions of the Supreme Court.

"My position on this question remains unchanged," he said. "I told the National Security League two years ago that the fathers of our country builded well. I would not pull down the temple of our liberties just because some evil men have places therein. I would elect better men to the Presidency and to the Senate, then we will have better men on the Supreme Court bench."

SACRAMENTO MASS MEETING IS CALLED

VALLEY DRAINAGE DISTRICT FINANCIAL PROBLEMS SOLUTION SOUGHT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 30.—Working on the assumption that concerted action on the part of all parties and interests concerned has become imperative to avert the possibility of a condition of financial chaos later on, the State Reclamation Board today issued a call for a mass meeting of citizens of the Sacramento Valley to be held in Sacramento on November 15 for the purpose of discussing ways and means for solving the financial problems of the Sacramento-San Joaquin drainage district.

The objects of the meeting, which is expected to bring together farmers and other persons from all parts of the valley, are: Securing of relief for the agricultural lands of the Sacramento Valley from the burdens imposed by the flood control program, under which millions of dollars have been expended during the past few years, and effecting means of meeting the many obligations of the district.

The district at present, according to estimates of engineers of the board, is in debt to the extent of approximately $16,000,000 with slim prospects, under the present program, of being able to meet these obligations without causing a serious situation among the land owners under reclamation projects.

CITY MAKES WATER DEAL WITH RAILWAY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) Oct. 30.—Agreement has been reached between the City Council and the Santa Fe Railroad system, under which the city may purchase the railroad's equity in the water works for $235,000, to be paid at the rate of $12,500 for ten years, the balance to be accepted by the company in water at the rate of 20 cents per 1000 gallons. At present the company gets 200,000 gallons a day free, paying 8 cents for any excess. In the new plans are proposed an additional 50,000,000-gallon reservoir and a new pipe line from San Francisco Mountain springs.

HITS OWNERSHIP BY GOVERNMENT

Australian Would Put Roads in Private Hands

States Farmers Favor Move to Reduce Rates

Also Tells of Losses Under Socialist Regime

BY FLOYD GIBBONS

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SYDNEY, Oct. 30.—"Eighty per cent of the farmers, cattlemen and sheep herders of the State would vote to sell the government-owned railways to private enterprises to give us reduced freight and passenger rates, better service and lower taxes."

Col. M. F. Bruxner, Australian grazer, who left his sheep-shearing sheds at the outbreak of the war to join the army and won a colonelcy with the Australian Light Horse in Palestine, is the authority for the above statement. Col. Bruxner is the leader of the Country party in New South Wales.

In his office at the State House here I asked him if he would give the American farmers the benefit of the Australian County party's experience with the Socialist party under the name of Labor. I asked him to explain how the Australian farmers came to link themselves politically with the city radicals; what they gained or lost through that relationship; why the farm bloc was now bitterly opposed to Socialist regimes in Australia.

EXPLAINS ALLIANCE

"The unfortunate alliance between labor and the farmers of Australia occurred thirty years ago during a fight between the small farmers and big land owners, at which time the Socialist party appeared in the field as the reform or progressive party under the banner of Labor," Col. Bruxner explained. "The Socialist appealed to the farmers with the good old 'Hit the big fellow.' This carried a big appeal to the small farmers who had been farm workers before they took up their land.

"With their support Labor went into power in 1910, and it was immediately revealed that whereas the rank and file might have been trade unionists and bona-fide Labor men, all the union officials and party politicians were Socialists. The discontented farmer was quick to note the difference and he began to raise up his army.

"The Socialists, by increasing wages in the city, boosted the cost of all secondary manufactured products which the farmer needed and at the same time attracted workers from the farms to the cities.

FARMER BETRAYED

"The agitators betrayed their small farmer supporters and began using the movement to further their own aims, which were in no way related to the farmers' interests. The government began to project itself into every part of private enterprise and to extend its control into every avenue of life. The farmer soon began to see where his hatred of the big land owner and the big commercial interests had led him. He found that if the state began to control everything it would soon control the farmer's output and his land.

"The small farmers began to realize with the big farmers that their aims were almost identical and that further, their aims were more closely allied to the commercial interests than to the Socialists, although the small farmers had suffered greatly at the hands of the commercial interests.

"The war came and the farmer got his first real touch of nationalization. The government stepped in to control wheat, meat and wool and to fix prices. The real producer was helpless politically and he suffered from government interference on all sides. During the control period the politicians grabbed all the avenues of production.

WHEAT POOL

"The Labor party in 1921, in the face of a world shortage, formed a compulsory wheat pool and employed an enormous staff for administration. Not only were the farmers bitterly dissatisfied, but the state lost $5,000,000 by mismanagement and worse. Millions of bushels of the farmers' wheat were lost and were never heard of again. The pool ended in terrible scandals, some of which have not been cleared up yet.

"We don't know who grabbed the money. Investigations are still going on, but the net result to the farmer was that he lost and the result to the taxpayer was the same. At this point the farmer turned his back on Socialism completely. Today the farmers of New South Wales constitute a separate party, but they ally themselves for political strength with the Conservative party, whose aims are more like their's than the Socialists."

Brazil Rebels Are Shipped to Exile on Island

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 30.—The conspirators whose revolutionary plot against the Brazilian government was frustrated last week, have been shiped to an island off the coast of Rio Janeiro to join a number of other political enemies of the government confined there, according to uncensored news advices received here by steamer.

The conspirators were composed mostly of dissatisfied naval elements, including Lieut. Guimaraes, president of the Naval Club, which organization is reported to have protested his deportation.

Conservatives' Victory Boosts Rate of Sterling

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Heavy buying of sterling exchange in the London and local markets followed the news of the big Conservative victory in the British elections, the local domestic rate moving up 1 5-8 cents to $4.51 7-8, the highest in several months. In view of the unusually heavy grain and cotton exports, the advance was regarded by foreign exchange dealers as particularly impressive.

FLOODS IN CHINA ARE SAID WORST IN YEARS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Recent floods in North China were the worst since 1890 with many towns still surrounded by vast lakes, William A. Mather, Presbyterian missionary in the flooded region, has reported to the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions here. Large areas of farming land were flooded to a depth of ten to fifteen feet, he reported, and it will be impossible to till the soil for two or three years. Residents of some towns expect relief only with the coming of winter and the freezing over of the lakes. A great number of people are destitute.

MEXICO'S INTERIOR SECRETARY RESIGNS

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 30.—The Secretary of the Interior, Enrique Colunga, has tendered his resignation from the Cabinet to President Obregon, intending to return to the State of Guanajuato to assume the Governorship. The text of the resignation will not be known until the President announces its acceptance but it is reported that the Secretary's withdrawal is due to political differences arising between his department and the Federated bloc in the Chamber of Deputies.

SUBMARINE R-31 IS STILL FAST ON REEF

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

HONOLULU, Oct. 30.—The United States Navy submarine R-31 was still caught on a coral reef at the entrance to Honolulu Harbor this noon, despite all efforts of tugs and a dredger to dislodge it. The submarine went ashore at midnight Tuesday, while returning from Kauai Island. All aboard were rescued. Naval officials announced today that a court of inquiry would meet to determine responsibility for the accident.

SEATTLE COMMUNITY HOTEL IS COMPLETED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SEATTLE, Oct. 30.—Seattle's new $4,500,000 community and tourist hotel, the Olympic, is to be officially completed tomorrow with a public inspection. The building covers a square block and has 617 guest rooms. On December 6 the Olympic is to be formally opened for business.

HIGH MAIL AIDE TO COME HERE

Assistant Postal Chief Will Arrive November 14

Due to Take Part in Opening of Yosemite Center

Will Discuss Extension of Air Delivery on Coast

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Assistant Postmaster-General Paul Henderson, whose devotion to the air mail has made him thousands of friends all over the country and especially on the Coast, will arrive in Los Angeles on November 14, and on the second day following will participate in various government activities of opening a new center in the Yosemite National Park. Mrs. Henderson will accompany him, and will be an interested spectator when her husband lays the corner-stone of the new United States postoffice for Yosemite Park.

Col. Henderson, while on the Coast, will talk about the development for the air mail for Los Angeles, Portland and Seattle by means of branch airplane routes from the main night-and-day mail line now in operation. These will have to be under private contract by individuals or corporations, as they now contract for automobile mail routes and used to do for stage hauling of the mails.

A new law or an amendment to the present postal laws permitting the Postmaster-General to enter into contracts with private contractors for the air delivery of mail, would eventually mean the delivery of mail in Los Angeles and the Southwest at approximately the same time as it is now delivered in San Francisco. Other routes would place Portland and Seattle on the same basis for transcontinental mail as the California points.

Director of National Parks, Stephen Mather, will leave Washington the first of the week for California and will also embody in the celebration at Yosemite November 16, the dedication of the new administration building and museum and the opening of a new center of activity in the fascinating valley of the Yosemite.

Some of the most distinguished exponents of out-door and national park recreation will be present at these exercises and special transportation is expected to be provided to and from the Yosemite, from both Los Angeles and San Francisco, to give all these eastern visitors every opportunity of spending as much time as possible in Yosemite to inaugurate this new national development.

CASH GIRL FALLS FOR OLD TRICK

Ancient Bunco Device is Worked on Cashier; Gets $70 From Victim

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DENVER, Oct. 30.—The aged "envelope trick" has been brought out of retirement and as a result Miss Ethel DeGeorge, cashier at St. Luke's Hospital, is out $70.

According to her report to the police, a man entered her office and asked her to change $70 in small bills to large ones, as he wished to send the money by mail.

He handed her an envelope containing bills of $1 and $2 denomination. Miss DeGeorge placed $70 in $10 and $20 bills in the envelope, and handed it to him.

She counted the money which he had given her, and discovered there was but $68. When the man's attention was called to this fact, he handed back the envelope which Miss DeGeorge thought she had given him with the $70, asked for his $68, and said he would go find the $2, which he must have left in his room.

When he failed to return, Miss DeGeorge opened the envelope and found only strips of white paper.

She notified the police, describing the bunko man as about 30 years old, 5 feet and 6 inches tall, with blue eyes and brown hair, wearing a brown suit and carrying a gray cap.

Missing Lad Left Home to Duck School

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Franklin Roshek, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roshek, 219 West Eighty-first street, who disappeared September 23, after he had left home, ostensibly to attend the opening of school, has been found.

The bare announcement was made at police headquarters by Acting Captain Ayers.

"That's all I can say," he said. "The boy has been found. He is safe and with his father outside the city."

The general alarm for young Roshek was sent out September 25. His mother told then a story of the boy meeting a hunchback in Riverside Park and it was feared he had been lured away by this person.

CALIFORNIA MURDER SUSPECTS IN COURT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SALT LAKE CITY (Utah) Oct. 30.—The preliminary hearing of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Collins, itinerant automobile tourists from Chico, Cal., charged with the murder of C. H. McQuown, Buhl, Idaho, here on the 11th inst. started before City Judge Noel Pratt this morning. The defendants are charged separately. McQuown was shot dead by an automobile bandit.

BANK THEFT GAIN HEAVY DURING YEAR

Criminal Bureau's Report Shows Greatest Increase for This Type of Crime

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 30.—Bank robberies were rampant in California during the past year. The biennial report of the State Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation, which was filed today with Gov. Richardson by Supt. Clarence S. Morrill, lists figures to show that the crime of bank robbery increased 600 per cent.

As shown by Morrill, this is the largest increase of all the offenses against law and order covered by the report.

Crimes against morals during the year increased 100 per cent; arson 10 per cent; automobile theft 96 per cent; forgery and fraudulent checks 90 per cent; narcotics 90 per cent; robbery of persons by violence 90 per cent.

On the other hand, murder decreased 1 per cent; abandonment of wife and children 100 per cent, and vagrancy 90 per cent.

Girl's Attempt at Death Leads to Better Job

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Oct. 30.—Twice within half an hour did Mlle. Heylova, native of Czecho-Slovakia, living at Versailles, try to die when she lost her position in a factory. And as a result she has found a better job.

The first time she hurled herself in front of a speeding automobile, but the driver managed to put on the brakes and curved around her head. Disgusted, she arose and leaped in front of a train but a passerby dragged her to safety as the train sped by. In the crowd that gathered was the foreman of another factory, who after hearing her story, hired her.

Salesman Gets $60,000 Verdict for Lost Leg

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Benjamin Warshofsky, 20 years of age, of West Fourth street, received a $60,000 verdict against the American Railway Express Company before Justice Faber in the Supreme Court, Queens.

Warshofsky was riding on a New York and Queens County Railway trolley car in Flushing June 14, last, when a truck of the express company collided with the car. His injured left leg was amputated at the hip. He received internal injuries and can get about now only in an invalid chair.

Testimony showed Warshofsky, a salesman, was the sole support of his parents and their three other children.

TEXAS UNIVERSITY GIVES OIL LEASES

SYNDICATE OBTAINS 120,000-ACRE TRACT; PROSPECTS FAVORABLE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

AUSTIN (Tex.) Oct. 30.—Information has been received here of the closing of contracts for the lease of 120,000 acres of land belonging to the University of Texas, in Pecos county to a group of oil companies including the Sun, Gulf, Texas and Transcontinental. This block of land is about 100 miles west of the Big Lake oil field, which also is situated on land owned by the university.

Both the Transcontinental and the Mariand companies already own leases in Pecos county upon which they are drilling wildcat wells. It is stated that geological reports are all favorable to the existence of oil upon the 120,000 acres just leased. The several companies have agreed upon a program for systematic exploration. Drilling will be started as soon as the outfits can be placed on the ground.

The university will receive one-eighth royalty on all oil that may be found. The fact that an effort will be made by the Legislature when it meets next January to raise the lease price of university and other State lands, and to fix a new and higher royalty basis on oil, is causing many of the larger companies to become unusually active in closing lease contracts now. The university owns about 2,200,000 acres of land, nearly all in Western Texas. During the height of the oil excitement in Texas a few years ago all of this land was leased for a nominal sum. Most of these leases have expired.

BRINGS WREATHS FOR UNKNOWN SOLDIER

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Firmin Gemier, celebrated French actor and director of the National Odeon Theater, came to Washington today to pay his respects to President Coolidge and lay wreaths from Verdun and Belleau Wood on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

TO DREDGE CHANNEL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 30.—A government dredge soon will begin cleaning out the channel entrance to the harbor, according to word brought here by Mayor John L. Bacon, following a conference in Los Angeles with Maj. H. A. Finch, United States district engineer in charge of harbor work in this district.

Maj. Finch told Mayor Bacon it is proposed to clear the channel of silt that has sifted in since the channel was deepened several years ago. This work will make the channel safe for the biggest vessels now on the Coast as well as the biggest vessels of the Navy.

DENTISTS' LIBRARY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 30.—A dental library of 350 volumes, the first collection of this kind to be made available to public use, has been donated to the Public Library. The books have been collected from more than 200 dentists.

Ferndell Foods add Zest to Fall Menus

CIDER! Had any Fall? Then you've a delightful treat coming. Ferndell tastes just as good as it looks. And we vouch its the most tempting looking one you ever saw. Sparkling amber—the juice of the finest apples grown in New York State, made in all its sweetness and purity. You'll want some of it in the house all the time.

MINCE MEAT. Will richness, and a pungent snap we've never known to be equalled. Ferndell mince-meat fermented for two years in big casks, before it ever put on the market. That's the big secret of its deliciousness, as this same fermentation makes it easily digested. Um, but it's good.

SPICED FRUITS! Apricots, peaches, cherries, cantaloupe — for the pungent meats and fowl, so abundantly used these Fall days. A spicy bite that adds a wholesome zest to the simplest meal. And kindred appetisers—stuffed olives ready to be stuffed with whatever you might wish to put in them.

SPICES! Did you know there was a vast difference in cinnamons, in ginger! And that they make a vast difference in the results of, say, pumpkin pie? They is and they do! A perfectly delicious pumpkin pie can be utterly ruined with inferior spices. Ferndell cinnamon comes from the inmost layer of the cinnamon bark—the best and the spiciest. It pays in times as far as ordinary cinnamon. The same finesse is apparent in other spices.

CTS CHAOS TAX PROJECT

Expert Points Danger in Proposition Ten

Is Intended to Relieve Cooperative Insurance

Will Require Ad Valorem Assessment on Property

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 30.—A declaration that an ad valorem tax on personal property will be necessary and that general financial chaos will result if Proposition No. 10, on the November 4 general election ballot is carried, was made today by M. D. Lack, secretary of the State Board of Equalization, and Ray L. Riley, State controller. Both officials, recognized experts, made their statements after examination of the financial measure, which was admitted by its authors as a means of relieving county co-operative insurance companies from State taxation.

According to Controller Riley, author of the bill rewrote the provisions of the original constitutional amendment No. 1 except that portion which was to exempt county fire insurance companies, and in effect, the bill as passed of the amendment now carries forward from the provisions existing in 1916, when amendment No. 1 was adopted, to the present date and the State thereby is required to reimburse to all bond issues within the counties and districts that have since date 1916. This, Mr. Riley said, would force an ad valorem tax levy to provide the funds for such reimbursement.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 30.—Late this afternoon issued a statement which said the proposed amendment would have the following results:

1. Open the way to the escape from a portion, at least, of the ad valorem tax, by corporations engaged in interstate commerce.

2. Would force the State to levy a annual ad valorem tax on all property for large sums, the proceeds of which would afterward be returned to some of the counties.

3. By forcing resumption of the old order requiring the counties to pay a State tax. It would take away the advantage to the counties now enjoyed under the present system, and give them no measure of compensating relief.

4. By necessitating an annual State tax on county properties, it would open the way to ever increasing tax rates for this purpose, until the property owner, who pays no direct State tax, would soon again be paying a large portion of the State's revenue.

WOULD BE CHAOTIC

5. Would increase cost of administration enormously and would result in unintelligent administration and unequal distribution of the burden as between the various utilities as between the counties, amounting to an annual billion dollars or more thereof, all of which would have to be accomplished by the system of equalization of those properties in each county, increasing the cost of counties and reducing the revenues until a proper distribution could be made.

6. Would destroy the advantage gained by the State in the elimination of very expensive tax litigation, and result in endless delays in tax suits and delay tax collections. Its results would be chaotic.

HELD FOR SWINDLE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 30.—Arthur Duncan, asserted internationally famous crook and confidence man, wanted in Los Angeles, was arrested here today under the alias of Alexander Gunn, it had been posing as a golf instructor.

Duncan was arrested at the Sleepy Hollow Golf and Country Club by Sheriff Barnet, a private detective. Duncan, who is about 45 years of age, is said to have defrauded residents of Los Angeles of more than $10,000. The specific charge against him, defrauding an aged cripple of the proceeds of their savings. The man is said to have been in Bakersfield for several weeks.

QUICK CONVICTION

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 30.—Ralph Newton was convicted today on a charge of having defamed the character of a woman. The conviction was made by the jury on the first ballot. They deliberated approximately ten minutes.

Judge Edward V. Jones, before whom the trial was held, stated that he would pronounce sentence Friday at 4 p.m. E. F. Shepherd of McKittrick contended that Newton had made certain remarks about Mrs. Shepherd, which Newton had afterward put into writing and submitted to her husband.

CATHOLIC SCHOOL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA ANA, Oct. 30.—Ground will be broken within the next ten days for the new St. Joseph's school, to be erected at the corner of Bush avenue and Hunter boulevard. Four bids for the work have been submitted and are now being considered within the next few days. Accommodations have been planned for 300 day pupils when the school will be for American children, although provision has been made for about seventy-five Mexican students. The structure, when completed, will represent an investment of $32,500 and will augment the work of the Sisters of Holy Names, which have been in operation for many years here.

ATTACKER SHOT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HARLAN (Ky.) Oct. 30.—Green Kay was shot in the head in Turley's Camp, the bullet lifting a piece of the bone from his skull and producing a fatal wound. Ed Pearson was arrested on charges of firing the shot. It is claimed that Kay had fired four shots at Pearson without a hit before the latter shot.

Democratic Organization of Texas Loyal

Candidates Asked to Pledge to Mrs. Ferguson

Recalcitrants Opposed by Own Party

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TEMPLE (Tex.) Oct. 30.—In an effort to solidify the Democratic support of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, nominee of the party for governor, candidates for office, from constable to Congressman all over the State, are being requested to signify in writing whether or not they purpose to abide by the results of the run-off Democratic primary. Whenever it is found that a nominee of the Democratic party intends to vote for Dr. George C. Butte, the Republican nominee for governor, an opposing candidate is put in the field, although his name will have to be written upon the ballots, it being too late to have it printed.

In only a few instances has it been discovered that Democratic candidates for the Legislature are supporting Dr. Butte. In the Victoria district J. W. Stevenson, a ranchman, has entered the race against the Democratic nominee, who is a Butte supporter. The Democratic organization, including the party candidates for office, almost to a man is rendering all possible aid to Mrs. Ferguson in her final campaign for the office it is stated. The pressure that has been brought to bear on county, district and State nominees of the party, to prevent them from bolting the head of the ticket, has had far-reaching effect among the masses of voters, according to information received here.

Former Gov. Ferguson returned to the hustings several days ago and is shelling the woods from one end of the State to the other in behalf of his wife's candidacy. Mrs. Ferguson is afflicted with a periodical attack of hay fever and is confined to her home in Temple while her husband is on the stump. Ferguson, with characteristic energy and fluent flow of picturesque language, flays Dr. Butte in every speech. Close observers of the situation are of the opinion that Ferguson's return to the stump has served to stop the flow of the political tide that undoubtedly had set in favor of Butte. Old-time political interest has been again aroused and the result may be the bringing out of a much larger vote in the general election on November 4 than was indicated earlier in the campaign. The larger the vote the more certain is Mrs. Ferguson's election. This fact is admitted by both sides.

Butte seems to be getting keen enjoyment out of the attacks that are being made upon him by Ferguson during the closing days of the campaign. He expresses himself as confident that he will win the contest over Mrs. Ferguson by a big majority. On the other hand Ferguson declares that his wife will defeat her opponent by not less than 200,000 majority.

Ferguson insists in all of his speeches that the Ku Klux Klan is still the chief issue of the contest.

Denver Wife Checks Up on Hubby's Income Tax; Suspicions Verified

DENVER, Oct. 30.—The Federal regulation opening the income-tax assessment rolls in the office of Collector Frank Howbert to public inspection made trouble for one Denver man. His wife called at the income-tax office to check up on her husband. When she was shown the amount of his payment, she said:

"That isn't all he paid. That's only one-fourth of it."

"There are the figures, madam," replied the clerk. "That's every cent of it."

"The dirty liar!" exclaimed the suspicious wife. "Just wait till I get through with him!"

And she swept out of the office in a rage.

Deputy Collector George T. Evans announces that from now until November 3 the income-tax books will not be available for public inspection. Employees of the office are working on the books, preparing the usual monthly statements, and that work cannot be interrupted.

TRAMP DOG IS HERO

Homeless Cur Saves Life of Lancaster Physician

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LANCASTER, Oct. 30.—Dr. Sherwin Gibbons, a retired physician, living with his family on a ranch a few miles east of Lancaster, was saved from certain death under the hoofs and horns of an enraged bull late this afternoon by the intervention of a tramp dog that had followed one of the physician's sons home from school.

The attack followed an attempt by Dr. Gibbons to drive the animal from an alfalfa stand. Thought to have been enraged by the sight of a red flannel sport shirt the physician was wearing the bull charged him knocking him to the ground and trampling him under its great weight. As the mad beast was about to gore the unconscious man the tramp dog sprang to his defense. A fierce battle between the dog and the bull ensued in which the dog emerged victor.

Dr. Gibbons suffered severe lacerations and bruises but his condition was reported not serious.

MASONS SEEK FUND

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 30.—A campaign to raise more than $1,000,000 to complete the Masonic temple being erected on Lindell Boulevard, west of Grand Boulevard, has been launched. There are more than 50,000 Masons in the city and in St. Louis county who will be asked to contribute.

MIDDLE WEST NEWS IN BRIEF

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 30.—H. Clay Hays, 87 years of age, veteran stockman and farmer, is dead at his home in Vine Grove, following a stroke of apoplexy. Mr. Hays was a veteran of the war between the States and served in Morgan's command. He is survived by his widow, three sons, an adopted son and a daughter.

Flames which started from a cigarette in a storage building of the Lake County Cotton Ginning Company in South Fulton yesterday caused a loss of $25,000 to cotton stored in the warehouse and to the building. A larger storehouse and the gin were saved.

Rain yesterday broke a long drouth and extinguished serious forest fires that have been raging in the Cumberland Mountains east of Whitesburg. Much valuable timber was destroyed.

INDIANAPOLIS

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 30.—Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Bragg have left for California, to spend the winter in Los Angeles and San Diego.

Miss Tarnetis Lash and Mrs. Kate Bryant have gone to Los Angeles to spend the winter.

DES MOINES

DES MOINES, Oct. 30.—P. E. Crossett of Davenport paid the biggest income tax for the year 1923 of any citizen in Iowa, according to figures given out yesterday. Corsett paid a tax of $124,551. Second place in the list also goes to Davenport, J. H. Bendixen of that city paying $72,214 income tax.

The new Iowa code with many changes in the statutes went into effect at midnight. Municipal Court officials said one of the changes which will be first to affect criminal procedure is the new law providing $1000 or one year jail sentence for illegal transportation of liquor. The penalty heretofore was $100 fine.

Data showing how the United States Bank conducted its business during the last year will be collected as rapidly as possible by special investigators of the County Attorney's office and Deputy State Bank Examiners and presented personally by County Attorney Seeburger to the grand jury, it is learned.

KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 30.—Word from Emporia, Kan., says M. D. Weaver, an employee in the office of the grand recorder of A.O.U.W. for more than forty years, is dead at the home of a sister in Council Grove. Mr. Weaver was a veteran of the Civil War and formerly practiced law in Emporia.

The Fidelity State Bank opened for business at Garden City, Kan., yesterday, taking over the assets and liabilities of the Peoples State Bank, which has been in charge of William Kennedy, Deputy Bank Commissioner, since April 15, when it closed because of frozen loans. Business at the new institution exceeded all expectations. The bank was reorganized in six months without the loss of a dollar for a depositor.

OMAHA

OMAHA, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Richard H. Hall, 61 years of age, widow of the late Richard S. Hall, Omaha attorney, died at her home following an illness of four months. She had been in failing health for several years.

Mrs. Rosena Daemon, 80 years of age, widow of Alexander Daemon, pioneer Omaha hotel proprietor, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. M. Bianchi, following a short illness.

What is believed to have been an attempt to fire the home of C. N. Hinds, banker, at Odell, Neb., was discovered yesterday morning when about two gallons of gasoline was found to have been poured over the washroom of the home.

Miss Alpha Kelsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Kelsey of Norfolk, and Guy C. Thompson, young Norfolk banker, were married in Omaha yesterday.

William Mahlock, 76 years of age, wealthy stock raiser and farmer of Gage county for more than fifty years, died at his home, eight miles northwest of Beatrice. He was the father of seventeen children, fourteen of whom survive him.

MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 30.—Peter Mortinson, 56 years of age, contractor of Menominee county was killed yesterday while working on a tractor near Spalding. He was thrown under the wheels of the tractor, which passed over his head. His widow, two daughters and a son survive.

MINNEAPOLIS

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 30.—Michael Meagher, 56 years of age, former Third Ward alderman, died unexpectedly at his home. For many years he was a real estate dealer in North Minneapolis. At the time of his death he was a director of the North Side office of the First National Bank and also a director of the Ascension Club.

W. J. Kuntz, 53 years of age, of Waconia, former State Senator and Representative from Carver County, was injured fatally in a hunting accident at Bowstring Lake, near White Birch Dam, twenty-five miles north of Deer River. Firing from shore, Mr. Kuntz killed a duck and then leaned his gun against a tree while his dog went to retrieve the bird. The weapon slipped and was discharged in falling.

While duck hunting along the west shore of Winnebagohish Lake near Mack, Erick Wicklund of Deer River, came upon three human bodies. All the bones except the upper part of the skulls were grouped in distinct outline, in close proximity to each other. An old butcher knife with the handle rotted away, an old frying pan and an alarm clock near-by, indicated that the tragedy had been enacted many years ago.

SEEK ANNEXATION

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Oct. 30.—A special annexation election was ordered by the City Directors in an ordinance passed yesterday, and will be held December 18. A territory adjacent to East Pasadena, consisting of 160 acres and a population of thirty people is desirous of becoming a part of the Crown City. Several other tracts of land, one in Altadena, and another in San Marino are also seeking annexation to Pasadena.

WAR HITS DYE INDUSTRY

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BERLIN, Oct. 30.—The consequences of the Chinese war were felt in Germany today when the entire indigo dye plant of one of Germany's greatest chemical establishments, located at Hochst, was forced to close down. The factory is unable to export dyes to Chinese manufacturers because their business is crippled by the war.

Power in the Blood!

You will be compelled to admit that the results of S. S. S. are really amazing!

MAN'S GLORY is his strength—yet how few there are who are really as strong as they should be. The blood thins, gets weaker, blood cells wear out—general weakness and a gradual breakdown of the system results.

We know there is one thing that puts power in the blood, and that is more red-blood-cells! S.S.S. builds them by the million! We know that as blood cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! But have you ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought of it. So-called skin eruptions—pimples, boils, blackheads, eczema all pack up and go when the tide of blood cells begins to roll in. Blood cells are the fighting giants of Nature. S.S.S. is one of the greatest blood cell builders, blood cleansers and body builders, known to us mortals. Here is your opportunity! S.S.S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S.S.S. does build red-blood-cells, it routs rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down.

Start taking S.S.S. today and get back that power in your blood!

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

En obsequio a nuestros numerosos amigos de habla española, y para beneficio de los lectores americanos de "The Times" que estudien esa lengua, publicamos diariamente esta columna en castellano, con un extracto de las más importantes noticias de última hora.

Buena parte del futuro progreso de Los Angeles, que es la metrópoli de los Estados Unidos que más cercana se halla a territorio latino-americano, habrá de depender de las relaciones que logremos establecer con nuestras hermanas, las repúblicas del sur. Para que lleguen a ser enteramente cordiales, no hay nada tan importante como que nuestros ciudadanos se familiaricen con la lengua castellana. Tan es dan cuenta de este hecho nuestros habitantes, que hay al presente más de 25,000 personas que estudian español en Los Angeles. A ellas les conviene leer todos los días esta columna, en la que encontrarán español correcto y enteramente moderno.

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Herriot Hecho Blanco del Ridículo por Conservadores y Nacionalistas

PARIS, Octubre 30.—El público y la prensa conservadores y nacionalistas de Francia lanzan hoy un rebuzno burlesco al Primer Ministro Herriot, con motivo del resultado de las elecciones inglesas y la aplastante victoria de los conservadores. La casi unánime opinión, aun entre los grupos liberales moderados, es que el Primer Ministro Herriot cometió un grave error al reconocer a la Rusia soviética justamente el día anterior al de las elecciones inglesas.

En todas partes se dice por la prensa nacionalista de esta país, que el Primer Ministro Herriot estuvo demorando el reconocimiento de Rusia hasta la víspera de las elecciones británicas, a fin de hacerle una buena pasada al Primer Ministro MacDonald, en el último momento. A pesar de que ya hacía un mes que el señor Herriot había adoptado su resolución, y que el telegrama a Rusia tenía ya una quincena de redactado, asegúrase que aposta combinó los asuntos, por súplica del señor MacDonald, para que el Primer Ministro socialista pudiera ir a los comicios con el apoyo moral de Francia en su actitud para con los bolcheviques.

Sea esto verdad o no—y el Ministerio de Relaciones lo niega rotundamente—lo cierto es que el prestigio del Ministro Herriot ha recibido hoy tremendo golpe con la derrota del señor MacDonald. Hasta los socialistas de aquí se esperan ahora que el gobierno de Baldwin se niegue a ratificar el protocolo de paz de Ginebra, que resultará, por ende, trabajo perdido.

El 4 de Noviembre, que se presente de nuevo ante al parlamento el señor Herriot, nada podrá ofrecer en punto de soluciones al problema de la seguridad de Francia y de su protección contra Alemania.

En tales circunstancias, es aquí creencia general que el gobierno de Herriot pronto seguirá el retiro a su compañero el de Inglaterra, y su caída ha de venir seguramente por la cuestión de su política rusa, como le ocurrió al de MacDonald.

Concéntranse los Ejércitos Cerca de Pequin

PEQUIN, Octubre 30.—El general Feng ha acompañado hoy hasta el frente a los 7500 hombres de tropa que le quedan, y tiene el propósito de establecer su cuartel general en Langfang. Ya tiene un total de 30,000 soldados en el frente. Wang Huai Ching, que hace poco mandaba el segundo ejército, y que se ha unido a los rebeldes, está también congregando sus fuerzas, una de cuyas divisiones llegará esta noche a Tung Chow, al este de Pequín; las otras irán tras de la primera.

Con el transcurso de otro día, se ha puesto ya el general Li Ching Lin, de Mukden, a tiro de las fuerzas del general Wu Pei, y hay indicaciones de que la batalla se iniciará el domingo, o quizá el sábado.

Como el general Wu tiene en su poder los telégrafos de Tien-Tsin, nada se sabe en Pequín de lo que ocurre murallas afuera. Sólo se supo esta noche que sus movimientos desde el sur exigieron el uso de noventa y seis trenes, lo que demuestra que los gobernadores militares de Kiangsu, Anhwei, Hupe y otras provincias se le están incorporando. Se ha comprobado también que sólo se le dispersó una división con motivo de la ocupación de Lanchow por Mukden; las restantes salieron de allí en buena forma.

El ejército del general Chang Tso Lin, tras la toma de Shankhaikwan, va abonzando con la intención de incorporarse al ejército que comanda Li Ching Lin. Todos los observadores están de acuerdo en predecir una guerra sin cuartel cuando se encuentren los ejércitos nuevamente alineados.

Antes de salir de Pequín, el general Feng lanzó un nuevo manifiesto a todos los cuerpos gubernativos, encareciéndoles se unieran para suprimir el militarismo, labor que forma el único ideal del ejército del pueblo que es a sus órdenes. Mandó también fijar por toda Pequín una proclama en la que se ofrece una prima de $100,000 por la captura del general Wu, y de $50,000 al soldado que le dé muerte, si no lo puede capturar vivo.

El general Feng ha constituído un fondo de guerra, incautándose de los tres ferrocarriles que llegan a Pequín, y poniendo a sus propios hombres al cuidado de las rentas. Se siente la falta enorme que hace un arsenal, pues el general Wu tiene los todos en su poder, salvo el de Mukden, cuya producción es insuficiente para proveer por muchos días a una fuerza combinada, sobretodo de granadas de cañón.

Testigos de Cargo que se Lían a Mojicones

Ayer se enzarzaron a bofetadas dos testigos de cargo en la sala del Juez Superior Keetch, y casi armaron un motín durante la vista de la causa de Carey Wilson y Clifford McCormick, encartados por robo.

A. A. Lamorere le tiró un golpe a Eugene R. Case, durante los sensacionales incidentes que causaron gran escándalo en la sala del juzgado. Los espectadores combatían unos con otros, en tanto que el juez Keetch ordenaba el restablecimiento de la calma y los comisarios separaban a los iracundos testigos. El encuentro vino determinado por haber dado lectura los tenientes fiscales Fricke y Orfa de la declaración que prestó Clifford McCormick en la fiscalía, a raíz de haber sido arrestado por sospechas de robo.

En dicha declaración se refirió McCormick a los planes que tenían él, Godfrey Cowdrey, ya convicto del asesinato de Joseph Langley, Wilson y otros, para la perpetración de varios hurtos. Lamorere, que prestó testimonio, por parte de la acusación, de que era amigo de Wilson y de MacCormick, se puso frenético ante la declaración que complicaba a Eugene R. Case.

Al suspender la audiencia el tribunal, para reanudarla en la tarde, y estando todavía el juez en su asiento y el jurado preparándose para salir de su palco, Lamorere se dirigió repentinamente hacia donde estaba Case, y, sin decir agua va, le dió un trompón en la quijada. Acto continuo corrieron hacia Lamorere los tenientes sheriffs Joe Coyle y Erwin Toplin, y le sujetaron. Case dió una carrera en dirección de la puerta en medio del alboroto que siguió al ataque. Parése, sin embargo, cuando vio que los agentes habían dominado a su agresor.

El Juez Keetch ordenó que encerraran a Lamorere, por faltas de respeto al tribunal, hasta hoy a las 5 p.m., hora para la cual le fijó audiencia.

El único testimonio rendido por los testigos durante el día, fue el de E. C. Fitts, conductor del autobús del Eléctrico del Pacífico, quien manifestó que había sido atracado por Cowdrey y Wilson. Fitts terminó su declaración, tras ligero interrogatorio.

Todo el día lo ocuparon la declaración de Fitts y la de McCormick, que fue leída para que constara en autos. Los espectadores, que llenaban la sala, pasaron un día aburrido, hasta que ocurrió el sensacional incidente que puso término a la audiencia del día.

Volcano Madera Erupts; People Flee Locality

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

MANAGUA (Nic.) Oct. 30.—The volcano Madera, in Lake Nicaragua, is reported to be in violent eruption. A new crater is declared to have been opened and large quantities of lava and rocks are being emitted. Residents in the vicinity and animals are fleeing from the neighborhood on account of the black, heavy smoke and vapor.

AGENT IS EN ROUTE TO IDENTIFY BEER BARON

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Al Johnson, prohibition agent who brought about the downfall of Terry Druggan, millionaire beer baron, is on his way to San Francisco to identify Druggan as a fugitive from Federal justice here. Druggan has declared Johnson to be his most hated enemy. Habeas corpus writs, returnable Saturday morning, were issued, calling on Chicago Federal officials to show cause why Druggan should be returned to this jurisdiction.

ATTORNEY IS ACQUITTED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Oct. 30.—The third attempt at disbarment of Robert McMurchie, County Attorney of Yavapai county, has ended in a verdict of acquittal by a nine-to-three jury verdict. Twenty-two hours were taken by the jurors in finding their decision.

NATION'S EXPORTS GAINING

Increase of $46,202,006 Shown for September Over Year Ago; Imports Also Take Jump

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Exports of merchandise from the United States last month totaled $427,635,576 against $381,433,570 for the corresponding month last year, an increase of $46,202,006. Imports totaled $288,125,817 against $253,645,380, an increase of $24,480,437.

The increase in exports, Department of Commerce figures showed, was due principally to a general increase in America's foreign trade with Europe, together with slight general increases with but few exceptions with nearly all other countries of the world.

WHITE FANG by Jack London

Synopsis: Two mushers, Henry and Bill, bound south bearing on their sled the sullen of a tribal companion, are trailed by wolves. Each night the circle of ravenous beasts nearer, each night a sled dog disappears, lured by a she-wolf that looks like a former sled dog. Bill sets out to drive away the pack. He never comes back. Henry builds a fire circle to keep off the wolves. Belief comes just as the wolf pack is about to devour him, and the wolf pack, headed by the she-wolf and old One Eye, starts out to run new game. One Eye kills his rivals—he and the she-wolf run alone. They hunt an Indian camp. The she-wolf is searching for something.

And then she found the thing for which she sought. It was a few miles up a small stream that in the summer time flowed into the Mackenzie, but that then was frozen over and frozen down to its rocky bottom—a dead stream of solid white from source to mouth. The she-wolf was trotting wearily along, her mate well in advance, when she came upon the overhanging, high clay bank. She turned aside and trotted over to it. The wear and tear of spring storms and melting snows had undermined the bank and in one place had made a small cave out of a narrow fissure.

She paused at the mouth of the cave and looked the wall over carefully. Then, on one side and the other, she ran along the base of the wall to where its abrupt bulk emerged from the softer-lined landscape. Returning to the cave, she entered its narrow mouth. For a short three feet she was compelled to crouch, then the walls widened and rose higher in a little round chamber nearly six feet in diameter. The roof barely cleared her head. It was dry and cosey. She inspected it with painstaking care, while One Eye, who had returned, stood in the entrance and patiently watched her. She dropped her head, with her nose to the ground and directed toward a point near to her closely bunched feet, and around this point she circled several times; then, with a tired sigh that was almost a grunt, she curled her body in, relaxed her legs, and dropped down, her head toward the entrance. One Eye, with pointed, interested ears, laughed at her, and beyond, outlined against the white light, she could see the brush of his tail waving good-naturedly. Her own ears, with a snuggling movement, laid their sharp points backward and down against the head for a moment, while her mouth opened and her tongue lolled peaceably out, and in this way she expressed that she was pleased and satisfied.

One Eye was hungry. Though he lay quietly down in the entrance and slept, his sleep was fitful. He kept awaking and cocking his ears at the bright world without, where the April sun was blazing across the snow. When he dozed, upon his ears would steal the faint whispers of hidden tricklets of running water, and he would rouse and listen intently. The sun had come back, and all the awakening Northland world was calling to him. Life was stirring. The feel of spring was in the air, the feel of growing life under the snow, of sap descending in the trees, of buds bursting the shackles of the frost.

He cast anxious glances at his mate, but she showed no desire to get up. He looked outside, and half a dozen snow-birds fluttered across his field of vision. He started to get up, then looked back to his mate again, and settled down and dozed. A shrill and minute singing stole upon his hearing. Once, and twice, he sleepily brushed his nose with his paw. Then he woke up. There, buzzing in the air at the tip of his nose, was a lone mosquito. It was a full-grown mosquito, one that had lain frozen in a dry log all winter and that had now been thawed out by the sun. He could resist the call of the world no longer. Besides, he was hungry.

He crawled over to his mate and tried to persuade her to get up. But she only snarled at him, and he walked out alone into the bright sunshine to find the snow-surface soft underfoot and the traveling difficult. He went up the frozen bed of the stream, where the snow, shaded by the trees, was yet hard and crystalline. He was gone eight hours, and he came back through the darkness hungrier than when he had started. He had found game, but he had not caught it. He had broken through the melting snow-crust, and wallowed, while the snowshoe rabbits had skimmed along on top lightly as ever.

He paused at the mouth of the cave with a sudden shock of suspicion. Faint, strange sounds came from within. They were sounds not made by his mate, and yet they were remotely familiar. He bellied cautiously inside and was met by a warning snarl from the she-wolf. This he received without perturbation, though he obeyed it by keeping his distance; but he remained interested in the other sounds—faint, muffled sobbings and slubberings.

His mate warned him irritably away, and he curled up and slept in the entrance. When morning came and a dim light pervaded the lair, he again sought after the source of the remotely familiar sounds. There was a new note in his mate's warning snarl. It was a jealous note, and he was very careful in keeping a respectful distance. Nevertheless, he made out, sheltering between her legs against the length of her body, five strange little bundles of life, very feeble, very helpless, making tiny whimpering noises, with eyes that did not open to the light. He was surprised. It was not the first time in his long and successful life that this thing had happened. It had happened many times, yet each time it was as fresh a surprise as ever to him.

His mate looked at him anxiously. Every little while she emitted a low growl, and at times, when it seemed to her he approached too near, the growl shot up in her throat to a sharp snarl. Of her own experience she had no memory of the thing happening; but in her instinct, which was the experience of all the mothers of wolves, there lurked a memory of fathers that had eaten their newborn and helpless progeny. It manifested itself as a fear strong within her, that made her prevent One Eye from more closely inspecting the cubs he had fathered.

But there was no danger. Old One Eye was feeling the urge of an impulse, that was, in turn, an instinct that had come down to him from all the fathers of wolves. He did not question it, nor puzzle over it. It was there, in the fiber of his being; and it was the most natural thing in the world that he should obey it by turning his back on his new-born family and by trotting out and away on the meat-trail whereby he lived.

Five or six miles from the lair, the stream divided, its forks going off among the mountains at a right angle. Here, leading up the left fork, he came upon a fresh track. He smelled it and found it so recent that he crouched swiftly, and looked in the direction in which it disappeared. Then he turned deliberately and took the right fork. The footprint was much larger than the one his own feet made, and he knew that in the wake of such a trail there was little meat for him.

Half a mile up the right fork, his quick ears caught the sound of gnawing teeth. He stalked the quarry and found it to be a porcupine, standing upright against a tree and trying his teeth on the bark. One Eye approached carefully but hopelessly. He knew the breed, though he had never met it so far north before; and never in his long life had porcupine served him for a meal. But he had long since learned that there was such a thing as chance, or opportunity, and he continued to draw near. There was never any telling what might happen, for with live things events were somehow always happening differently.

The porcupine rolled itself into a ball, radiating long, sharp needles in all directions that defied attack. In his youth One Eye had once sniffed too near a similar, apparently inert ball of quills, and had the tail flick out suddenly in his face. One quill he had carried away in his muzzle, where it had remained for weeks, a rankling flame, until it finally worked out. So he lay down in a comfortable crouching position, his nose fully a foot away, and out of the line of the tail. Thus he waited, keeping perfectly quiet. There was no telling, something might happen. The porcupine might unroll. There might be opportunities for a deft and ripping thrust of paw into the tender, unguarded belly.

But at the end of half an hour he arose, growled wrathfully at the motionless ball, and trotted on. He had waited too often and futilely in the past for porcupines to unroll, to waste any more time. He continued up the right fork. The day wore along, and nothing rewarded his hunt.

The urge of his awakened instinct of fatherhood was strong upon him. He must find meat. In the afternoon he blundered upon a ptarmigan. He came out of a thicket and found himself face to face with the slow-witted bird.

TYPHUS AND SCURVY IN SOVIET'S PRISONS

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RIGA, Oct. 30.—During the first half of this year, 40,000 cases of typhus were reported in Bolshevik prisons, according to a report of sanitary conditions of 156 prisons and internment camps in Central Russia submitted to the All-Russian Central Executive Committee in Moscow. The report also reveals 11,000 cases of scurvy due to improper food, 14,000 cases of malaria and 8000 cases of non-infectious diseases. There is 20 per cent more sickness among political prisoners than criminal.

A quaint, but rather unhygienic, custom among Russian peasants is their way of salutation—one kiss on the lips and three on each cheek.

ENTERTAIN FATHERS

SOUTH PASADENA, Oct. 30.—Four banquets at which approximately 1000 fathers and sons will be entertained are being planned for Father and Son Week, according to R. E. Heartt, city chairman of the national Father and Son Week, speaking at the meeting of the directors of the Y.M.C.A. last evening. The 1925 budget for the Y.M.C.A. was approved and will be recommended to the Community Chest.

M'ADOO LAUDS PROGRESSIVISM

Deplores Splitting of Davis, La Follette Ranks

Reaffirms Faith in Wilson's League of Nations

Holds Isolation Was Proved Absurd by World War

Hearty indorsement of what he termed the "progressivism" of the Democratic platform of 1924 and reaffirmation of his faith in the Wilsonian League of Nations program were the center-piece of an address made here yesterday by William Gibbs McAdoo, defeated candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

Speaking to an association of Davis-Bryan women's clubs representing fifteen cities, Mr. McAdoo declared that the progressivism of the Democratic platform was necessary in the foreign relations of the United States to protect the country's interests abroad and prevent complete isolation of America.

STAND PROGRESSIVE

"The stand of the Democrats is thoroughly progressive in agriculture, labor, social, foreign relations and every other condition that our country will face in the next four years," Mr. McAdoo said. He continued:

"It is liberal in its child labor indorsement and is entirely in favor of this thoroughly progressive piece of proposed legislation."

He declared that the record of John W. Davis, Democratic Presidential candidate, was unimpeachable, and that the party candidate was thoroughly progressive, as well as thoroughly qualified to take his place in the White House, particularly in view of his diplomatic experience.

DEPLORES DIVISION

Mr. McAdoo deplored what he called the "division" in the ranks of the progressive element in the United States, part of which was aligned with Davis and the remainder behind La Follette. The accomplishing of such a division, he asserted, was part of the political tactics of the Republican party.

The present administration was characterized as one of "great; silent purity," and, he added, "if its impotence is to continue for the next four years the administrative machinery will be reduced to chaos."

"The insidious and dangerous foe of America in the present administration is the corruption which has been pumped into the veins of the Republican party until the conscience of the nation has atrophied."

DAVIS IS MAN

Reverting to the subject of the League of Nations, Mr. McAdoo spoke of his recent tour of Europe, during which he declared that he had talked with the ablest leaders of several countries and had been impressed by their sincerity on problems that "cannot be waved aside with indifference."

"America cannot escape these problems," he continued. "Isolation is an absurdity, proved so in the stormy days of 1917, when I served with that great man, Woodrow Wilson, at the capital.

"We must have an Army and Navy of the greatest strength, or else we must co-operate with the other nations of the earth in preventing war.

"John W. Davis will see that we take this part of co-operation," he concluded.

Bar Association States Error in Proposition Five

The Los Angeles County Bar Association made a statement yesterday calling attention to an error in the drafting of Proposition No. 5, which will invalidate the Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase Act if it is adopted. The passage of this amendment would work hardship and injustice on disabled veterans, the association says, and urges that it be defeated at the polls. It was added that Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Schools, who drafted the amendment, admitted the error and is urging the defeat of the proposition.

The statement is signed by Russ Avery, Leslie R. Hewitt, J. W. McKinley, Mendel Silberberg and H. H. Harris.

MUSEUM'S CHILDREN DEPARTMENT GROWS

LETTER CONTEST ON STUDY OF EXHIBITS CLOSES ON NOVEMBER 10

The children's department of the Southwest Museum, now known as the Junior Club of the Southwest Museum, has grown to such proportions that an average attendance of the same group of children each Saturday is approximately 200. On many occasions there are from 500 to 750 children. The club has five divisions functioning, including natural history, art appreciation, astronomy, music appreciation and travel.

The letter contest now being conducted by the museum was formulated as an incentive to boys and girls to study more closely the exhibits and collections housed in the museum. The contest is without charge and is open to any boy or girl. All who have registered, either in person or by mail, are asked to send their letters in on or before November 10 addressed to the Juvenile Department, Southwest Museum, 4699 Marmion Way, Los Angeles.

Riding Horses to be Photographed for "Times" on Sunday

All the fine riding horses of Los Angeles and their owners will assemble at Bel-Air stables Sunday morning at 9 o'clock.

Pictures will be taken for the midwinter edition of The Times as well as motion pictures. Some of the finest saddle horses in Southern California will be there. All saddle horse owners are invited to be present. Edgar Rice Burroughs is arranging the meet.

MANY HELD IN RAID ON GAMBLERS

Twenty-seven Arrested and Much Equipment is Seized by Police

Breaking down a door of an asserted gambling establishment at 453 South Los Angeles street at a signal from two police operatives stationed within, vice squad officers headed by Acting Captain Hollowell, Detective Lieutenant Davis and Sergt. Sweetnam yesterday arrested twenty-seven men and seized a truckload of furniture and equipment.

Twenty-six were booked at City Jail on charges of gambling while F. J. Murphy, 40 years of age, 1022 South Hill street, asserted proprietor of the establishment, was charged with operating a gambling game.

Although considerable confusion greeted the raid, none offered resistance, the officers said. Several attempted to grab money from tables, the officers said, but most of it was seized. This totaled $212. The furniture and other material were seized as evidence.

During the raid and the confusion accompanying it, Capt. Hollowell said, some one succeeded in getting away with two form charts that are used on dice tables.

Those charged with gambling gave the following names and addresses: A. Berk, 44 years of age, 251 South Grand avenue; Andy Piedikis, 26, 4700 South Hoover avenue; W. Cole, 38, 1502 South Santee street; Frank Brown, 45, 351 North Grand avenue; H. A. Warner, 37, transient; Albert Bellesh, 29, 509 1-2 Bunker Hill avenue; Earl Williams, 35, 438 West Fifth street; Frank Holly, 33, transient; Charles Reed, 36, 802 Columbia avenue; H. F. Weber, 42, 683 South Bixel avenue; E. T. Sausser, 40, 1702 South Grand avenue; F. Dimarco, 28, 926 East First street; Phil Cabibi, 24, 3015 Workman avenue; A. Brown, 42, 2116 Atwater avenue; B. A. Dovener, 45, McCoy Hotel; G. F. Brunem, 29, 878 West Forty-seventh street; Jack Lewis, 28, 1533 South Bixel avenue; H. Gordon, 23, 44a South Bixel avenue; John Orensetin, 26, 315 North Cummings avenue; Connie Crawford, 29, 144 North Broadway; A. C. Gibson, 29, 2050 West Twenty-ninth street, and F. L. Morris, 39, 1307 Wilshire Boulevard.

SUSPECT IN FAKE CHECK FLOOD HELD

Alexandria, Biltmore and Rosslyn Victims; Move for Extradition Made

A flood of bogus checks with Southern California hotels as victims, among them the Alexandria the Biltmore and the Rosslyn, are attributed in a grand jury indictment filed yesterday to Allen E. Azen, alias Charles Green. Azen is under arrest at Seattle and the indictment is the first step in extradition proceedings.

The checks, drawn on banks in Forth Worth, Dallas, Denver and Pittsburg, were signed with fictitious names, according to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Bonner Richardson, who said they ranged in amount from $50 to $300 each and that their total was several thousand dollars.

A new policy in regard to such cases was announced also at the District Attorney's office—that of sending east for witnesses. Heretofore, forgers of out-of-town checks have frequently escaped punishment, it was said, because of the expense of bringing witnesses to prove the checks bogus, but in the future, witnesses will be sent for no matter how far they have to come.

The specific charges against Azen, alias Green, are six counts of forgery of fictitious names. The indictment was returned before Judge Crail, who fixed bail at $5000 and sent the case to Judge Hahn's court.

LECTURE AT MUSEUM

Biology Instructor Will Give Talk on Birds for Juniors

Dr. Alfred Cookman, instructor in biology at Polytechnic High School, will speak on "The Tiniest Birds of California," illustrated with slides and specimens, tomorrow morning at the Southwest Museum at 10:30 o'clock, before the members of the Junior Club of the Southwest Museum.

Mrs. Frances Arnold Greenwood will begin her music appreciation talks covering all European countries, commencing with Spain.

A special attraction will be given boys and girls visiting the museum, as Richard Headrick, juvenile cinema star, will will give a program of motion pictures, songs, dances and readings and will be assisted by Billie Hayes, his 6-year-old pal. This program takes place at 1 o'clock. Children and their parents wishing to bring box luncheons will be provided a lunchroom.

Registrations for the letter contest will be taken from 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

CHAMBER ACCEPTS OFFER

An offer made by the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce to provide quarters in their offices for the harbor branch of the Marine Exchange of the Los Angeles chamber, was accepted yesterday at the meeting of the directors of the latter organization. The former office of the exchange will be given up in a few days, according to Maj. Cecil James, manager of the chamber's bureau.

FACES STATUTORY CHARGES

An indictment charging Robert McKibbon with three statutory offenses, and naming a girl and a boy as victims, was returned yesterday by the county grand jury. McKibbon is under arrest. Bail was fixed at $5000 by Judge Crail and the case assigned to Judge Hardy.

MR. MAGINI TO LECTURE

Rabbi E. F. Magnin will give a lecture on "You Gentiles" at the Temple B'nai B'rith this evening. The public is invited. Dr. Magnin will also be in charge of services at the temple tomorrow morning.

Chamber Calls Veterans Out Armistice Day

All members of the Chamber of Commerce who participated in the World War are urged to be present at Armistice Day ceremonies in the Coliseum, November 11 at 2 p.m., in a resolution adopted yesterday by the Chamber's Board of Directors.

The resolution was adopted following receipt by Col. A. J. Copp, Chairman of the military and naval affairs committee, from C. E. McDowell, commander of the City Interpost Council of the American Legion.

The resolution follows:

"Whereas, the community celebration of Armistice Day is to be held at the Coliseum on November 11, 1924, at the hour of 2 o'clock p.m., at which celebration veterans of all wars, and especially veterans of the World War, will be present in large numbers to perpetuate the successful termination of the World War in 1918, and,

"Whereas, it is the opinion of this Chamber that all participants in the World War should endeavor to be present at the ceremony, so far as possible, as a mark of respect to our Allies in this struggle and to the memory of the men and women who gave of their blood, and even of their lives, to make the first Armistice Day possible,

"Now, therefore, be it resolved, that this chamber urge all members of the Chamber of Commerce who were participants in the World War that they be present at this celebration and that all members who have employees who participated in this historic struggle excuse such employees from their accustomed tasks in order that they may attend at the Coliseum at this time."

Native Sons to Aid Dedication of Serra Chapel

Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West will take part in the ceremonies Sunday morning at San Juan Capistrano Mission, when Serra Chapel will be dedicated by Bishop Cantwell and a dedication sermon will be preached by Rev. E. R. Kirk of Los Angeles. The last presentation of the Mission Pageant will be made Sunday.

On behalf of the Native Sons, R. F. Del Valle will dedicate the restored building as a monument to the pioneers of California. Past Grand Presidents H. C. Lichtenberger and William I. Traeger and Grand Trustee John T. Newell will represent the Grand Parlor of Native Sons at the ceremonies.

The Native Sons and Daughters from Los Angeles will leave here at 5 a.m. Sunday.

Reopening of Latin Quarter Cafe Tonight

Ward McFadden, builder and former owner of the Ship Cafe in Venice, and Charles Simpson of Los Angeles, associate of Mr. McFadden, announce the recent purchase by them of the Latin Quarter Cafe, 6426 Sunset Boulevard, Hollywood.

A grand reopening will occur tonight at the cafe, which was conceived and built by the artist members of the Norse Studio Club, who make the cafe their headquarters, in which there are rooms depicting scenes in Holland, Japan and China, including a pirate's room, an oriental room, a Cleopatra room and a room of all nations.

A huge free parking space is to be constructed adjoining the cafe.

Theft Suspect Talks Self Into Bigamy Charge

Two wives in six months were accumulated by Philip James Thomas right in Huntington Park and without any trouble at all, it was asserted yesterday when a bigamy complaint was filed against the young man.

Thomas was arrested Saturday by Deputy Sheriffs Jones and Higgins, charged with petty larceny, the theft of an overcoat from Paul Muzzini of Huntington Park. In talking things over with the officers yesterday, it was said, his supermarital adventures were disclosed.

He married Peggy J. Meade in January last, and Zella Gertrude Ross, 16 years of age, the following June, according to the charge.

FORMER ROTARIANS NOW HAVE OWN CLUB

Former members of Rotary clubs in all parts of the world, who are now living in Los Angeles, yesterday completed their organization under the name of the Altruarian, Club of Los Angeles, with forty charter members, and the following officers: President, Leslie R. Saunders; vice-president, John M. Walshe; secretary, Fred K. Houston; treasurer, M. A. Thompson. These, with George W. Nilsson, John Shelby and Dr. Henry R. Nast, form the board of directors. The headquarters of the club will be at 417 Financial Center Building. Membership will be limited to men who have been active in Rotary for the past, and who are ineligible to Rotary membership in Los Angeles because classifications are filled by present members in the local club.

WATTS MAN MISSING; FOUL PLAY IS FEARED

Search was begun by the Sheriff's office yesterday for Floyd J. Bowers, Watts lawyer, who has been missing since Monday. It was started at the request of Sam D. Garlick, J. M. Everett and D. M. Hazelett, Watts business men and friends of Bowers. They told Deputy Sheriffs Catlin and Sepulveda, who were assigned to the case, that Bowers received threats recently when he attempted to collect on several bad checks he received in connection with a case. They said they fear the threats may have some connection with the disappearance.

LAST PHONE RATE FIGHT BRIEF FILED

Decision of Commission is Not Expected Before First of Year

Concluding briefs of the city and general citizens' telephone committee in answer to briefs of the Southern California Telephone Company, submitted last Saturday, were filed here yesterday with the State Railroad Commission in connection with the telephone-rate fight. The telephone company has five days to reply and with the submission of written arguments, the proposed telephone-rate increase, measured service and exchange areas will be formally submitted to the commission for decision. The case has consumed practically a year to present.

Members of the commission have announced they will review the case in chambers for the next two months and do not anticipate a decision before January 1, 1925.

The city and general citizens' telephone committee are urging the commission to make a temporary decision, which will order the telephone company to continue its present schedule with minor changes. It is suggested that a final decision should not be handed down until an exhaustive study can be made of local conditions with a view to arriving at a fundamental plan that the company eventually should be ordered to permanently adopt.

It is contended by Beverly Hills and the Sherman Chamber of Commerce in their briefs, also filed yesterday, that the commission cannot order the establishment of exchanges in their territory as no tangible evidence to warrant such a proposition was submitted by the telephone company.

ARMISTICE DAY PARADE IS PLANNED

Patriotic Societies Will Join in Observance in Coliseum Arena

With representatives of virtually every patriotic organization in the city in attendance, preliminary plans for observance of Armistice Day, November 11, were made at a meeting last night in the City Hall. Col. S. M. Saltmarsh, who has been appointed grand marshal of the parade, was in charge of the meeting.

Observance of Armistice Day is to be under the direction of the Inter-Post Council of the American Legion and is to have a parade as its central feature.

Instead of parading through the downtown streets, present plans call for the marchers to form near the Coliseum at Exposition Park and to march inside to be viewed by the thousands of people who can crowd into the mammoth bowl.

Order of march in the parade was the chief topic of discussion at the meeting and Col. Saltmarsh was empowered to make up the schedule and publish it as soon as possible. It will include spaces for the various patriotic organizations, the R.O.T.C. units from the various schools of the city and cadets from near-by military academies as well as the veterans of the World War. There will be a special reviewing stand for guests at the parade.

Complete details of the observance plans will be made public next week, according to Col. Saltmarsh.

TWO DIE BY GAS, THIRD IS FAILURE

Victims Leave No Trace of Motive; Revived Man is City Fireman

Three men yesterday sought death by turning on the gas and two of them found it, according to a police report.

Arthur Johnson, 60 years of age, janitor in a hotel at 543 San Julian street, was found dead in his gas-filled room by Mrs. S. Campbell, the landlady. All the windows were closed tightly. Detective Lieutenants Jarvis and Craig pronounced the case suicide, but were unable to determine the motive.

The second to end his life with gas was Robert Smyth, 38. His body was found in a room at 2628 North Sichel street. No note was found, neither was the motive determined in an investigation by Jarvis and Craig.

William H. Richards, a city fireman assigned to Engine Company No. 32, registered under an assumed name at a hotel at 1202 East Seventh street, went to his room and turned on the gas, according to the same detectives. He was taken to Receiving Hospital and revived, but refused to talk.

Bond Forgery Fugitive Held in Texas City

Wanted by local and Federal authorities on charges of forged checks and bogus Liberty bonds, Neil McConnologue, alias George Hackathorne, was arrested in Dallas, Tex., yesterday, according to word received by United States Secret Service Agent W. W. Ashe.

McConnologue was arrested here last March for the forgery of Liberty bonds and was convicted, but escaped while officers were taking him to the Federal penitentiary. It is understood by the local secret service agents that McConnologue will be returned here to face trial on State charges of fictitious checks.

BADGERS' SOCIAL MONDAY

Frank H. True, president of the Wisconsin contingent in California, is calling all the Badgers to the November social Monday evening at Disabled Veterans' Hall, 246 South Hill street. Former Mayor Rose of Milwaukee will be present and Mrs. Rose will sing.

It doesn't pay to buy "seconds"

Home builders are not investing wisely when, for the sake of a few dollars' saving on the first cost, they permit the installation of "seconds" in plumbing fixtures. They pay less, but they get less than they pay for.

The enamel of the "bargain" bath-tub, lavatory or kitchen sink may be chipped in places, badly warped or off color. The toilet may be warped and otherwise defective.

A great deal of money is paid out each year for low-grade or "second" fixtures that are not worth half what they cost their owners. And much more is wasted every year in efforts to keep these defective units in working order.

Sooner or later the entire installation has to be ripped out and new fixtures put in. The final cost is much greater than if reliable materials had been used in the first place.

The only sure way of getting satisfactory equipment is to call in a plumbing contractor you can trust, one who handles trade-marked products. Tell him how much you can afford to spend, and let him help you to select the fixtures which will meet your needs and not exceed your building budget.

Such a contractor knows his business. His prices are fair. His materials and his work are always dependable.

Crane fixtures and fittings, sold and installed only by competent contractors, will give you a lifetime of trouble-free service and cost you less in the long run.

Visit the Crane Exhibit Rooms and see how wide is the range of styles at prices within reach of all.

OLD DEPOT ENDING CAREER

With the departure of the last transcontinental train tomorrow night, the historic old Union Pacific passenger station at First street and the Los Angeles River will pass into oblivion. With the arrival of the first Union Pacific flyer from Chicago Sunday morning the station at Fifth street and Central avenue will become the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific terminal, it became known last night from E. E. Calvin, vice-president of the Union Pacific System.

In the Union Pacific announcement Calvin expressed satisfaction on behalf of executives and officials of the railroad system that the new arrangement enables the Union Pacific to offer modern and suitable passenger depot facilities to the traveling public entering Los Angeles.

CHANGE GRATIFIES

"As we have repeatedly stated," says the announcement, "the continued use of the antiquated station at First street has caused us much chagrin. The structure was neither in keeping with the dignity of a city of the importance of Lo Angeles nor with the policy of the Union Pacific system in maintaining first-class service for its patrons.

"Now, however, with the approval of the city authorities and the State Railroad Commission, we have arranged to use, temporarily, pending the final determination of the controversy, the commodious and conveniently situated station of the Southern Pacific at Fifth street and Central avenue.

"What the future will bring forth in the way of permanent arrangement no one at this time can state, but for the present, at least, the detriment suffered by both the city and our company as well as the traveling public, due to the inadequacy of the First-street station will be removed."

LANDMARK GOES

With the passing of the old station one of the landmarks closely linked with Los Angeles progress will go. Built in 1891 by the Los Angeles Terminal Railway, it was then well out in the country with a grape vineyard surrounding it and only a cable-car line leading out from town. Its rail line led only to Long Beach. Since then Los Angeles has grown past it and the old station has been successively taken over by the Salt Lake Route, which opened transcontinental traffic through Salt Lake City in 1905, and by the Union Pacific.

Although the first Union Pacific train will enter the new joint station early Sunday morning the official welcome will be given the Los Angeles Limited, which will arrive at 2:30 p.m. drawn by a decorated locomotive and carrying notables. It will be met in the station by rail and civic officials.

Handling arrangements here for the important move are W. S. Basinger, passenger traffic manager from Omaha; Marius De Brabant, assistant traffic manager; Tom C. Peck, general passenger agent, all of the Union Pacific traffic department, and C. C. Calvin, vice-president, and Fred Knickerbocker, general manager of the Union Pacific operating department.

Seeking to Link "Millionaire" to Film Burglaries

Efforts to connect Alfred Masquera, alias Paul Latimer, with recent burglaries at the homes of Constance Talmadge and Betty Compson, are now being made, it was said at the Sheriff's office yesterday, following the return of Capt. Townsend from San Luis Obispo, where he talked with Masquera. Capt. Townsend said Masquera, asserted son of a millionaire coffee planter of Brazil, admitted burglaries at the Walker jewelry store, the Everade jewelry store and the Radio Shop at Pasadena and the Winter jewelry store at Glendale.

Masquera also admitted, Capt. Townsend said, planning to blow the safe at the Pasadena Public Library, but lost his nerve at the last moment.

Burglary of the Miller jewelry store at San Luis Obispo and five bad-check charges are pending against the man in the northern city, where he was arrested recently. Two suit cases full of burglar tools were found in a rooming-house in Hollywood where Masquera formerly lived, it is asserted. The young man is said to have formerly had an allowance of $2000 monthly.

Chemists Find Heroin in Chewing Gum Rescued from of Negro by Detectives; Officers Grew Suspi of Man's Proximity to Lincoln Heights Jail

Chewing gum with a kick was extricated by Detective Lieutenants Southard and Seagar yesterday from the jaws of William Butler, negro. Butler had been observed by the detectives loitering around the Lincoln Heights Police Station. When they sought to arrest him he hastily transferred something from his hand to his mouth.

The officers forced Butler to spit out the contents of his mouth and found a big wad of chewing gum. The gum was analyzed by a Chemist and found to contain heroin. It is believed by detectives that Butler used the gum to smuggle narcotics to a prisoner at the jail and that in order to swallow the drug it was first dissolved in his chewing gum. Butler was held on a charge of violating the State Poison Act and will be tried Monday before Judge Richardson.

WILDCATTERS AT TAX LE

Strenuous Kick Against Publicity for Reture pected When Promoters Start Calling

The most strenuous kick yet registered against the present action in throwing the income-tax return lists open for public inspection is expected to develop when income-tax payers learn that promoters of various kinds of stock-selling propositions, including wild cat oil developments and like schemes, have been taking advantage of the income-tax books to get a—for them—valuable list of prospects, with names, address and exact figures on how much attached.

That a score of enterprising promoters have been actively going over the income-tax lists was not denied yesterday by officials in charge of the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue in the Federal Building here. When those busy gentlemen complete their books and sally forth to reduce next year's income-tax return for those named thereon, a mighty roar is fully expected to rent the air.

"However, even if we were sure that many of those calling to see the returns were promoters, we couldn't do anything to stop them," declared the officials.

In the meantime, the promoters are said to be rubbing their hands and chuckling with glee. Good mailing lists and good prospects are hard to get, and never before were they handed a list with the exact resources of those named sworn to officially. No more will the clever salesman have to spend good money, time and automobile hire carting around tourists and others wishing a free ride, but with no intention of spending any money.

Nope, the good old days are gone, but better ones are at hand —for the promoters.

FIRPO TO TESTIFY BEFORE FEDERAL GRAND JURY TODAY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The Federal grand jury today began consideration of the charges filed by Canon William S. Chase against Luis Angel Firpo. The churchman claimed the pugilist's moral turpitude was involved on the occasion of his recent entry into America from the Argentine.

Canon Chase and all of the witnesses who originally appeared before Commissioner Hitchcock are scheduled to appear tomorrow before the grand jury.

According to Asst. Dist. Atty. Mattuck, who is presenting the case, Firpo has waived his right of immunity and also will testify before the grand jury.

...rell or Behrendt sitting in as guards. Jeff Cravath and Holly Adams are ready for action at center, with the latter likely to start.

Henderson was in no pleasant frame of mind last night over the word from the north that Cole had been declared ineligible. The Trojan mentor expressed himself in no uncertain terms: "It is a shame that the action of two men should bar forever from college athletics a man such as Cole. We furnished ample information to the effect that Cole had not been paid for coaching at Santa Ana, but nevertheless Stanford and California voted him out. Ed Covington, Santa Ana coach, has emphatically stated that Cole was not an assistant to him and the school principal has also asserted that Cole was not paid for coaching. I am sorry for Cole's sake that action barring him has been taken."

Local football men here last night were wondering what the Oregon Aggies would do when they learned that Cole had been declared ineligible. The Trojans trimmed the Aggies, 17 to 3, and Cole played in the game.

COMPTON MIDGETS WALLOP SAN PEDRO

Superior team work and a husky forward wall gave the Compton lightweights a 21-to-7 victory over San Pedro's midget team at San Pedro yesterday. Compton opened up in the first period and bucked their way to their first score. In the second canto the harbor boys got their only tally, when Ward ran back a punt forty yards for a touchdown. Compton scored again before the period ended, and put over the last tally in the last frame. The line-ups.

GETS GAME BY WIRE

Dr. R. B. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California, is so vitally interested in the outcome of the Trojan-Bear game that, while he could not stay to see it, he will have play-by-play reports of the contest sent his train while en route to Los Angeles. He will undoubtedly be the most popular man on the train when these start coming in.

PLAN TURF COURTS FOR DEL MONTE

Grass Tennis Courts to be Installed; Hope for National Tourney

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DEL MONTE, Oct. 30.—The Del Monte Company has decided to install turf tennis courts at Pebble Beach. Three such courts will be laid out and developed immediately, and three more at a later date. S. F. B. Morse, president of the company, is in receipt of a letter from Dr. Sumner Hardy, president of the Lawn Tennis Association, to the effect that he will go to Del Monte on November 18 with William Johnston and William Tilden, the national champion, to select the site of the tennis courts and to lay down specifications for their construction.

This step is one of great interest to all tennis players, as there are no championship turf courts now on the Pacific Coast. It is the lack of play on turf courts that has handicapped California players in their initial appearances in the East, and in Europe.

It is thought that the Del Monte courts will be in shape for championship play within a year, and there is every likelihood of securing the national championship in the near future.

Williams and Walker Head Mexicali Card

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICALI, Oct. 30.—Manager Joe Flores of the Owl Arena, is bringing another husky giant from Los Angeles this week to battle Kid Williams in the main event of Sunday's card. Jack Walker, touted as one of the best 175-pound men in the short-round game up there, is to extend his distance to ten rounds with the heavyweight pride of Heber. This should be and undoubtedly will be one of the best limited bouts ever pulled off here, for we all know what Kid Williams can do; and Walker is said to be able to go at top speed for better than the scheduled ten rounds.

The semifinal of eight rounds will find Marcell Dennis of Los Angeles and Sailor Caddess of the Compton Athletic Club facing each other at 133 pounds.

The feature event of six rounds finds Johnnie Lyles of Los Angeles pitted against Solly Love, at 130 pounds.

Former Centre College Star to Meet Rojas

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—After housing the rodeo for two weeks, Madison Square Garden will go back to its old occupation of staging boxing shows next week, with cards listed for Wednesday and Friday evenings. On Wednesday a set of heavyweight bouts will be put on in an effort to find opponents for Jack Renault, Luis Firpo and Tom Gibbons.

For the main event on Wednesday night, Rickard has signed Romero Rojas, the South American, to meet Sully Montgomery, the former Centre College football star. Montgomery has not performed in this district, but in the West he has compiled a very convincing record for a fighter of limited experience.

On Friday night one of the most important lightweight contests will be staged, for Jack Bernstein of Yonkers and Sammy Mandell will travel over the twelve-round route.

KID SAVAGE IS BARRED FOR FOULING

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICALI, Oct. 30.—As a result of committing fouls in a bout here last Sunday with Jimmy Burns, Kid Savage, heavyweight, has been barred from the ring in Mexico indefinitely. The order prohibiting his appearance was issued by the police, following investigating of charges of unfair tactics in his fighting here.

DE PALMA IS RACE ENTRANT

Smiling Ralph Will Drive in Culver Affair

Speed Star Out to Capture Turkey Day Event

Noted Pilot Makes Return to Board Tracks

Ralph De Palma, idol of the speedways and king of the dirt-track sport, has added his name to the list of spede merchants who will compete in the opening race on the new Culver City speed bowl Thanksgiving Day. Smiling Ralph has not been seen on any spedeway during the past season and his appearance in the Culver City inaugural will mark his return to the boards after a sensational campaign on the dirt tracks.

After a period of disqualification for racing in unsanctioned events, De Palma was reinstated by the contest board of the A.A.A. early last summer and since then he has scored victory after victory on dirt tracks under A.A.A. sanction all over the West, but he is now anxious to return to the fast-board courses and to the great brick oval at Indianapolis where the annual 500-mile race is staged. De Palma's many followers are predicting a victory for him on Thanksgiving Day when he meets the world's greatest drivers in the world's fastest cars on the new Culver City speed bowl, which the drivers claim will be the world's fastest race course.

De Palma possesses uncanny ability as a mechanic and he developed more speed with his Miller-motored racer than any other driver on the dirt-track circuit during the past season. The popular Italian speed hero has bought a new Miller car, which will make its debut under De Palma in the Culver City motor classic. Such drivers as Eddie Hearne and Harlan Fengler say that De Palma will be one of the hardest men to beat when the knights of the roaring road meet in the opening race on the new course.

With the addition of De Palma to the Culver City entry list, the event has already taken on the aspect of a classic. Pitted against the Italian speedway idol will be the great Tom Milton, the man who has traveled faster on four wheels than any other human being — the man who holds the world's speedway record of 118.17 miles per hour for 250 miles, together with the official world's straightaway records with cars of various types which exceed 150 miles per hour.

Milton's young team-mate, Bob McDonogh, is also entered. Harlan Fengler, the youthful race pilot who held the world's 250-mile record until it was shattered by Milton at Charlotte, has entered two cars, one of which will be driven by a driver as yet unnamed. There are four Duesenberg entries. Two drivers are as yet unnamed, but Phil Schaeffer, winner of the tragic race at Syracuse, and Peter De Paola, Ralph De Palma's young nephew, have already been nominated.

One of the outstanding stars of the racing sport, Earl Cooper, two times winner of the championship and leader in the race for the 1924 A.A.A. speedway title has filed his entry for the Culver City mileage massacre. Cooper wired his entry from Charlotte and is now en route to the Pacific Coast. The veteran driver will go direct to San Francisco, where he is now making his home. He will compete in the 100-mile speed classic at Tanforan on November 16 and then come to Los Angeles to prepare for the opening event on the new Culver City race bowl.

Cooper is now leading Tom Milton for the championship by a score of 1240 points to 961. If he wins first or second in the Culver City race, he will succeed to the speedway title, won by Eddie Hearne last year, but if Cooper finishes worse than second and Milton wins, terrible Tommy Milton will be crowned champion of the speedway for the second time in his career.

VARNELL TO SEE TILT FROM SEAT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30. George M. Varnell, sporting editor of the Spokane Chronicle, who is recognized as one of the leading football officials on the Pacific Coast, will tomorrow see his first intercollegiate football game in fourteen years. During that time Varnell has been on the football fields as an official in every important game that has been played on the Coast but he never has had time to view a game from a grand stand seat.

Tomorrow he will have a reserved seat at the Santa Clara-Stanford contest. He will referee the game Saturday between the University of California and the University of Southern California at Berkeley.

FRANKLIN MIDGETS WINNERS

Democrats Are Beaten by 7-to-6 Score; Kiteflyers Score in Last Period

Failure to convert after making a touchdown cost the Jefferson High School lightweights a game yesterday, and practically put them out of the running for the City League title. The Jeffersonians lost a nip-and-tuck battle to the Franklin midgets by a 7-to-6 score.

In the second period Jefferson opened up with a vicious attack, pushing down the field on off-tackle bucks to the Kiteflyers' 5-yard line. Franklin held, and taking the ball punted to its 40-yard line. Cireno, Jefferson safety man, caught the ball and did some beautiful open-field running, tearing through the whole Franklin team to the 5-yard mark, whence the ball was bucked over. The Democrats failed to convert, however.

Nothing further happened till the fourth period when Franklin cut loose with all it had. With the ball on the 40-yard line Low threw a nice pass to Miller who ran thirty yards for a touchdown. Miller converted for the winning point.

Johnny Hawkins, the hard-hitting and quick-thinking Trojan skipper, leads his hunters north tonight in quest of the skin and whatever else goes with it of the Golden Bear. BEARS ARE HIBERNATING

California Eleven Goes Into Retirement Until The U.S.C. Game; Andy Smith is Silent

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BERKELEY, Oct. 30.—Andrew L. Smith and his University of California football team have gone into retirement at Mt. Diablo Country Club, from which they will not emerge until some time Saturday morning. Their practice for the U.S.C. game completed, the Bears, led by their famed coach, will seek to forget football for the next thirty-six hours. Far from the maddening crowd, they will shout, play and have a good time generally until time to go back to Berkeley to get ready for the game.

The rain that fell steadily for several days following last Saturday's game is over, and the last two afternoons of practice have been on a comparatively fast field, giving just the proper finish to the hardest week of training the Blue and Gold squad has seen this season. Today's workout was the final bit of practice the Bears will have until they take the field Saturday afternoon.

DEEP MYSTERY

Just what has been going on this week on California Field no one knows. All passes were revoked Monday by the Bruin mentor, and sport scribes and all have been refused admission. It is certain that Andy has been opening up his well-known bag of tricks and selecting a few plays to use on the Trojans. It is reported that he has discarded every play he has used thus far this year, and will use an entirely new selection against Elmer Henderson's eleven Saturday.

It is impossible at the present time to obtain the exact line-up for the Bear team. The condition of several players who have been on the hospital list for the past few days will decide that to a certain degree. It is not known whether Al Young, plunging fullback, who has had water on the knee, will be able to start. If he is not in the game, it is probable that Brown will be shifted to full with Imlay and Dixon at halves, although it is possible that Andy will send in Jabs in place of Young, alternating Brown, Dixon and Imlay at halves. It is possible that even if Young is not able to start he will get in part of the game. His absence will severely handicap the Bruins' attack. Shaffnit, Griffin and Mills are all fit for the game, and these reserve backs may see action. "Scoop" Carlson, Smith's field general, will be in the opening line-up.

THATCHER OUT

With Thatcher out with a bad leg, Huber and "Snooky" Mell will be the ends. They both have improved a great deal of late. Mell has been criticised for his overpugnacity, but Andy says that is the spirit he likes to see. He explained today that Mell was in a semiconscious state when he tackled a Washington State man receiving a fair catch last week, having been injured in the preceding play, and was not to be blamed for the occurrence. White and Sargent will probably start at tackles, although Cock may replace the latter. Niswander and Couper will start at the guard berths, with the old reliable Capt. Babe Horrell, who is there all the time with both hands and feet, taking the pivot position.

Andy is not overconfident, but says that his boys are going into the game to win. He refuses to comment on the reported statement of Elmer Henderson, Trojan coach, that his team will beat California by three touchdowns on straight football, keeping their real stuff under wraps for the Stanford game.

This is the first time in years that the odds have been against a California team, but that does not worry Andy, nor the California supporters. Ask any of them how the game will result and they will tell you that California will win, but it will be a tough fight.

Game to be Played Despite Eligibility Row

Bill Cole, husky U.S.C. tackle, will not be allowed to play against California in tomorrow's game at Berkeley. According to word received at U.S.C. last night by Coach Elmer Henderson, Cole has been ruled ineligible for the big contest, the decision being handed down by representatives of California, Stanford and U.S.C. meeting in San Francisco yesterday afternoon. Henderson said that California and Stanford had voted against Cole's playing, following a discussion of the case and that U.S.C. had no alternative but to abide by the majority vote.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30. Representatives of California, Stanford and U.S.C. met at the Palace Hotel today and stayed in session for several hours to discuss the eligibility of Bill Cole, a tackle on the U.S.C. team and then passed the question up to Dr. W. W. Campbell, president of the University of California and Dr. Rufus Von KleinSmid, president of U.S.C. for final settlement.

Just when the two eminent doctors will get together their subordinates did not know today. But no matter what the decision in the Cole case the game between California and U.S.C. will be played in the California stadium Saturday afternoon. It is likely that the meeting will be held in Dr. Campbell's office tomorrow morning.

A little thing like the protesting of a tackle will not interfere with a big event of that kind.

TALKED A LOT

At the conference today Dr. H. W. Harrow represented Stanford, Dr. J. H. Hildebrand represented California and H. J. Stonier represented U.S.C. At the meeting were Paul Davis, graduate manager at Stanford, Gwynn Wilson, graduate manager of U.S.C., and R. W. Cortelyou, the handsome young assistant manager at California. These good-looking young men sat around and listened to the others talk and they were late getting to lunch.

The U.S.C. representatives came up with documents to prove that although Bill Cole was paid $200 by the students of the Santa Ana High School, that he was not a professional. They said he got the $200 for working around the grounds and for the use of his au-

GAMES TODAY

Manual Arts vs. Lincoln at Coliseum.
Hollywood at L. A. High.
Jefferson at Franklin.
Polytechnic, bye.

Somebody's title aspirations will get an awful jolt this afternoon when the Lincoln and Manual Arts elevens clash in the Coliseum. Both the Toilers and Railsplitters are strong contends for the City League grid championship, but a defeat today will practically ruin one squad's chances, which should cause the rival players to put up a regular battle.

Two other games are on tap for City League fans today, with Hollywood facing Krikpatrick's Pioneers at L. A. High and Coach Dave Fryer's Jefferson Democrats invading Franklin's domain, but the Lincoln-Jefferson tilt is holding all the interest.

The Railsplitters, coached by "Happy" Van Pelt and Archie Nesbit, should beat the Toilers and probably will. Lincoln has a strong running attack that has penetrated all opposition with comparative ease to date. The Railsplitters' main forte is hitting off tackle with Milt Nolan packing the ball. Nolan and the weakness of the Toiler line inside the ends, except at center, where Stever holds forth, are why Lincoln is favored.

Nolan is also a good punter and can pass the oval with much eclat. Nesbit has built up a capable quartet of helpers for Milt in Pusich, Medanich, Chandler and Lampe, while Russ Striff at quarter is proving one of the best signal callers ever at the North Broadway institution. Add a strong, husky line to all this and you have the reason for the Railsplitters being favored.

Manual Arts, however, is far from a weak sister. The Toilers have a speedy backfield in Junior Hanford, State prep quarter-mile champ two years ago, Howe, Orbe and Martin. All four are dangerous in the open field, providing they can get there. The Toilers played their first game last week, beating Jefferson, 13 to 7, and their offense was nothing to rave about. Both Manual scores were the result of intercepted passes followed by long runs.

It may have been that Coach Sid Foster had his charges keep under cover. Foster could afford to have the Toilers save their stuff, for they took the lead early and might have been content to stay in front by a small margin. But the Toilers will get a chance to open up today.

L. A. High is favored to trounce Hollywood in its game at Housh Field, but the Foothillers might spring some kind of a surprise and make it unpleasant for the Romans. The Pioneers trounced Franklin by a 21-to-6 score in their only league game, while Hollywood lost to Polytechnic, 34 to 0. Unless the Movie City squad has improved a great deal, it is due for another trimming.

The Jefferson-Franklin battle, although it brings together two cellar occupying elevens, should be a hard-fought and interesting one to watch. The Democrats have lost both of their games by one-touchdown margins, while the Kitefiyers were beaten, 21 to 0, in their two league games. It is expected that both teams will open up with everything in order to win, for the loser seems destined to finish the season at the bottom of the heap.

PURCELL SPRINGS AN UPSET

Defeats Stowell in Fast Match to a Decision at Hollywood A. C.

Russell Purcell of the Los Angeles Athletic Club held the spotlight last night in the Pacific Coast wrestling championships, which are being staged at the Hollywood Athletic Club, when he defeated Everett Stowell of the H.A.C. in a thrilling bout which went to a decision. Stowell was favored to win in his class and his defeat came as an upset.

Harold Pitcher managed to win the final of the 112-pound class from Teddy Fogel, but only after the little fellows had tusseled for fourteen minutes. Both boys are of the Hollywood Athletic Club. In the heavyweight class Ardouin of the L.A.A.C. threw Powell of Poly High in four minutes and twenty-five seconds, thereby making himself champion of the big boys.

A large crowd was on hand to witness the matches, which were still in progress at a late hour last night. The results follow:

112 final—Harold Pitcher, H.A.C., defeated Teddy Fogel, H.A.C., 14m.
Heavyweight final—Ardouin, L.A.A.C., defeated Powell, Poly High, 4m. 25s.
178 semifinal—Harold Pitcher defeated Morrigian, U.S.C., 3m. 25s.
124 pounds—Glen Barry, Local U.C., defeated E. Mack, Arroyo Seco Athletic Club, 2m. 1s.
126 pounds—L. Garman, L.A.A.C., defeated P. Walton, U.S.S. Idaho, decision.
130 pounds—R. Purcell, L.A.A.C., defeated Everett Stowell, H.A.C., decision.
133 pounds—Hunerlich, unattached, defeated G. Grosser, H.A.C., decision.
147 pounds—J. Anderson, U.S.S. California, defeated Stan Fisher, L.A.A.C., decision.
147 pounds—A. Gillman, L.A.A.C., defeated Ehrlich, U.S.C., 6m. 41s.
160 pounds—M. McGill, L.A.A.C., defeated Elliot, U.S.S. Arizona, decision.
160 pounds—E. Grinstad, H.A.C., defeated A. Campbell, L.A.A.C., 6m. 45s.
175 pounds—W. Gillespie defeated Gus Cosmas, L.A.A.C., 6m. 47s.

HERMAN IS TROUNCED BY MARKS

Coast Champ Outclasses Opponent in Pasadena Armory Feature

Georgie Marks soundly trounced Checkie Herman in the feature event of the Pasadena Armory's weekly program of boxing last night before a packed house. It was a case of Marks all the way, although Herman had enough pep to make the bout interesting. Marks had his adversary groggy several times, and the fans were howling for a knock-out, which Herman was able to avoid.

In the semi-wind-up, Benny Marks knocked out Manuel Villa in the third round, after damaging him severely in the opening periods. Bud Sharp stopped Kid Flash in the second round of the feature preliminary.

Other results follow: Phil Matta and Jim Powell, a draw; Battling Martin lost to Joe Rivera, and Barney Dolson knocked out Ray Fatcha in the third round.

Gilmore Oils Will Take on Glendale Nine

What figures to be the feature tilt of the opening round of the Southern California winter loop will be the clash between Cliff McCarl's powerful Gilmore Oil club and Ray French's Glendale tossers Sunday at the latter's park. Marty Krug, the plucky little boss of the Angels who piloted the Seraphs to second place in the Coast League in a hair-raising dash for the pennant, will be the honored player of the day. The smart little pilot will play second base for the Glendale club. Glendale is his home town and more than 5000 citizens of that city will be out to root for their favorite.

"Ferdie" Schupp, who spent six years on the New York Giants' pay roll and had a great season last year with Kansas City, will twirl for the Oilers with "Tub" Spencer, the Angel receiver, behind the plate. Dick Bonnelly, a teammate of Schupp on the K. C. lineup, and Denny Murphy, Tiger catcher, will work for Glendale.

BIG GOLF WEEK APPROACHING

Two Important Tournaments on the Calendar

Women's Wilshire Affair to Open Monday

Hollywood's Annual Event Commences Tuesday

BY CHARLES WEST

The last two events on the S. C. G. A. calendar will be held next week, one for women opening on the links of the Wilshire Country Club Monday with an eighteen-hole qualifying round, while Hollywood's annual invitation event for members of the sterner sex starts Tuesday, with the first day of medal play.

Most of the mighty low-handicap players will be present at both tournaments, the "big three" of the feminine division, Miss Mary K. Browne, Miss Margaret Comeron and Mrs. W. W. Campbell, State champion, all having signed up along with almost 100 others, while Dr. Paul Hunter, Southern California titleholder, George Von Elm, Willie Hunter, Frank Godchaux, Jack Tarrant, Harlow Hurley, Jack Neville and Earl Neitzel will comprise the shock troops in the attack on Hollywood's par.

Mrs. A. E. D. Trabue, chairman of the Women's Auxiliary, S.C.G.A., announced last night that all entries must be in by Saturday night in order that they may be drawn Sunday for the qualifying rounds, partners and starting times being fished out of a winter bonnett by a member of the tournament committee, the results to be printed in these columns Monday morning. Post entries will be accepted Monday, although starting times will be assigned at the convenience of the starter.

Miss Anne Webster looms as the most dangerous opponent of the "big three," by virtue of her round of 90 yesterday, while Mrs. G. M. Midgley, Mrs. Dan Jones, Miss Ruth Killian and other players of note are entered.

Two big foursomes will tee off Wednesday afternoon in the qualifying round at Hollywood. Dr. Hunter, W. W. Campbell, Harlow Hurley and Jack Neville comprising one, while Willie Hunter, George Von Elm, Jack Tarrant and Frank Godchaux will make up the other. Godchaux will make up a Hollywood member, having resigned from Flintridge.

Roman Midget Eleven Trims Foothillers

Straight football sprinkled with a few passes in the first quarter gave the L. A. High lightweights a 13-to-0 victory over the Hollywood midgets at Hollywood yesterday afternoon. Coach Rich's eleven simply pulled end runs, off-tackle bucks and threw a few passes and went right down the field to touchdowns in the first few minutes of play. Moffatt, L. A. left half, was the power behind the un in most cases, pulling three long end runs in a row. Cohen, husky quarter, got away to some good gains on the ends of passes. The Roman line was clipping the Hollywood tacklers effectively, or the backs would never have gotten away.

The teams see-sawed up and down the field in the second and third quarter, neither uncorking anything sensational.

The final period was more exciting. Edwards, Hollywood half, intercepted a pass and dashed down the field for sixty yards before being stopped by the last Pioneer tackler on the fifteen-yard line. The Blue-and-White underslungs had the edge, making four first downs and twice going under Hollywood's 20-yard mark. The score:

Hollywood (0.)		L. A. High (13.)
Flamigan	L.E.R.	Stewart
Stevens	L.T.R.	Thomsen

PASADENA MERCHANTS TACKLE COLORED NINE

Loren Ury's Pasadena Merchants are all primed for their struggle with the St. Louis colored Giants, which takes place next Sunday afternoon at Goodyear Park. The Giants are a formidable lot, as they proved last week when they trounced Earl McNeely and the Glendale club, but Ury is counting on Sam Ross, his star southpaw, to stop the heavy-hitting colored squad.

Lefty Gurly will hurl for the Giants. As a host of Central-avenue fans and numerous Crown City rooters are certain of attending the game, a record crowd should be on hand. The game will mark the opening of the Southern California Winter League, of which both clubs are members.

CALTECH TO MIX IT WITH YE BULLDOGS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

REDLANDS, Oct. 30.—Football fans of Redlands will feast on Saturday when two games will be served up to them in one afternoon. The big dish will be the annual battle between the University of Redlands and Caltech. The two teams are believed to be fairly well matched and it should be a real struggle.

The curtain raiser will be a game between the University Bullpups, the freshman team, and the California Christian College. Los Angeles' newest college is putting out a pretty good team this year and the Bullpups will find the visitors all their young teeth can manage, it is believed.

"FLEET SPORTS"

This week-end will be a busy one at Troxa Field. This afternoon the elevens from the U.S.S. Idaho and U.S.S. California tangle in a game that has the interest of the entire Battle Fleet. Tomorrow afternoon the U.S.S. Nevada boys will play their first championship game of the season when they go up against the U.S.S. Oklahoma squad, while on Sunday the newly organized team of the flagship West Virginia will play its first Navy game against the U.S.S. Colorado aggregation. The Nevada is expected to have a tough session with the Oklahoma, but the West Virginia-Colorado game promises to be a scramble between two green teams.

With the approach of the fleet smokers for the annual all-fleet boxing and wrestling championships, three new mittslingers are showing unusual promise among the several hundred entries. First among them is Bull Malay, the heavyweight sensation of the U.S.S. New Mexico. Malay is on his first cruise aboard the force flagship but out of a total of seven fights he has won six, among them being victories over some of the toughest heavies in the San Francisco Bay region.

Another promising lad aboard the New Mexico is Viviano, lightweight champion of the Asiatic Fleet until he was transferred to the Battle Fleet recently. His toughest dish in the fleet finals will probably be Sailor Reed of the U.S.S. Idaho, vanquisher of Joe Fisher and who has been making a great name for himself this fall in various Southland boxing clubs.

The clean sweeps made at the Pacific Coast A.A.U. wrestling tournament at Hollywood by Jack Walton, 126 pounds, of the U.S.S. Idaho, and Louie Rich, 160 pounds, of the U.S.S. Pennsylvania, considerably strengthen chances of these two boys for the Battle Fleet belts. The Idaho, in particular, has a strong mat squad that is being whipped into shape by Ensign R. P. Carlsson.

Ensign R. S. Bertschy, basketball coach of the U.S.S. Idaho, has his squad hard at work every day in preparation for the fleet season, which opens next month. The Idaho five this year will be built around three of last year's stars: Bornheimer, center, and Shepard and Vento, guards.

The U.S.S. West Virginia's football squad will enter the fleet schedule next Sunday with two of the Naval Academy's 1924 stars in the line-up, Ensigns Cruise and Overesh.

BAY LEAGUE GRID TEAMS MEET TODAY

Feature Contest Between Venice and Santa Monica Elevens

Heavyweight teams representing the Venice and Santa Monica high schools will meet today on the Samohi gridiron in the skirmish to which they have been pointed the entire season. The big game of the year for the Bay District football fans is the meeting between these two schools.

Samohi rates higher in the percentage column than Venice because the latter school has played two tie games, which count as half a game lost and half won.

San Pedro, tied with Santa Monica for first place in standings to date, meets a sturdy opponent in Compton. The Comptonites are in fourth place in the varsity line-up, but are as strong as virtually any team in the circuit. Gardena is all primed for its fourth consecutive defeat by Huntington Park on the latter's field. Coach Badenoch's Inglewood Sentinels are picked to trample on the heavies from Redondo Beach. The Redondans are pitting their first unlimited squad in three years, and are therefore all new men.

White Kings Practice for Vernon Game

The White King Soaps spent yesterday afternoon at Washington Park practicing for their game with the Vernon Tigers, whom they meet at the Coast League park next Sunday afternoon.

The Soapsters have one of the strongest clubs in the Southland and spend two days of each week working out so as to be in perfect trim for their games, which takes place every Sunday. As the tilts are all played on a 60-40 basis, the White King players are seeing that they leave no stone unturned in order that they might win and get the big end of the money.

According to Manager Johnson the White King line-up for Sunday's game will be as follows: Jenkins and Thomas, catchers; Crandall, Payne and Jones, pitchers; Golvin, first base; Falk, second base; McAuley, shortstop; Murphy, third base; Arlett, Cox and Hood, outfield.

Beans Reardon and Jack Carroll will umpire Sunday's tilt.

MALONE GETS MATCH

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ST. PAUL (Minn.) Oct. 30.—Jack Malone, St. Paul middleweight, who lost to Mickey Walker at Newark, last night, has been matched to meet Morrie Schlaifer, Omaha, in a ten-round no-decision bout here November 10, it was announced today.

BANG AT QUAIL TOMORROW

Hunting Season Opens in State With Exception of Sections of Los Angeles County

The quail season, the last hunting in California this year will open at a half-hour before sunrise tomorrow morning, November 1, throughout the State, and with the exception of certain sections of Los Angeles county. The season will allow shooters to hunt for the mountain variety, desert and valley quail.

A limit of mountain birds is ten a day or twenty in one week, but never more than ten quail to be had on the person at one time. For the desert and valley quail, the limit is fifteen birds a day or thirty a week. The season is to remain open until January 1, except in district 1½, which takes in Humboldt, Del Norte and Siskiyou counties at the extreme northwest part of the State, and which closes December 15.

COVER GROUND

In a talk with Pete Peterson, the ol' reliable shooting authority at the B. H. Dyas Company, the ground in every detail on the coming hunting season was covered. It was learned that the local officials of the United States Forest Service had opened the Angeles Forest Reserve to travel, discharge of fire arms, the building of campfires on permit.

However, the ban on the discharge of firearms, campfires and smoking placed by the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors in mountain land, mountain range land and forest land as a protection against forest fires is still in force.

UNDER THE BAN

Therefore, unless this ban is lifted by tomorrow, hunters, who have planned to hunt in Los Angeles County will have to confine their shooting to the lowlands and valleys. Such old-time haunts where a limit usually was the order of the day including Boquet, Mint, Soledad and San Francisquita canyons come under the ban.

Other places are out of Redlands on the Imperial Valley road, where there will be found countless miles of acres of washes and desert land to hunt over. Upon entering Coachella Valley, the hunters will see the red head quail, or the desert species. The desert bird will be found by the thousands between Indio and Mecca.

KEEP OFF

However, shooters are warned to keep off of Indian reservations in the above mentioned locations. Out of Riverside, the hunter will find good hunting down to Perris and into Winchester country, clear to Cuyamaca Lake. But in this country there are many ranches and Indian reservations where no hunting is allowed and hunters should watch for the well-known signs. Another place is from Elsinore, south to Escondido in San Diego county.

Once more, Peterson as well as the officials at the local Fish and Game Commission want hunters to be safe and have their hunting license on their person.

"MUSHY" IS VICTOR IN MAIN TILT

Callahan Easily Trims Sailor Brett in Feature Event at C.P.O. Bouts

Mushy Callahan, the Los Angeles newsboy scrapper, was the big hit at the C.P.O. boxing bouts at Los Angeles Harbor last night. In the main event, Mushy won in every round from Sailor Brett of the U.S.S. Oklahoma. Callahan put his man to the floor in the first round, but the sailor refused to take the count.

Pico Ramies won over Frankie Osner of Oklahoma City in the semi-final. Pico had the better of the milling most of the way, and had Osner almost out in the first round. In the special Danny Toomey won in four rounds from Solly Love of Sacramento. Toomey won easily. Jack Lewis of New Orleans beat Kid Martin of Manila. Toward the end of the first round Lewis knocked Martin out cold with a right to the jaw.

Bobby Pierce, of the U.S.S. Seattle defeated Young Abragon of San Pedro in a four-round slugging match. Young Corbett of Los Angeles won in four rounds from Sailor Smith of the U.S.S. Arizona. Young Ridley knocked out Young Manuel of San Pedro in the first round. Dutch Wallenman refereed. A good-sized house witnessed a fine evening's entertainment.

BEAR-TROJAN GAME IS ON

tomobile in transporting the Santa Ana High School players around to their games.

This is the momentous question that has been passed up to President Campbell of the University of California and to President Von KleinSmid of U.S.C.

MARTIN BARRED

Definite action was taken in the case of L. L. Martin of the U.S.C. freshman team. He was declared to be ineligible upon the statement of the principal of White's School, which he attended, that he had not attended a full year and did not have the necessary grades to enter a university.

The cases of Jones and Wescott of the U.S.C. frosh and of L. A. Ferroggiaro of the California frosh was passed up to a vote of the members of the conference. It is likely a telegraphic vote will be taken.

Other cases were informally discussed, but no action was taken, nor was the name of any man so discussed included in the statement given out to the press.

Outside of the meeting it was told that U.S.C. had called attention to the fact that Ray Niswander, a guard on the California team, had played on an American Legion team at Selma and as some of the boys playing on the teams down in the valley were being paid, U.S.C. wanted to know how about it.

If Niswander's case was discussed at the meeting today the eminent deans and doctors who composed the board, made no mention of his name in the report they fixed up for the press.

The deans and doctors separated with expressions of satisfaction at the outcome of the conference and wishing each other all the compliments of the season.

But Bill Cole will not know whether or not he is eligible until after President Campbell and President Von KleinSmid have had their conference and the suspense may throw Big Bill off his feed and affect his game Saturday.

HORSE OWNER DIES OF SEVERE BURNS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

EL PASO (Tex.) Oct. 30.—Herbert ("Tke") Tullett, of San Ysidro, Cal., trainer for the Tam O'Shanter racing stable, and "Buck" Murray, assistant to Tullett, died in the El Paso County Hospital early today of burns received in a fire which originated in an express car in the El Paso union depot yards at 1 o'clock this morning.

LECKLIDER IN SPEEDY ASCOT SPIN

Pilot Turns in Fast Ten Laps While Practicing for Sunday Races

Fred Lecklider, noted Detroit racing driver, who first won fame in Los Angeles by defeating Ralph De Palma over Ascot Speedway the opening Sunday of George Bentel's thrill emporium, yesterday afternoon, removed all doubt which may have been in the minds of the practice followers that he has "slipped" since leaving Ascot for the East last April.

At the wheel of his No. 1 Miller eight-in-a-row racer, "eck" hung up the fastest ten-lap mark ever recorded over the course. One of the laps tied the one-lap speed mark for the track, being held jointly by De Palma and Sig Haugdahl. Lecklider's performance came as a climax to an afternoon of thrills during which the local drivers, Lockhart, Bergere, Schrader and Jack Logan, worked out their cars under the close scrutiny of the eastern brigade. Lockhart had traveled an exceptionally fast five laps and the crowd was about ready to go home when Lecklider trumbled his aluminum-finished Miller out on the course and got into action.

Although the other eastern drivers do not possess any particular love for Lecklider, all of them gave the Detroit youth a good hand and grinned over the discomfiture of the "home guard."

It was decided last night that qualifying trials will be held on Sunday morning. For the first time in the history of Ascot racing the starters in the Italian victory crown dash will be determined by speed trials. As twice the number of drivers allowed in such a race desire to compete for the crown, the fortunate ones will have to show a lot of speed to get the opportunity to face Starter "Babe" Doyle.

SPALDING GOLF CUP IS WON BY SCHLOSS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, Oct. 30.—The handsome handicap golf cup donated by the A. G. Spaulding Company has been won by O. W. Schloss. In the handicap play at the Kings County Golf and Country Club last Sunday, with thirty-two players entered, playing eighteen holes, Oscar Abbott, who won the president's cup last year, tied with Schloss, and in the final game Schloss won. Next Sunday a team from the Kings county club plays the Tulare Country Club, starting a "home-and-home" series for Central California clubs on the course at Strathmore.

With 15,000 baseball enthusiasts expected to journey to the Brea Bowl Friday to witness the game between the Anaheim Elks' team and a team composed of former major league stars, the Motor Transit Company will route all of its schedules between Anaheim and Los Angeles via Brea.

The game, which will be played under the auspices of the Anaheim Elks, the proceeds to swell the Elks' Christmas fund, will feature among other diamond stars of the first magnitude, Walter Johnson, who will pitch for the Elks, and Babe Ruth, who will play on the opposing team.

TRIO OF GAMES IN CONFERENCE

Oxy Tigers Entertain Poets in Feature Tilt

Grizzlies Take on Sagehens at Claremont

Redlands and Caltech Tangle on Baptist Grid

Southern California Conference teams, a bit out of the limelight these days because of the "Big Three" scandal, have been bearing down hard, nevertheless, for tomorrow's games will have a lot to do with determining which of the elevens is to carry off 1924 honors. Three games are billed and two of them will have a direct bearing on the championship.

The most important battle of the day features Occidental and Whittier, the clash to take place at Eagle Rock. Both teams are undefeated. The Quakers trimmed Caltech 7 to 0 and the local University of California 6 to 0. The Tigers trampled on Redlands, 28 to 0, and beat the Grizzlies 20 to 7. That's about how the two teams stand, a two-touchdown margin favoring the Bengals.

However, Coach Enck Perry's men will be in much better shape than previously, due to the addition of "Puss" Thompson and Al Madden. Thompson is a halfback, while Madden plays in the center of the line. The Quakers have shown little offensive ability to date and those who back the team claim that the absence of the two men named above has been responsible.

Pomona and the local University of California will hook up at Claremont. The Grizzlies have never defeated the Sagehens, but maintain that this is a good year to begin. Jimmy Cline's athletes gave Oxy a terrific battle of it last week and may be able to upset the Pomona team but such a thing is not likely. Coach Nixon probably won't start Borey Bell, the big halfback, who has been out with an injured leg, but Bell will be ready for action and that's a comforting thought to Sagehen supporters. Pomona should win but not without a he-man battle.

Caltech journeys to Redlands for a game with the Baptists. The outcome doesn't mean much for neither team has a chance at the title. Caltech should win by at least one touchdown, although the Baptists claim they have now hit their stride and will bump off the Engineers.

Glendale Wins Over Midgets From Alhambra

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ALHAMBRA, Oct. 30. — The Glendale lightweights defeated the Alhambra midgets, 5 to 0, in a Central League game here today. All of the Glendale points were scored in the last two minutes of play.

Alhambra put up a great defensive fight all through the game, but Glendale got a break in the last two minutes of play when Hughes's punt from behind his goal line was blocked. Hughes recovered the ball, but was down by Alhambra players for a safety, 2 points. Alhambra was then given the ball on its 30-yard line, but lost the pigskin when Glendale intercepted a pass. Lovell accounted for Glendale's other three markers with a place kick from the 30-yard line just before the game ended.

The line-ups:

Alhambra (0.)		Glendale (5.)
Funk	L.E.R.	Brooks
Doty	L.T.R.	Sturgess

Pirrone Park Scene of Big Scrap Sunday

Pirrone Park, located at Thirty-eighth and Hooper avenue, will be the scene of a big ball game next Sunday afternoon, for there the Eastern Colored Giants, the greatest negro nine ever to appear in Los Angeles, will tackle Pirrone's Major and Coast League All-Stars.

The colored club is composed of stars from the Philadelphia Hilldales and the Kansas City Monarchs, winners of the Eastern and Middle Western colored ball leagues, respectively, and has on its roster such players as Britt, hailed as the greatest colored player in baseball; Pullen, Merthel, McNair, Carr and others. Lonie Goodwin, manager of the Giants, announces that the Philadelphia part of the team will arrive this afternoon and will be greeted by a colored brass band. The Kansas City players pull into Los Angeles tomorrow morning.

Bob McGraw, Minneapolis star, or Lefty Cavet will hurl for Pirrone's club, with Pete Lapan, former Washington catcher, on the receiving end. Babe Herman, Boston Red Sox, Marvin "Red" Smith, Philadelphia Athletics; Carl Sawyer and other stars will play on Pirrone's crew.

The treasury of Great Britain has received $60,000 as the entertainment tax from productions of George Bernard Shaw's "St. Joan" in London.

LIONS FACE SANTA ANA J.C.

The strong Loyola Lions will attempt to chalk up another tally in their win column at the expense of the sensational Santa Ana Junior College grid performers, tomorrow afternoon, when they come together on the Loyola field.

Dope forbids the Lions to be overconfident of victory, as last week the pigskinners from the Windy City swamped El Centro Jr. College to the tune of 80 to 7. Rumors also have leaked out to the effect of their holding Whittier, Thursday, in scrimmage, for an hour before the Quakers were able to cross their goal line.

Judging by these indications, the morrow's battle should have all of the earmarks of a rip-snorting affair, especially considering that the Lions gave Caltech a world of trouble last Saturday.

TROJAN FROSH PRIMED

Local First Year Outfit Set to Give California Yearlings Real Battle at Coliseum Tomorrow

While their big brothers are defending the honor of the University of Southern California on the gridiron up north, the Trojan Babes will fight for prestige against California's freshman squad. The game is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock at the Coliseum tomorrow.

It is expected that a large crowd will witness the game, not only to see the classy brand of football dished up, but also in order to listen in on the play-by-play report of the varsity game at Berkeley. This feature will be announced over the loud speaker.

Coach Chet Dolley has developed a powerful machine which can be compared to last year's freshman squad, who went through the entire season undefeated. The present team is undefeated so far this season. They scored a decisive victory against Stanford's Babes last Saturday.

Ornatti will again lead the freshman team at quarter. In previous games he has proven himself one of the most capable men on the squad. Dolley will also start Galindo and Drury at half. With these two men in the backfield U.S.C. will have a strong driving power. While Drury is one of the best offensive men on the squad, Galindo is good on the defensive side. Williams, at full, completes the backfield.

The guard positions are to be filled by Yokum and Mulcahay, while Jones and Baldridge are to play tackle. Boren and Edwards have the end positions cinched.

Their are no serious injuries to the Trojan men. Drury will be forced to play with his special-made jaw protector. Williams has a sore shoulder, but will be all right for the game. Smith, who injured his knee in the Marine fracas, may get in at center. He hails from Lincoln High and was going big until injured.

Manual Arts Lightweights Are Victors

Manual Arts' 130-pounders kept themselves in the running for the city championship, when they hurdled the Lincoln obstacle by a 27-to-0 tally yesterday, on the Toiler gridiron. The Artisians showed lots of power both in the line, which outcharged and outplayed the Railsplitter forward wall throughout the game, and in the backfield, which hit the line and ran the ends for consistent gains.

The Artisans made their first touchdown near the end of the first quarter. The Railsplitters fumbled on the 5-yard line and Manual recovered. On the next play Spooner went over for a touch down. Rose failed to convert.

In the second stanza Dudley went in at Manual's left half for Rose. From then on he was the whole show, running the ends like a scared rabbit, and hitting the line like a ton of dynamite. He carried the pigskin almost continually from deep in his own territory, down the field to a touch down.

The third period was a repetition of the second with Dudley and Ridgley shoving over another score for the Toilers. It was in this stanza that Lincoln had their only chance to score. After taking the ball to the Toiler 2-yard line on end runs and passes, the Railsplitters tried a pass which went over the goal incomplete.

TODAY'S GAMES

San Bernardino at Pomona.
Chaffey at Riverside.

Thrills galore are on tap today for football fans in the Citrus Belt League, when the highly touted Pomona men and the Cardinal and Black of San Bernardino tangle at Pomona for the championship of the league. Riverside meets the green Chaffey team on her own field and is given the edge of twenty-one points on account of her win over Redlands last Friday.

San Bernardino has the heaviest line in the league averaging 163 pounds from end to end. However, Pomona is doped to win, but dope is just dope so San Bernardino may come out on the long end of the score. The Pomona men feel confident of victory, but overconfidence has been the downfall of more than one team.

HUSKIES ENTRAIN TO TACKLE OREGON

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SEATTLE, Oct. 30.—Thirty-three strong, the University of Washington football squad, undefeated this season to date, will leave here tonight for Eugene, Or., where Saturday it is to clash with the University of Oregon. The players packed their football togs after a light work-out today. Yesterday the Huskies were put through a hard scrimmage by Coach Enoch W. Bagshaw against plays Oregon used this year.

Twenty years ago today Washington defeated Washington State College at football here, 12 to 6, after a bitter struggle. The contest was a 6-to-6 tie until a Husky broke away and ran the length of the field for the winning touchdown just before the gun ended the game.

JUNIOR COLLEGES TO CLASH SATURDAY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 30. — State College and Riverside Junior College elevens will meet in the stadium Saturday in the principal gridiron game of the day in the local sector.

Only first and second-year men will be eligible to play on the State team against Riverside, because of conference rulings to which both institutions have subscribed. This will mean the absence from the line-up of Hancock, Russo and Ruffa, who are among the principal ground gainers of the home team.

Expect Strong Track Outfit at Oxy Again

Occidental's track prospects for the coming season are brighter than is generally expected after the graduation of Argue, Powers, Ellsworth, Spangler and Goodenough.

With a team that tied for freshman championship honors last year back in school, the outlook is bright for another championship team.

Among the men who are expected to help out the varsity this year are Gregg and Broadhead for the century and furlong who, in addition to Buckman and Nash, should make things hot for other conference teams.

For the quarter-mile there are Kelso, Shaw, Purser, Montgomery and Morey of last year's varsity. For the half-mile Oxy will have Bailey and Miller of last year's frosh, and Morey, Montgomery and Carter of the varsity.

In the mile there are H. Miller, Carter and D. Miller of the varsity. For the hurdles there are Shaver, Tanner and Wall. In the jumps there will be Shaver, Tanner, Bierer, Bradshaw and Nash. Nash intends to specialize in the broad jump this year.

Oxy's weakest events will be the pole vault and weights. Bowser, Donley, Ebers, Stevens and Conde are expected to pick up some points in these events. All in all, Oxy's track and field prospects are not nearly so dark as was generally expected by the graduation of so many point winners of last year.

TO HONOR CHANCE WITH A MEMORIAL

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Frank Chance, one of the great players and leaders of organized baseball, who died recently after a lingering illness, on the Pacific Coast, is to be honored with a fitting memorial to his skill as a player and his genius as a leader of the old-time pennant winning Chicago Cubs. It was so decided today by the board of directors, who met in annual session. The nature of the memorial has not been decided yet.

COMPETITION UP FOR DOCK HANDS

Shipping Board Stevedoring System to Change

Jobs to be Sought for Work on All Vessels

Matter Discussed at Parley With Independents

All stevedoring business with the Shipping Board, vessels in Los Angeles Harbor will be placed on a competitive basis, probably in about two months, it was indicated yesterday, following the first in a series of conferences between Shipping Board officials and representatives of local independent stevedoring companies. The conference was held yesterday in the office of E. E. Remsberg, local manager for the board. It was conducted by H. G. Saint of Washington, D. C., chairman of the committee on stevedoring and terminals appointed by F. W. Relyea, director of the board on the Pacific coast, from San Francisco. The change has been expected since the Shipping Board adopted the new managing-agency agreement several weeks ago, and in effect throws open all work for bids, whereas under the present method, the board's operating agents have placed all stevedoring work with their own subsidiary stevedoring companies.

Approximately a dozen stevedoring companies were represented at yesterday's meeting, where Mr. Saint explained the plan and the main points under which bids will be invited, as soon as proposals are received by the head office and approved.

It is understood the successful bidder may be awarded a year's contract for handling all stevedoring at Shipping Board vessels calling at this port. The private stevedoring companies which might be adversely affected by the change were represented by Stuthers and Parrish and by Swayne & Hoyt, operators of board vessels to South America and to the Orient.

LUMBER COMES FOR CATALINA ISLAND ORE

Two cargoes of silver-lead ore brought across the channel late in Catalina Island and the Bay Shore Lumber Company, which has a contract to supply lumber, brought the Williamson Company a check for $3000, it was announced yesterday. The ore, it is said, was mined on the island and will arrive from the mainland soon. Mr. Wright refuses to believe that the ore is valuable, that is, worth "assessments," said Mr. Patrick, but it does run into the mountains and the company is doing considerable drifting, sinking up three seams, the ore of light boiler. The "diggings" have been in operation since 1916, it is said, by Mr. Patrick, but it is expected that Mr. Wright

RISE IN COFFEE PRICE FORECAST

World Shortage Predicted by Local Merchant

Bankers Urged to Encourage Swine Raising

Von KleinSmid Speaks Before Bay City Financiers

When the coffee purchased under the present market conditions has been consumed, the public may well be prepared to pay several cents a pound more, because of numerous factors affecting the laws of supply and demand of the coffee industry, in the opinion of A. P. Lazarus, secretary and treasurer of Newmark Brothers, coffee wholesalers.

The natural assumption is that this increase in prices will take place when the 75,000 bags available to Southern California sufficient to supply the 3,500,000 persons living in this district for three months, has been consumed. While the advance may not be in one move, it eventually will attain a higher level, Mr. Lazarus said yesterday.

"The world during the fiscal year beginning July 1, last, and ending July 1, 1925, will be short 4,000,000 bags of the 22,000,000 bags it needs," the coffee market analyst estimated. "It is only because the product now is being sold below the replacement value that the present prices prevail," he added.

The adverse conditions entering into the prospective coffee shortage and price increase as given by Mr. Lazarus are of a widespread and complex nature.

EXPORTS RESTRICTED

First, they had to do with the recent revolution in Brazil. After the promulgation of a valorization scheme and the objects sought were attained, there followed a system of limitation or restriction of coffee shipments out of the port of Santos to a per diem basis of 35,000 to 40,000 bags a day. Thus, price control is absolute.

Second, there have been unfavorable climatic conditions in the form of a prolonged drought.

Third, because of the miserable financial condition of Europe in the past, coffee substitutes were resorted to and now these are being discarded, placing Germany, Italy, France and Scandinavia on a keen competitive basis with the United States.

Fourth, due to the inroads on production by insects, the entire crop of the island of Ceylon has been wiped out, and during the last six months losses from this source have been occurring in Brazil.

SELLERS ARBITRARY

Fifth, because of the existing small spot stocks in the United States sellers have adopted a more arbitrary attitude, knowing the grocer is in a vulnerable position.

Seventh, because European countries are offering 2 cents a pound more for coffee than is the United States.

Eighth, because labor in Brazil is tiring of the plantation life and is making higher demands.

Ninth, because the competition from other products, such as cotton, is causing growers to uproot their trees, which, on the whole, diminishes the future supply.

Tenth, because a large part of the Central American crop has been sold to Europe.

For these reasons Mr. Lazarus thinks a decline in the use of coffee is inevitable until an increased production leads consumption.

STATE LOSES PROFITS

J. A. McNaughton, vice-president and general manager of the Los Angeles Union Stock Yards Company, has sent a message to the California Bankers' Association membership urging them to encourage production of hogs in California. It follows in part:

"Hogs are now selling around 11 cents a pound on the Los Angeles market, and in the past three weeks of the 30,000 hogs which arrived at the yards less than a fifth came from California, the bulk being from Idaho and Colorado, with shipments coming from as far east as Kansas and Missouri. This means that for October, with nearly $500,000 worth of hogs sold through the Los Angeles market, California will receive about $50,000 of the proceeds. Throughout the year California furnishes even a less percentage than this of the hogs used at the various killing points throughout the State."

STORES' EARNINGS

Blair & Co., Inc. have been advised over their private wires of the following facts:

National Department Stores, Inc., for the six months ending July 1, 1924, earned $1,400,641 after deducting Federal taxes and money available for dividends. The company reported net sales totaling $34,153,244 for the period.

Net earnings of the Maxwell Motor Corporation, after deducting interest and depreciation for the three months ending September 30, last, were $1,321,653, and for the nine months ending September 30, last, were $2,296,094. The nine months' interest charges on the ten-year 7 per cent convertible sinking fund debentures recently issued amounted to approximately $262,500.

LUMBER LEAD RECOGNIZED

Dealers Hang Up Several Records in Distribution of Forest Products; Convention Here

BY EARLE E. CROWE

In testimony of the pre-eminence of Los Angeles as a lumber market, it seems fitting that the annual convention of the California Retail Lumbermen's Association should be held here this year. The lumber distributors in only New York and Chicago handled more lumber than the dealers in Los Angeles last year, and no other lumber port in the world approaches the volume that passes through Los Angeles Harbor. These tokens of leadership ought to lend weight to the story the Southern Californians can tell of the best methods to sell lumber.

Over 300 dealers from all parts of California are expected to attend the two-day convention which opens November 7 at the Biltmore, with C. W. Pinkerton of the Whittier Lumber Company presiding as president of the association. Authorities in all branches of the lumber and allied enterprises will discuss topics of interest to the trade.

HUGE AMOUNT SOLD

The lumber salesmen in Los Angeles were not as spectacular in their operations last year as the real estate men, but they did a colossal business that is continuing at approximately the 1923 rate. Measured in terms of the value of building permits, which rank third in importance in the United States, the lumber dealers form one of the most active business groups in Los Angeles. Their demand requires the services of about 110 lumber ships which ply in and out of the port each month.

In 1908 Los Angeles Harbor was the port of receipt for 442,595,160 board feet of domestic lumber. This amount soared to 1,169,475,383 feet in 1922 and 1,842,483,165 feet in 1923. Last year's receipts through the harbor were sufficient to build 154,243 five-room bungalows.

The feverish efforts of the Los Angeles dealers to obtain lumber to meet the demand has sent ships scurrying up and down the Pacific Coast, over to the Philippine Islands and down to Costa Rica, Guatemala and Nicaragua. Some of these points of origin have done nothing but supply the Los Angeles trade, and have worked at capacity to hold the market. Los Angeles money in turn has poured into these various regions in unestimated amounts.

Segregated into sections, the dealers estimate that 87 per cent of the domestic movement to Los Angeles came from Washington and Oregon, consisting largely of the Douglas fir or Oregon pine variety. Thirteen per cent consisted principally of redwood from the forests of Northern California near the port of Eureka. Hardwoods for finishing purposes came from the Philippines and Central America. Guatemala assumed the dominant position in this trade, shipping in 1923, a total of 350,000,000 board feet. Nicaragua sent 32,000 feet and the Philippines 5,000,000. For the seven months of this year, the Philippine lumbermen have sold 3,000,000 feet to the Los Angeles dealers, according to records compiled by H. Riddiford, secretary of the southern division of the California Retail Lumbermen's Association.

RAIL CARRIERS' FIGURES

While water carriers are handling the greater portion of the Los Angeles business because of the difference in rates and certain natural advantages, the railroads are reaping a satisfactory return from the lumber movement. It is estimated that nearly 800,000,000 feet moved to Los Angeles last year by rail from interior points in California, Washington and Oregon.

Certain industries associated with the lumber business because of a mutual interest in building activity have their places on the convention program of the Retail Lumbermen's Association. For instance, the cement producers report a production last year valued at $11,960,000, and the value of brick, tile and clay products totaled $18,688,561. The output of the furniture industry was valued at $24,018,875; fixtures, cabinets, $26,389,720; paints and varnishes, $9,343,531, and roofing, $4,500,000.

The relative importance of the lumber business and, in a small way, that of the local convention, is grasped from the total value of the annual production in the United States, and its proportion of the national income. Of the multitudinous activities reflected in the national income last year of $59,580,000,000, forest products accounted for $1,762,374,000, or fifth in the list. Agricultural crops were first; animal products, second; manufactures, third, and mineral output, fourth.

BRITISH BUSINESS GAINS

The British election campaign has had little effect on industry in Great Britain, the National Bank of Commerce in New York states in the November issue of Commerce Monthly, the Bank's magazine. The bank rejects the pessimistic reports as to the trend of developments and concludes that the condition of British industry as a whole is better than has been generally believed.

"Taking industry as a whole the volume of production and trade has made encouraging progress toward the level of 1913. For the year 1923 the average monthly output of coal was not far under the year 1913; the monthly output of pig iron although less than the 1913 monthly average increased 50 per cent over 1922; while the average monthly output of steel was in excess of the 1913 average. Profits of many of the large iron and steel companies were also greater than in 1913."

In regard to textiles the bank points out that the general condition of wool manufacturers in so far as reflected in the exports of the chief products appears to be not markedly below that of 1913, and that the cotton textile industry, although still notably below 1913 has shown substantial progress in 1922 and 1923 over the year 1921, and in the first six months of 1924 over the corresponding period of 1923.

"Moreover," the report states, "the British shipbuilding industry as a whole recently has shown signs of improvement. The gross tonnage under construction in the United Kingdom, according to Lloyd's figures, has increased from the recent low point of 1,371,000 tons at the end of the third quarter in 1923 to over 1,500,000 tons at the end of June, 1924. The June figure is the highest reached since the end of March, 1923. The tonnage launched in the June quarter is the largest in over two years.

"The decrease in unemployment and the improvement in foreign trade also indicate notable progress. Probably the greatest industrial problem with which Great Britain has had to cope in the post-war years has been unemployment. While it is true that in certain industries the number of unemployed is still large, by the middle of the present year the total number of unemployed among the workers covered by the Trade Union returns had been reduced to approximately 78,000 which is one-quarter of the number out of work at the peak, and the number of unemployed among the workers covered by the Unemployment Insurance Acts had diminished to 1,000,000 or to half the number of unemployed three years ago.

"The improvement indicated is even more impressive in view of the London Economists' estimate that there are about 1,000,000 more people available for employment in Great Britain than before the war, and that in normal times not far short of a half million workers would be on the register seeking employment.

"When we turn to the profits of leading industries it is found that for the most part a very fair return has been earned upon capital invested, and recent rate of earnings, if not as high as the prosperous year of 1913, has attained a percentage that compares fairly favorably with the average percentage of the immediate pre-war years. The reports appearing in 1923 show the net profits on the combined ordinary and preferred capital were 9.8 per cent and, after allowing for dividend payments, the companies were able to carry to reserve an amount equal to 2 per cent of the total capital. Again, the reports made during the first half of the present year show a continued improvement disclosing net profits equal to 10.1 per cent of capitalization and an amount carried to reserve equal to 2 per cent of capitalization."

NORTHERN BANKERS MEET

Dr. Rufus B. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California, yesterday addressed the San Francisco group of the California Bankers' Association on the subject of "America and World Contracts." The occasion was the regular fall meeting of the bank group. The address was delivered in the rooms of the San Francisco Commercial Club. Other speakers were J. R. Shuman of the firm of Morrison, Dunne & Brobeck, counsel for the California Bankers' Association, and Daniel J. O'Brien, Chief of Police of San Francisco.

BOND BUYERS LEAVE

Cliff R. Horne, secretary of Elliott & Horne Company, and Fred S. Baker, treasurer of the firm, left yesterday on a business trip to Central and Northern California cities. Mr. Horne and Mr. Baker, who have for many years done the buying for Elliott & Horne Company, will examine issues of bonds of various cities of 1925 offering.

EMPLOYEES PARTY

Employees of the California Bank, main office, 625 South Spring street, were guests Wednesday evening at a Hallowe'en party in the recreation room on the Twelfth floor of the California Bank Building.

COTTON IS SLUGGISH WITH SLIGHT DECLINE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Spot cotton closed at 24.10, off 10 points. Cotton contracts moved sluggishly in local trading today, with no movement of consequence. Scattered profit-taking by local traders combined with the lack of new purchasing resulted in a moderate decline. Cheerful trade news offset the reactionary effect of Liverpool's decline. The close was 7 to 11 points net lower.

HALF OF KERN COUNTY COTTON CROP GINNED

WASCO DISTRICT LEADS IN PRODUCTION; DELANO AND SHAFTER NEXT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 30.—According to ginners' reports a total of 9450 bales of cotton have been baled in Kern county for the season so far. It is estimated that this is close to half the crop, which is expected to total in the neighborhood of 20,000 bales, grown on between 17,000 and 18,000 acres.

Wasco district led the county with 3000 bales ginned up to Tuesday, and other points followed in this order:

Delano, 1700; Shafter, 1300; Magunden 1150; Lamont and Arvin, 1125 each; McFarland, 700, and Weed Patch 450.

The largest individual sale of cotton made by one grower this year was 278 bales by Wylie M. Giffen, of Fresno, who has a large acreage in the Weed Patch district. Giffen realized 24.65 cents a pound for his product, netting him more than $33,000 on the one sale.

Selling $3,595,000 Worth of Meat This Year

The California Dressed Beef Company is producing and selling meat and by-products at the rate of over three and a half millions of dollars worth annually. This Company, which was incorporated in 1921, is successor to a privately owned business which has been conducted under the same name since 1907, and is generally recognized as one of the most successful industries of its kind in the Southwest:

California Dressed Beef Company

First Mortgage 7% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds

The active management of the Company is in the hands of Mr. R. L. Bliss, who has guided its affairs since the inception of the original business in 1903. An insurance policy of $100,000 on his life has been assigned for the benefit of bond holders. The security behind the bonds is a first mortgage on property which has been conservatively appraised at $924,106.65. The bonds are exempt from all personal property taxes in California. Interest is payable without deduction for Normal Federal Income Tax not exceeding 2%.

PACIFIC-SOUTHWEST TRUST & SAVINGS BANK, LOS ANGELES, TRUSTEE

Application has been made to the Superintendent of Banks to have these bonds certified as legal investments for California Savings Banks, and they are offered subject to being so certified.

Mr. E. M. Wilson, President of the Company, summarizes from his letter to us the following salient features of this issue:

COMPANY In connection with the development and expansion of the steel business on the Pacific Coast, the Pacific Dock & Terminal Company, a Delaware corporation, was organized to hold certain waterfront property in Long Beach, California. The Company has already entered into contracts providing for the sale or lease with option to purchase of approximately 64.3 acres of excess property not required for its own corporate purposes for a total sales price of over $1,390,000, or more than twice the total amount of this bond issue. All these contracts have been executed by responsible parties, including Patten & Davies Lumber Company, Merritt, Chapman & Scott, Paul E. Walker and W. C. Goodhue, and Graham Bros., Inc.

SECURITY These bonds will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a direct first closed mortgage on the fee title to this property and | or by a first collateral mortgage through deposit with the Trustee of the first mortgages given by the purchasers to secure the payment of the balance of the purchase price of such tracts.

All of the property to be given as security for this bond issue has been appraised by Messrs. W. I. Hollingsworth and Frank Ryan of Los Angeles in excess of $1,800,000, or more than three times the total amount of this bond issue.

PAYMENT OF PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST The payments to be made under the first mortgages to be deposited with the Trustee will be made directly to the Trustee and applied by it to the payment of interest on these bonds and to pay the installments of the principal as they mature. Since none of the mortgages so deposited will run for more than three years and as all the purchasers are responsible financially, more than sufficient funds are definitely provided to amortize the entire bond issue, principal and interest. Any excess funds in the hands of the Trustee at any time will be used by it to redeem outstanding bonds by purchase in the open market or by call by lot from the latest maturities outstanding.

MANAGEMENT The affairs of the Company are in the hands of very competent men who are closely identified with the steel industry on the Pacific Coast. The Directors of the Company are E. M. Wilson, President of the Pacific Coast Steel Company, D. E. McLaughlin, Vice-President of the Pacific Coast Steel Company, T. T. C. Gregory, Edward Van Asmus and Donald MacDonald.

LEGALITY All legal proceedings incident to the authorization and issuance of these bonds have been under the direction of T. T. C. Gregory, Esq., for the Company and will be passed upon by Messrs. O'Melveny, Millikin, Tuller & Macneil, Los Angeles, for the underwriters.

Bondholders Policy of Title Insurance in the amount of $600,000 will be issued by the Title Insurance and Trust Company, Los Angeles.

Many people who intend to invest, merely speculate

THE fact that a very large percentage of all the money put into unsound "securities" by American investors, is utterly lost—many millions of dollars each year—emphasizes the urgent need for greater care and conservatism in the selection of investments.

We believe that any investor who will take even ten minutes to analyze the advantages of our GUARANTEED FIRST MORTGAGE CERTIFICATES will realize that here is a form of investment which offers unquestioned safety of principal and certainty of income, both of which are insured not only by the prime underlying security, but also by the guarantee of the strongest mortgage insurance company in the United States outside of New York City, with resources of $30,000,000.00.

Our descriptive booklet tells the story. Send for it by merely mailing your name and address.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Cheap Money Stimulates

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—An abundance of money at lower rates imparted a firm tone to the bond market today, although trading continued dull. Wall street's supply of funds was swelled considerably by the payments for the German loan, which fell due today, more than $160,000,000 flowing into the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co.

Distributions of the funds for deposit in other banks, treating large German balances here, is expected to accentuate the ease of money and so become an important factor of investment buying of bonds.

The situation was reflected to some extent today in steady accumulation of high-grade issues. Standard investment railroad liens, such as Atchison adjustment 4s, New York Central 6s, Union Pacific first 4s, and Northern Pacific refunding 6s and 8s "D" were in demand.

The influence of the Conservative victory in the British elections and the resultant rally in sterling was shown in the upward movement of United Kingdom's 5½s of 1929 and 1937, both of which sold around the year's highest levels. Liberty bonds and other foreign obligations were steady.

Public offering will be made tomorrow of $25,000,000 Brooklyn Edison general mortgage 5 per cent bonds around par. Another public utility issue offered at par consists of $7,500,000 Southeastern Power and Light Company five-year 6 per cent notes. Offering of 100,000 shares of Standard Power and Light Corporation preferred stock is being made at $100 a share.

Following are yesterday's high, low and closing prices of bonds on the New York Stock Exchange, and the total sales of each bond. This market is more completely reported when quick transmission the deadline is reached when it is the same as the low, and both low and close are omitted when they are the same as the high.

NEW YORK CURB

Prairie Oil Drops

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Speculative interest in today's curb market in Prairie Oil and Gas, based on official information of a temporary reduction in dividends, and the payment of the September dividend in 10 points to 132 and then eased off to 131.

Oils held relatively steady in view of Prairie's sharp reaction.

Radio A-Corp showed little change. Proof-Elsemann Fielding further on profit taking.

Following are the closing quotations on the New York Curb, furnished by Logan & Bryan, members of the New York Stock Exchange, 615 South Spring street:

MANUFACTURES CHIEF EXPORTS

Great Gain in Shipments Abroad Noted

Yankee Industry Increases Foreign Material Use

Silk Comprises Bulk of Raw Commodities Utilized

Manufactures are the chief factor in the growth which the exports of the United States are making in the calendar year 1924. Latest official reports indicate that the exports of the calendar year, which ends in sixty days, will exceed those of the preceding year by nearly $200,000,000, and be practically double those of the year preceding the war.

Of this prospective gain of about $200,000,000, when compared with 1923, manufactures alone seem likely to form the largest share. They totaled $1,477,000,000 in the eight months ending with August, the latest detailed figures available, against only $1,369,000,000 in the same months of the preceding year, and formed 56 per cent of the total domestic merchandise exported, against 46 per cent in 1922, 48 per cent in 1919, and 35 per cent in 1900, 31 per cent in 1890 and 15 per cent in 1880.

The prospects are that the total value of manufactures exported in the calendar year 1924 will approximate $2,200,000,000, compared to $1,100,000,00 in the fiscal year 1914, making the total of manufactures exported this year exactly double that of the year preceding the war, three times as great as in 1910, and four times as great as in 1900.

TIN IMPORTS LARGE

Curiously, too, comments the Trade Record of the National City Bank of New York, which presents these figures, the biggest growth in the exports of manufactures occurs in articles composed of foreign materials. Taking the exports of silk manufactures as an example, they totaled $9,541,000 in the eight months ending with August, 1924, against $7,835,000 in the same months of last year, and the silk from which they are manufactured is brought in large share from the opposite side of the globe, chiefly China and Japan.

Tin plate, for which the tin utilized in the manufacture comes largely from the Malayan Peninsula and the Dutch East Indies, totaled $14,450,000 in the eight months ending with August last, against but $5,282,000 in the corresponding months of the preceding year, and the prospects are that the total of tin plate exported in 1924 will approximate $20,000,000, against $4,500,000 ten years ago and less than $1,000,000 twenty years ago.

RUBBER SHARE BIG

Manufactures of India rubber, which comes chiefly from the opposite side of the globe, are likely to total $40,000,000 in the export trade of 1924, against $12,000,000 in 1914, and $5,000,000 in 1900.

The increasing use of foreign material by the manufacturers of the United States is illustrated by the fact that the importation of raw material for use in manufacturing seems likely to approximate $1,200,000,000 in the calendar year 1924, against $633,000,000 in 1914, $274,000,000 in 1900, and $170,000,000 in 1890.

PRODUCE MARKET IN SAN FRANCISCO

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—Prices on mineral and inkay grapes were declining under Bulletin demands today. With very light receipts, prices were developing considerable strength and fancy stock sold upward to $2 per box. Late canning varieties, which just arrived on the docks, are being offered at higher prices.

Apples, 50@75 cents per box; Bartletts, 75@95 cents; figs, 1.50; raspberries, 10@45; blackberries, 50@ 75; huckleberries, 14@17.

Cantaloupes, 1.50@2.00.

Cranberries, Cape Cod, 17.00@17.50 per barrel; Oregon, 7.00@7.50 box. Grapes, muscatels, large lugs, 1.40@1.50; Malagas, 1.60@1.75 large lug; Muscats, 2.25@2.35 large lugs; tokays, 1.75@2.00 large lugs; 85@1.25 crate; corinthians, 1.75@2.25 lug; table grapes, 1.50@2.00 lug; Emperors, 65.00@85.00; white varieties, 55.00@ 80.00.

Lemons, 5.00@6.00 box; choice, 4.00@4.50; immaculates, 3.00@3.50 box.

Grapefruit, 4.50@4.75; Arizona seedlings, 4.00. Persian, 2.50@3.75.

Green beans were weaker with a slight deterioration in quality. Heavy arrivals of tested garden peas from Washington were responsible for declines in prices with fancy rounded stock selling from 1.50@1.65 per cwt. at the wharves. The quality of the local tomatoes was hardly satisfactory.

Beans, Kentucky Wonders, 6@8 cents pound; garden and Sieva limas, 5@10; Limas, New York, 7@8.

Celery, local, 2.50@3.65 crate.

Peppers, bleaching rivers, 1.00@1.75 cwt.; Washington, 1.50@2.00 cwt.

Squash, Italian, 1.50@1.75, L. A. type; summer, 1.25@1.75 large lug; cream, 75@1.00; hubbard, 1.50@1.75 cwt.

Tomatoes, local, 75@1.00; large lugs fancy stock, 1.00@1.25 large lug.

Potatoes, flour, 2.00 quarter sacks; wheat, 2400 carsacks; potatoes, 1300 sacks; onions, 600 sacks; bar, 90 tons; hides, 1747 in number; lambs and sheepskins, 650 bales; live stock, 2136 head. Hay and grain unchanged.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Indicating that the declaration of a 2 per cent extra dividend had already been discounted, the stock of the Los Angeles Investment Co. advanced only 1 cent to a final price of 3.83 in yesterday's market on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. Moderate activity was present in the stock during both sessions.

Buckeye Union preferred was the feature of the oil list on a 5-point jump to 20, probably in response to plans for the development of the company's Texas lease. Standard of California acquired 1-4 of a point at 53 1-4, and Holly Development dropped 1 cent to 1.09. Union Oil Associates and Union of California were both active traders, the former selling at 59 and the latter at 132.

Oatman United sold at 15½ and Virginia Louise at 3 cents. Gold Dust was in demand at 4½ and Tom Reed at 20 cents. In the public utility list Edison common was taken at 99 1-4 and Southern Counties Gas preferred at 101, up ½.

SEARS ROEBUCK PERFORMS WELL

Mail Order Stock Touches Record High

Firm Steel Tone; Republic Gains Slightly

Sugars Slip Again; Money is Quoted Lower

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Stock prices developed moderate strength on a slightly increased turnover in today's market. Net gains in the popular rails and industrials ranged from small fractions to 2 1-2 points. Sears Roebuck was the individual feature, soaring more than 6 points to 121 5-8, its highest price in four years.

Buying for both accounts was influenced by the overwhelming victory of the Conservative party in the British elections, which also accounted for the unusually heavy demand for sterling exchange, which was carried above 4.52 to the highest price since last August.

Steel shares developed a slightly better tone, United States Steel common moving up about a point to 108 1-8, and Republic gaining 1 1-2. American Can was the strongest feature among the so-called pivotal shares, showing a net gain of more than 2 points at 133.

Rails were mixed but mostly higher. Atlantic Coast Line advanced 2 1-2 points, and gains of a point or more were recorded by Union Pacific, "Katy" preferred "A", Missouri Pacific, New Orleans, Texas and Mexico, and Pittsburg and West Virginia "rights," the last named touching a record high at 11. American Tobacco touched another new top at 166 3-4, up 1-2.

Fresh weakness cropped out in the sugar shares, American Sugar Refining common and preferred establishing new 1924 lows at 36 and 77, respectively.

Except for the buoyancy of sterling and the sale of Canadian dollars at a slight premium, there was little of interest in the foreign exchange markets. French francs continued to rule just below 5 1-4 cents, and the other European rates showed only nominal changes.

Call money fell back to 3 per cent, reports being current that proceeds of the recent German loan were being temporarily employed in the call money market. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Prairie Oil to Cut Par Value; Market Gossip

Stock market gossip received yesterday over the private-wire systems of E. F. Hutton & Co., and A. A. Housman & Co., follows:

Prairie Oil and Gas proposes an increase of capital from $60,000,000 to $70,000,000, and plans to change the par value from $100 to $25, exchanging one old share for four new ones. Five million of the new stock will be sold to employees on a partial-payment plan.

Savage Arms declared regular quarterly dividend of 1 3-4 per cent on first and 1 1-2 per cent on second preferred. For the quarter ended September 30, earnings on the common stock were equal to $1.94 a share, compared to $2.13 for the third quarter of 1923.

American Metals declared regular quarterly dividend of 75 cents on common and $1.75 on preferred. Common payable December 1 to stock of record December 1, and preferred payable December 1 to stock of record November 20.

United States Cast Iron Pipe declared an extra dividend of 1 per cent on the preferred, payable December 15 to stock of record December 1.

Regular quarterly dividend of $1 declared on White Motors, payable December 31 to stock of record December 20.

Regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 on Nickel Plate common and preferred, payable January 2 to stock of record November 15.

Daily Average Oil Production Drop Keeps Up

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The daily average gross crude oil production of the United States decreased 12,850 barrels for the week ended the 25th inst., totaling 1,957,750 barrels, according to the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute. The daily average production east of California was 1,356,955 barrels, a decrease of 9900 barrels. California production was 600,750 barrels, a decrease of 2750.

Daily average imports of petroleum at principal ports for the same period were 78,571 barrels, compared with 210,000 for the previous week. Daily average receipts of California oil at Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports for the week were 130,286, compared with 73,143 for the week before.

There were no changes reported in crude oil prices for the major districts. Midcontinent was quoted at 75 cents to $1.25 a barrel, according to the gravity of the oil; Pennsylvania crude, Bradford district, $2.85 a barrel, all other grades $2.75; Gulf Coast oil, grade "A," $1.25; grade "B," $1.05, and California crude ranged from $1 to $1.40, according to the gravity of the oil.

MARKET REVIEW

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Among today's financial markets London was easily the focus of attention. Emphatic advances which the cables reported on the London Stock Exchange and the 2-cent rise of sterling exchange to the highest rate since the middle of August, may have possessed the most interest for our market from the fact that New York also will have election results of its own to "discount" five days hence.

Today's Wall-street stock market hardly departed from its recent perfunctory swing of prices back and forth. This time the market as a whole rose fractionally, but it merely recovered the average decline of the two or three preceding days and movements of any scope occurred, as usual mostly in isolated stocks which had little to do with the general trend.

This moderate recovery on the New York Stock Exchange may have had some relation to the call money market, which today settled down again at the 3 per cent minimum, with the recent tentative rise in rates on six months' loans abruptly canceled. The Federal reserve's weekly statement possibly threw some light on the money situation. Rediscounts at the New York Reserve bank increased moderately, no doubt as a result of the deficit in reserve reported by the city banks last Saturday, but with the twelve reserve banks taken together, bills discounted actually decreased. At the same time the New York banks took $24,618,000 bills from the open market and the rest of the system $21,127,000. As a matter of course such purchases help automatically to ease the money market.

The rapidity of today's rise on sterling was doubtless a response to the unexpected magnitude of the Conservative victory in

MATE SAYS DECREE DID NOT "TAKE"

Rancher Declares Wife is Unable to Live Without Organist She Gave Up

After Mrs. Mabell Somerville had gone to a great deal of trouble to rid herself of her former husband, Ray aHstings, church organist, a little more than a year ago, she found out that she could not do without him. Alfred B. Somerville, rancher, declared in a suit for divorce filed yesterday.

It was only July 21, last, that their wedding took place, the day following the entry of Mrs. Somerville's final decree of divorce from Hastings, according to the complaint.

By September 21 the situation had developed to such a point that they separated, Somerville said.

In the meantime Mrs. Somerville had continued to meet and associate with Hastings, had continued to use her former name of "Mabell Hastings," and had been addressed by Hastings in various letters as "Dear Love," according to the complaint, which was prepared for Somerville by Attorney S. S. Hahn. When he remonstrated, he said, she told him she did not care to go by his name.

Trouble started immediately following their wedding last summer, the complaint recited, with the bride's refusal to live with her new husband. She held out for seven weeks, and as a matter of fact they lived together only two weeks between their marriage and separation, Somerville related.

Mrs. Somerville's divorce from Hastings, in which the formal charge was desertion, attracted considerable attention while it was before the Superior Court because of the prominence of Hastings, then organized of the Temple Baptist Church, Somerville, among other interests, owns a fox farm in Alaska.

SUSPECT IN SLAVE CASE SENTENCED

Man Who Advertised for "Companion" Given 180 Days in Jail

J. C. Nottage, whose subtly worded newspaper advertisements for a "companion" caused his arrest on suspicion of white slavery, was sentenced to 180 days in jail yesterday by Police Judge Richardson on a charge of vagrancy.

He was arrested Monday at his room at 304½ Temple street by Detective Lieutenant Lane and Policewoman Lulu Ditters after the latter had answered the advertisement signed Mrs. J. C. Nottage. Nottage is asserted to have made advances to Miss Ditters when she asked for information concerning the duties of a "companion."

A further investigation of Nottage's asserted activities is being conducted by police. Nottage, according to Detective Lane, has a wife and five children in Providence, R. I.

GAS HEATER EXPLOSION LIFTS ROOF

Apartment-House Badly Damaged and Occupants Have Narrow Escape

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Oct. 30.—Several persons miraculously escaped serious injury, the automobile of an unknown motorist was partially wrecked by a flying timber, the chimney and a section of the roof of a house was torn away, and an impromptu card party was rudely interrupted when a gas heater exploded in an apartment-house at 10 Avenue 19 this morning. The explosion occurred in a bathroom of a rear apartment on the second floor, occupied by Mrs. Katherine Kroeger.

Mrs. Kroeger, according to her report, had turned the heater on and was engaged in housework in the front of the apartment when the blast occurred. No one was in the rear of the apartment at the time. The small boiler attached to the heater threw streams of boiling water in all directions. The adjoining rooms were deserted at the time the accident took place.

Several women in a lower apartment who had gathered for a game of cards were thrown into a panic when plaster, pictures and bits of statuary were thrown about the room. All escaped without serious injury.

According to police who investigated, bits of flying timber, hurled from the room in which the explosion occurred, which was separated from the main building by a passageway connecting it, went flying a distance of several hundred feet. A heavy rafter was responsible for the damage to the adjoining house. The machines of several motorists traveling the Speedway were struck with shingles and small pieces of wood. A heavy beam is said by police to have caved in the top of a car of a motorist whose name was not obtained. An approximate loss of $2000 will be sustained as a result of the accident, it was asserted.

REYNOLDS FUNERAL TO BE MONDAY

Widow Was Descendant of Early Governor of Massachusetts

Funeral services for Mrs. Frances Mariah Bradford Reynolds, a direct descendant of William Bradford, an early Governor of Massachusetts and a cousin of Oliver Wendell Holmes, will be conducted Monday at 10:30 a.m., at the family home at 1645 South Wilton Place. Mrs. Reynolds died Wednesday night at her home. Services are being delayed until the arrival of a son from New York.

She was the widow of the late Merrick Reynolds, and had lived in Los Angeles for more than fifty years, the last eighteen of which was at the Wilton Place address. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Cecil A. Grigsby of Redlands, and two sons, Merrick Reynolds, Jr., and George W. Reynolds, who is on his way from New York.

Final Action on Picture Consolidation Delayed for Detail Study

Pending the arrival of Charlie Chaplin's attorney from the East, decision on important matters affecting the so-called merger of the United Artists and members of the Joseph Schenck motion-picture organization is being held in abeyance, it was announced yesterday.

A series of conferences has been held on the subject of the merger and considerable progress has been made, it was said. Final action on the entire program, however, is not expected until another week or so, at least. Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford, Joseph M. Schenck, Charles Chaplin, and Hiram Abrams, president of the United Artists, were among those who attended yesterday's conference.

WOMAN HEALER WINS RIGHT TO NEW TRIAL

Vivian Walker of San Diego won her appeal here yesterday before the Second District Court of Appeal, Division 2, for a new trial following her conviction in the San Diego Superior Court of obtaining money under false pretenses. Mrs. Walker was accused of obtaining $1500 from Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Elgin for a partnership in her business as a healer. Justice Works in his decision declared the trial court committed several errors. Chief among these, the judge pointed out, was that a badly-crippled man, said to have been treated by Mrs. Walker without success, was allowed to testify with the aid of his wife although he could not talk or make any visible signs of communication.

JUDGES GUESTS AT MERCHANTS' DINNER

Judges of the Superior Court were guests of the Retail Merchants' Credit Association at a Halloween dinner last night at the Alexandria. Judge Harry R. Archbald spoke on "Commercial Law Applied to the Retail Store" and Judge Frank C. Collier spoke on "A New Law Pending of Vital Interest to Merchants." A number of out-of-town guests were present.

HOPE SEEN FOR LIFTING POWER BAN

Recent Rainfalls May End Curtailment in About Six Weeks

Possibility that electric-power curtailment may be abandoned before the middle of December, as scheduled, was presented yesterday in the encouraging results reported to Power Supervisor Butler on the recent rainfall.

Supervisor Butler said that more than an inch of rain fell in the territory from which the Southern California Edison Company generates its hydroelectric power and as a result the company yesterday more than doubled its electrical output generated from this source.

The Edison company had averaged only 900,000 kilowatt hours daily from water-power plants up to yesterday, he said, but the production yesterday jumped to approximately 2,000,000 kilowatt hours.

It was pointed out by the Supervisor that the increased activities of hydroelectric units yesterday allowed the Edison company to rest up its steam generating plants and put them in shape for any additional work that may be required in the future.

WHAT IS A COLUMBARIUM?

California Mausoleum Company Has Established One at Hollywood Cemetery—Described in New Booklet.

A Columbarium is a vault for cinerary urns. When used in the plural, Columbaria, the word means the niches in such a vault. In its beautiful Mausoleum at Hollywood the California Mausoleum Company has erected a Columbarium, of plate glass and marble, in the niches of which exquisitely executed bronze urns are placed holding the ashes of those whose bodies have been cremated.

Many persons now prefer cremation to ground burial, and some even to crypt entombment. Fitting and permanent disposition of the ashes of a loved one who has passed away is often a problem. To scatter such ashes to the four winds seems heartless to some; and where to keep them, safe and undisturbed, and permanently and reverently cared for, is a difficulty.

The Columbarium provides a perfect solution to this problem. The ashes are placed in artistic bronze urns—in which there is a wide variety of choice as to design—as also price. These urns are then put in marble-lined niches, faced with beveled plate glass and solid bronze frames. It is a permanent resting place; the ashes need never be disturbed. The Columbarium is in the Mausoleum, forms a part of it, and receives the perpetual care which the Mausoleum system of procedure supplies. The owner of a niche has all the advantages of the owner of a crypt in the Mausoleum—a magnificent marble corridor with beautiful peaceful surroundings, in this enduring, stately building, which can be visited at any time.

A new booklet treating of the Columbarium by word and picture has been issued, which is free for the asking. Phone MAin 1534, or address the Offices of the Company, 206 Harris Bldg., 110 West 11th St. —[Advertisement.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.—[Advertisement.

THE WEATHER

[Official Report]

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, Oct. 30.—[Reported by H. R. Hersey, Meteorologist.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 30.10; at 5 p.m., 30.12. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 52 deg. and 61 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 83 per cent; 5 p.m., 61 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., north, velocity 1 mile; 5 p.m., west, velocity 9 miles. Temperatures, highest, 70 deg.; lowest, 50 deg. Rainfall for season, .63 of an inch; last season to date, .53 of an inch. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—The area of low pressure which brought general rains over the Pacific Slope Wednesday and Thursday moved somewhat rapidly eastward, and covers the country from the Rocky Mountains to the Mississippi River. It caused rain Wednesday at many stations in the Rocky Mountain country, and under its influence the temperature rose quite decidedly in the Missouri and Middle and Upper Mississippi valleys. In Southern California partly cloudy, unsettled weather prevailed Wednesday, with showers in some localities. It was clear and cool yesterday morning at all points. Fair weather with moderate temperature may be expected in this vicinity today.

SUN, MOON AND TIDES.—Los Angeles, Oct. 31: Sun rises 6:13 a.m., sets 5:01 p.m. Moon rises 9:52 a.m., sets 8:25 p.m. Los Angeles Harbor, Oct. 31: High tide, 10:53 a.m.; low tides, 4:56 a.m. and 6:26 p.m.

LOCAL TEMPERATURES.—Minimum and maximum temperatures from Southern California points, reported yesterday to the Los Angeles office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, were as follows:

OIL DEFENSE OPENS WITH MINES CHIEF ON STAND

Foster Bain Tells of Handling Details of Contracts; Counsel Cites Legality Conference

Counsel for Doheny oil interests questioned H. Foster Bain, director of the United States Bureau of Mines in the Interior Department, in great detail in the United States District Court yesterday afternoon in an effort to show that the War and Navy departments' policy of handling naval oil reserves and of building a naval oil base at Pearl Harbor, Oahu, resulted from the most ordinary course of events in government affairs.

The government is in court asserting that contracts and leases granted Doheny by the department in 1922 resulted from illegal collusion and fraud, and is asking the court to cancel them.

Bain was the defense's first prominent witness and he was on the stand the entire afternoon.

H. Foster Bain

GOVERNMENT RESTS

The government rested its case shortly before noon yesterday. It examined twenty-one witnesses, the court clerk's record books, etc. The government had subpoenaed forty-five twice that number, but James J. Roberts, chief of government counsel, said it merely wished to have them available.

He testified that his first conversation with the handling of the reserves was in the summer or early fall of 1921 when Secretary of the Interior Fall called him and A. W. Ambrose, chief petroleum technologist for the bureau, for a conference.

Bain said that Rear-Admiral Robert Edison, chief of the Navy's Bureau of Engineering, was present.

The conference, according to Bain, had to do with the manner in which the California and Wyoming reserves was being drained by wells on adjacent private property. Bain said that his bureau advised that immediate steps be taken to issue boundary strips for the purpose of drilling offset wells. This was agreed, and, Bain said, Ambrose was instructed to arrange for the exchange of royalty oil from the reserves for fuel oil for the Navy. From that time forward, he testified, a greater and greater share of the work devolved upon the bureau. Bain said he first heard of the proposal to build a naval oil base at Pearl Harbor, Oahu, at or about the time of the conference.

SEEK STORAGE DESIRE

Then came the question in the Interior Department, according to Bain, as to whether the oil should be used for fuel oil for merely the purpose of storage and that developed that the Navy wished to have considerable fuel oil stored and that this involved the exchange of royalty oil for construction work. Secretary Fall told me to prepare plans for carrying out the wishes of the Navy in the matter," Bain said.

Bain said it was he and Assistant Secretary Finney who, called on J. Cotter, of the Doheny Interests, and requested the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company, a Doheny company, to bid on a proposal whereby fuel oil would be exchanged for Pearl Harbor storage facilities and the contents thereof. Bain said that Admiral Robison also had a letter from Edward L. Doheny, then the Pan-American company would bid for such a contract if immediate issuance of the Naval Petroleum Reserves Act could be obtained.

Edward Duran, president of the J. G. White Engineering Corporation, another whom Bain said he called into conference in the matter, it was Bain himself, according to his testimony, who suggested to the Pan-American company that it connect with the White company for such a contract as would provide for the construction of

GAY HALLOWEEN ON BILL

Unity of Good Clean Fun Scheduled for Old and Young; Warning Issued on Destruction

Buckle your hobgoblins for a mystic moment while we make a few comments on the Vigil of Hallowmas. Professor, sound an owl chord, say for example, Danse Macabre. The idea of all this talk is bearing on the preparations in Los Angeles for a lot of good, old-fashioned Halloween fun tonight.

The kids of today, and their elders, too, are getting a thrill and a half out of the same spooks, ghosts and witches that curdled the marrow of their pagan ancestors in the firelit nights of primitive ritual. And later on in the evening there was a bonfire affair, boisterous and unrestrained. On this occasion, Saman, the lord of death, used to have his say for all the picked souls that had been condemned within the last twelve months to inhabit the bodies of animals.

Although the last few years the celebrations have begun to steal the glamour of Halloween gayety, making it a twin affair with New Year's Eve. And that's the program for tonight in Los Angeles, judging by the preparations for parties, dances, dinners, and general tomfoolery around town.

Right now a word of caution in the form of a friendly plea by the Chamber of Commerce, Realty Board and civic organizations: Have a good time but don't destroy property! They have estimated that the city suffers an annual loss of about $125,000 by the tactics of Halloween hoodlums.

There are a flock of snappy events on the card for tonight, one of the most lavish being scheduled at the Biltmore, where a dinner-dance and a fete of mystery will keep the guests awake. The ballroom and foyer have been decorated in a scheme of orange and black designed by Loraine De Witt.

A high light will be a novelty radium dance by Ann Carson and a stack of ballet girls attired in burlesque witch costumes. Their bodies will be coated with phosphorus and they will carry mechanical black cats. The affair is being sponsored by the Overseas League. Miss Vashti Marshall, daughter of the late Clifton Marshall, who was president of the Denver and Rio Grande Railway, will be in charge of program.

Rosecrans Sons of Veterans' Auxiliary will give a Halloween party and masquerade at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wilson, 926½ Valencia street tomorrow night.

ANTICRIME BODY PLANS YEAR'S TASK

Commission Sees Necessity of Vigorous Campaign to Combat Crook Influx

The Crime Commission of Los Angeles yesterday conducted a special meeting at the Alexandria and formulated definite plans for the ensuing year.

A broad and comprehensive program based on a policy of constructive law enforcement was outlined. In view of the approaching winter season, with a probable influx of Eastern crooks, it was felt to be vital that an unusually vigorous campaign be conducted during the next few months for the protection of life and property in Los Angeles.

The police department, the District Attorney, the Sheriff's office and other law enforcement agencies will receive the active assistance and co-operation of the Crime Commission in whatever efforts they may make to improve conditions, it was announced.

HELD AS DRUG SELLERS

Charged with selling morphine, Jose Posas and Jose Duran, Mexicans, were arrested yesterday at Ord and Castelar streets by Federal Narcotic Agents, Roberts, Bright and DeSpain. Arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Long, they waived preliminary hearing and their bail was set at $5000 each, pending action of the Federal grand jury.

Presbyterians Install Pastor at San Pedro

Rev. Martin Luther Thomas was officially installed in the pastorate of the Presbyterian Church at San Pedro, Los Angeles Harbor, last night.

Dr. G. A. Briegleb, moderator of the Synod of California, presided and delivered an address. Dr. Walter E. Edwards of Glendale delivered the charge to the people, Dr. W. G. Mills of St. Paul's Church delivered the charge to the pastor-elect, and Dr. John Hunter, secretary of the Bible Institute, read the Scripture and offered prayer. Dr. Henry T. Babcock, associate executive secretary of the Los Angeles Presbytery, propounded constitutional questions.

Mr. Thomas left his pastorate at the Deerfield Presbyterian Church, Chicago, because, he said, he was "tired of fighting the devil in his own stamping ground." And he was coming out here because Los Angeles was the brightest spot in Christendom.

NEW SHIFTS ARE MADE IN POLICE JOBS

Asst. Capt. Bean Promoted to Head of Homicide Squad Following Shake-up

Echoes of the recent police shake-ups were heard at Central Police Station yesterday when two appointments were announced by Assistant Chief Jackson.

Asst. Capt. J. F. Bean was made head of the homicide squad. This is the post from which Asst. Capt. Herman Cline was recently shifted, first to University station and later to Los Angeles Harbor. Asst. Capt. Bean has been in the detective bureau fifteen years and was one of the first detectives assigned to the homicide squad. Lately, he has been assigned to the hotel and boarding house detail.

Detective Lieutenant E. D. Mortenson was assigned to head the pawnshop and second-hand store detail with the title of acting assistant captain. Asst. Capt. Charles Vernand was recently transferred from this post to University station.

The same orders brought about the transfer of Detective Lieutenant Richard Lansing to the Hollenbeck Heights division. The appointments and transfer take effect tomorrow.

HOTEL GUESTS ROBBED

A burglar invaded the room of Martin Herstron and A. H. Radelsky of Denver, at the Van Nuys Hotel yesterday and stole $450 from Herstron's clothing, according to a report to police. He got out again without waking either man, it was said.

FLYERS GET FINAL PURSES

Congressman Fredericks Makes Presentation at KHJ Studio as Southland Listens In

In the presence of an invisible audience larger than that which greeted the world flyers on their triumphant return to Clover Field last September, Congressman Fredericks made final payment to them last night at KHJ, The Times radio station, of the appreciation fund raised by the citizens of Southern California. The checks were signed by J. A. Graves, president of the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank of Los Angeles, treasurer of the fund.

All told, the total turned over, including the $6000 in gold paid as a first installment at Clover Field on the day of the flyers' arrival, came to $9339.82. The amount was divided in proportion to the miles actually flown. Thus Flight Commander Lowell H. Smith and his companions, Lieuts. Harding, Nelson and Arnold received sums representing the full distance, while Lieuts. Wade and Ogden, who were forced out for part of the jump across the Atlantic, and Maj. Martin and Sergt. Harvey, who were wrecked in Alaska and had to abandon the flight, though sharing, received lesser amounts.

Lieut. Smith, speaking for his companions, thanked the donors not only for the funds but also for the enthusiastic reception given them when they landed on home soil and said he hoped they had demonstrated that there is a great future for aviation. The others said just enough to identify themselves.

As Capt. Fredericks told them, they had made their speech for all America and it is written in the clouds.

"You'll be known," he said, "for all time. Your names will take rank with those of the men who discovered America, who discovered the Pacific and who first circumnavigated the globe."

With the flyers were Mrs. Jasper Smith, mother of Lieut. Smith, and Mrs. Roberta Chase Harding, mother of Lieut. Harding, one a resident of Los Angeles and the other of Beverly Hills. They, too, spoke a word or two of greeting and thanks to the invisible audience.

Partial payment of $1000 each was made in gold to the flyers when they alighted on Clover Field, September 23, last, at the finish of their world circuit. Final payments made last night brought the total distributed to $9339.82 and the individual shares received to the following sums:

Recipient	Per Cent of Total	Amount Received
Lieut. Lowell H. Smith	16.5	$1541.67
Lieut. Leslie Arnold	16.5	1541.67
Lieut. Erik Nelson	16.5	1541.67
Lieut. John Harding	16.5	1541.67
Lieut. Leigh Wade	15.9	1485.00
Lieut. H. H. Ogden	15.9	1485.00
Maj. F. L. Martin	2.9	270.99
Sergt. Alva Harvey	2.6	242.75
	100.0	$9339.82

Maj. Martin and Sergt. Harvey being on duty elsewhere and Lieut. Ogden ill at San Francisco, their checks were mailed to them, after having been shown to their flight comrades. The following contributions to the fund, received subsequent to the completion of the fund, are hereby acknowledged:

W. H. Harrison, Investment Man, Weds Tomorrow

William Henry Harrison, general manager of the Los Angeles Investment Company, will be married tomorrow to Mrs. Josephine Lowe of 639 South Milton avenue. The ceremony will be performed quietly and immediately afterwards Mr. Harrison and his bride are leaving for the north, sailing November 8 for Honolulu where they will pass their honeymoon. Mrs. Lowe who, formerly made her home in Maine, has lived in Los Angeles for the past five years.

BANNER PERMIT REVOKED

The Board of Public Works yesterday revoked the permit granted to hang banners across public streets asking support for Proposition C on the ballot at next Tuesday's election, on the ground that the statements on the banners were misleading. Proposition C is a referendum on an ordinance permitting business buildings to be built on Wilshire Boulevard from Westlake Park to Western avenue.

SIXTY MILLIONS IN SITE DEAL OF BARKER BROS.

Pioneer House Furnishers Secure Property for Erection of New Limit-Height Building

A realty transaction involving $60,000,000 was completed between Barker Bros., pioneer house furnishers of Los Angeles, and the Sun Realty Company late yesterday by Robert L. McCourt, partner and vice-president of the W. Ross Campbell Company, business and industrial property brokers. Features of the transaction, which is one of the largest in the history of Southern California, include the acquisition by Barker Bros. of one thirty-five-year and two ninety-nine-year leases on property, the erection of a limit-height building thereon and the removal of the furniture concern from its present location.

Barker Bros. are to move from 716-738 South Broadway and 731-733 South Spring street as soon as their new home is erected on their new site, which has a frontage running from the southwest corner of Seventh and Flower streets to the southeast corner of Seventh and Figueroa streets, a total of over 335 feet fronting along an entire city block. This property has a depth of 110 feet on both Flower and Figueroa streets, making the over-all size of the property 335 feet by 110 feet.

Construction of the new building, of which Curlett & Beelman are architects, will be started immediately and will be a limit-height, Class A structure covering the entire area of the property. Twelve stories with basement and sub-basement, this building in point of size, will be one of the largest structures in Los Angeles, containing more than 800,000 square feet. The building will serve as the parent building for two other structures to be erected on adjoining properties within the next few years.

The entire building, together with the additional buildings, will be occupied by Barker Bros., and devoted exclusively to house furnishings. Not only the largest house-furnishing concern in Los Angeles, but probably the largest institution of its kind in the world, Barker Bros. will now have one of the largest and finest buildings in the world devoted exclusively to any one concern marketing house furnishings, it is declared.

SERIES OF LEASES

To make room for the structure it was necessary to consummate a series of long-term leases. The first lease was negotiated for Barker Bros., by Robert L. McCourt, who also represented the Sun Realty Company, lessors, covering the parent property which has a total frontage of 335 feet on West Seventh and a depth of 110 feet on both Flower and Figueroa streets for a period of thirty-five years.

To provide for the erection of additional buildings which will care for the expansion of Barker Bros.' business, two additional ninety-nine-year leases were consummated, affecting the property immediately adjoining the parent property on the south. The first of these additional ninety-nine-year leases was consummated by Mr. McCourt for Barker Bros. on the property owned in fee simple by Sarah Fox, which has a frontage of 60 feet on Figueroa street with a depth of 167 1-2 feet. Two and one-half years ago Sarah Fox placed this property under a ninety-nine-year lease to Spencer Thorpe, who in turn leased the property through Mr. Gilbert to Barber Bros. for the remainder of the term or approximately ninety-six and one-half years.

Clem S. Glass, also partner and vice-president of the W. Ross Campbell Company and associate of Mr. McCourt, negotiated the second ninety-nine-year lease for Barker Bros. involving the property located 110 feet south of the southwest corner of Flower and West Seventh, which has a frontage of 60 feet on Flower street and a depth of 167 1-2 feet, owned in fee simple by H. E. and E. L. Miller, who had leased the property to the Brown Candy Company, now owned by Petitfils. Petitfils sold this lease to Henry Boos, personally, who in turn leased the property to Barker Bros. through Mr. Glass and Marcus L. Godfrey for a period of approximately ninety-six years, or the remainder of the term of the lease held by Mr. Boos.

Robert Baker, representing Mrs. Mary C. Young and Mary Young Moore, negotiated the cancellation of a ninety-nine-year lease which had been originally made to the Sun Realty Company some months

HOLD-UP MAN CONFESSES TO MURDER

Police Say Prisoner Has Admitted Participation in St. Louis Killing

Confession that he is wanted in St. Louis for murder was made to Detective Lieutenants Craig and Oker yesterday by Frank Kyle, who was arrested Monday night after the spectacular hold-up of a hall full of dancers at the Flower Auditorium.

Kyle told the officers, they said, that on August 5, last, he and his brother shot and killed a man named James Hade, proprietor of a soft drink establishment, after their sister accused Hade of beating her. Kyle said he fled St. Louis after the murder but that his brother was captured and held in bail. The brother afterward was killed by an unidentified man while walking a street in St. Louis, Kyle said.

Kyle declared he fled first to New York and afterward came West.

Police here communicated with St. Louis authorities and verified Kyle's story, they declared. Kyle is held in City Jail awaiting instructions from St. Louis police.

According to police, Kyle entered the hall Monday night during a mask dance by the Code of Honor Society and obtained $46 from the doorkeeper after firing several wild shots. He was overpowered by several dancers and was held for the police.

MAN SHOOTS COUSIN AND KILLS SELF

Gardena Ranchers Fight in Street Over Finances; Wounded Man Near Death

An argument between John Buhrman, 33 years of age, and his cousin, J. Herman Buhrman, 38, over money matters yesterday in front of a feed store in Gardena came to a tragic end when John Buhrman shot and probably fatally wounded his cousin and killed himself.

John Buhrman died almost instantly with a bullet in his mouth. His cousin was taken to Seaside Hospital, where physicians stated he had a slight chance for recovery. The latter was shot twice, once in the head and once in the back.

The cousins for some time had operated a chicken ranch on the outskirts of Gardena. They drove in their automobile to the feed store yesterday. John Buhrman got out of the machine followed by his cousin.

The argument followed in which John Buhrman, who is reported to have been drinking, shouted: "You haven't any money. I haven't any either so we might as well finish it now."

Bystanders rushed up too late to prevent the shooting. Deputy Sheriffs Hunter and Hanby investigated and found on John Buhrman's person a note for $400 dated 1916 and signed by Herman. This is believed to have started the argument.

John Buhrman's body was taken to the Doty & Whittington undertaking rooms in Gardena.

WEST VIRGINIA TAKES FLAG

The United States Battle Fleet's last shift in flagships until 1934 took place at Los Angeles Harbor yesterday afternoon, when Vice-Admiral Henry A. Wiley, commander of the battleship divisions, transferred his three-starred flag from the maintruck of the U.S.S. New Mexico to that of the U.S.S. West Virginia, the Navy's latest super-dreadnaught. The unusual lack of ceremony with which the important change was effected graphically typified the famous sea-going policy of Admiral Wiley.

The entire ship's company of the West Virginia was drawn up at attention and her officers were all in the prescribed full dress uniform as Admiral Wiley's barge pulled alongside. He stepped aboard, accompanied by the members of his staff, and was greeted by Capt. Thomas J. Senn, commanding the West Virginia, who turned over to Admiral Wiley his new flagship.

"Carry on!" barked the chief of America's dreadnaught force, signifying that the ceremony of cocked hats and gold braid was over and that the ship should return to her usual routine duties. Admiral Wiley did not even read aloud his own orders nor did he inspect the ship's marine guard.

As Admiral Wiley left the New Mexico yesterday she automatically dropped from Battleship Division Five as flagship of the battleship divisions to Division Four as division flagship. This morning at 11 o'clock Rear-Admiral William V. Pratt, commanding Division Four, will hoist his flag on the New Mexico.

DEFENSE OPENS IN NAVY OIL SUIT

Director of Mines is First Witness Called

Tells of Handling Details of Reserve Contracts

that plans for the formation of the four-power peace pact were in formation. This, it was indicated, was the reason why secrecy surrounded much of the Navy's plans for extensive development of the Hawaiian base as well as the natural reason for surrounding in secrecy details of war defense projects.

Bain said it was he who told Fall that it would be best to have the construction work done by getting some oil company to take the contract and then have that oil company arrange with an engineering company for actual construction work. This, it was explained, was necessary because the pay for the work was to be in oil to be extracted from the naval reserve.

No instructions were received from Fall, Bain testified, as to what oil companies he should see about bidding for the work. Bain said he took up the proposal with the Standard Oil Company, General Petroleum Company, Associated Oil Company, Pacific Oil Company, Union Oil Company and Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company. He described in great detail his trip to the Pacific Coast to confer with representatives of those companies and in this the defense emphasized the apparent lack of discrimination in consulting the companies. Bain testified that the first company with which he took up the proposal was the Doheny company.

HANDLED DETAILS

Details of Bain's report on his activities to Fall were related and Bain said:

"Secretary Fall told us to go ahead and handle this thing and that he was going to be busy with other affairs."

Bain and Finney proceeded in co-operation with the Navy Department, he testified, to arrange for bids to be received for the project. He said it was he who suggested that the Pan-American Company engage the White Company to do the construction work. He testified much to show that changes in the project plans and bidding arrangements resulted from ordinary progression of such an idea. This, it was understood, was to offset the government's theory that the whole resulted from a prearranged plan for Doheny interests to gain control of naval oil reserve No. 1, Kern county.

The Chicago Bridge and Iron Works, which had complained of secrecy surrounding the negotiations leading up to the contracts, was in a list which Bain provided to oil companies proposing to bid for the work, Bain testified. He said the list was for the help of the companies in procuring subcontractors and that there was no such discrimination as the Chicago company complained of.

The government has yet to cross-examine Bain.

LEGALITY ARGUED

When the defense began its case the first principal step taken by Frank J. Hogan, chief of counsel for the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company and Pan-American Petroleum Company, defendants, was to enter in the record, by stipulation, statements to show that before the Navy Department proceeded to arrange for the exchange of government royalty oil from naval oil reserves for fuel oil in storage and for storage facilities the question of the legality of the proposition formally was placed before the judge-advocate-general's division of the Navy Department and the division decided that it was legal to make such exchange.

Hogan's statements showed that after the division adopted that opinion the same was made subject of a conference attended by Secretary of the Navy Denby, Judge-Advocate-General Latimer and Rear-Admiral J. K. Robison, chief of the Navy's Bureau of Engineering. At that conference it was agreed that the legality of the proposition was sound and Secretary Denby approved the opinion and the Navy and Interior departments thereafter proceeded on that basis.

The conference took place in December, 1921, the statement showed. It was in April, 1922, that the first contract of any consequence under the opinion was made. It was the original construction contract entered into between the Doheny interests and the two departments for storage facilities construction at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

DOHENY SHARES TOLD

It came out somewhat incidentally in the trial yesterday that Edward L. Doheny, Sr., owns 2417 shares of A stock and no shares of B stock in the Pan-American company; Mrs. Doheny, Sr., owns 317 shares of A stock and fifty shares of B stock; Edward L. Doheny, Jr., 703 shares of A stock, 3706 shares of B stock; Mrs. Doheny, Jr., seventy-seven shares of A stock, forty-nine shares of B stock; Petroleum Securities Company owns 525,438 shares of A stock and one share of B stock and that the senior Dohenys each own one-third of the Securities company stock and the junior Dohenys each own one-sixth of the Securities company stock.

Paul Shoup, president of the Pacific Oil Company and of the Associated Oil Company, a government witness, testified that although J. Foster Bain, chief of the Bureau of Mines, Interior Department, had called on him and requested the co-operation of the Pacific company in cessation of drilling along the border of California naval oil reserve No. 1, Kern county, so as to conserve naval oil in the ground, Bain made no mention to him of the proposal that his company consider bidding on the Pearl Harbor construction project. He testified that no government official took up with him the proposal of awarding more leases in the reserve other than strip leases for offset well purposes.

When Roberts asked him if his company would have been interested in bidding for leases granted been called for, Shoup replied affirmatively. It is one of the arrearly in No. 1 if such bidding had guments of the government that Doheny interests acquired virtual control of the reserve by supplemental arrangements that avoided open competitive bidding for extensive leases in the territory.

ASSOCIATED CONSULTED

Hogan brought out that Bain had taken up with A. McLaughlin, vice-president of the Associated company, the proposal that that company bid on the Pearl Harbor project and that McLaughlin was the proper official of that company to consult about such matters. It previously had been testified that the Associated company bid on the project, its bid being subject, however, to the provision that the approval of Congress be procured.

That the Standard Oil Company owns "about 11 per cent of the stock of record" of the Pacific Oil Company was brought out by Hogan.

Statements read into the record showed that while Admiral Parks was chief of the Navy's Bureau of Yards and Docks before the national administration changed in 1921, the Navy Department was considering increasing naval oiling facilities at Pearl Harbor.

Atlee Pomerene, of government counsel, consumed about a half hour of the forenoon session. He followed up the line pursued by the government when the Wednesday session was adjourned; that is by reading letters intended to show that while negotiations were going on in the Navy and Interior departments looking toward the contracts and leases which gave Doheny interests extensive development rights in reserve No. 1, Secretary of the Interior Fall and others in both Navy and Interior departments were informing applicants for small leases in the reserve that the policy at that time was against further development of the reserve.

The government questioned William A. Kent, chief accountant, Bureau of Mines, briefly concerning how accounts of the Pearl Harbor work were kept.

OSLER LOSES FIGHT TO THWART INQUIRY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

TORONTO (Ont.) Oct. 30.—H. S. Osler, president of the dissolved Continental Trading Company, today lost his fight to thwart attempts of United States officials to investigate his possible connection with the Teapot Dome lease to H. F. Sinclair.

Atlee Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, special United States counsel in the investigation of the oil leases, seek to trade through Osler $90,000 in Liberty bonds alleged to have been delivered to Albert B. Fall, former American Secretary of the Interior, by the Continental Trading Company. This concern was said to have made large profits in oil transactions with Sinclair's Mammoth Oil Company and to have paid dividends to stockholders in Liberty bonds.

OAKS GIVEN FINAL ORDER

Former Chief is Called on to Undergo Examination; Pension to be Denied if He Fails to Appear Former Chief of Police Louis D. Oaks, who has applied for retirement on a pension, yesterday was ordered by the Board of Fire and Police Pension Commissioners to report for physical examination before next Thursday to Dr. Henry Sugarman, and the former chief was informed by the board's letter that his failure to so report would be followed by the board's denying his application for retirement on a pension.

The board last month ordered Oaks to report to Dr. Sugarman for examination, but up to yesterday's meeting the former Chief had not reported to the physician. Protests have been received by the board against pensioning the former Chief. His police department rating is that of detective lieutenant, and should his application for retirement be granted, his pension will be $112.50 a month. He had served fourteen years in the department, and asked for retirement on the ground of illness, due to overwork, while Chief of Police and disabilities contracted as a result of his police duties.

In case the former Chief does not desire to take the physical examination, then the board will give him an opportunity to withdraw his application for retirement. On his failure to do this, the board will formally deny the application.

SIXTY MILLIONS IN REALTY DEAL

Barker Bros. Announce Plans for New Building

Structure Planned Will be of Limit-Height

Construction Work is to be Started Immediately

ago and instead negotiated a new ninety-nine-year lease for the Sun Realty Company adding the southeast corner of Figueroa and Seventh streets to the southwest corner of Seventh and Flower streets, this lease embracing the entire West Seventh-street frontage of 335 feet running from Flower to Figueroa street.

LARGE FLOOR SPACE

The parent property with the additional properties will give Barker Brothers a total frontage of 335 feet on West Seventh street and a depth of 170 feet on both Figueroa and Flower streets. While the parent building will contain 500,000 square feet of floor space, the erection of additional buildings which will be connected to the parent structure will increase this total to a figure in excess of three quarter million square feet.

The mass of legal technicalities was upheld by many prominent attorneys. The firm of Musick, Burr & Pinney represented Barker Brothers' legal interests; Lissner, Roth & Gunter were the attorneys for the Sun Realty Company, while the legal interests of Mrs. Mary C. Young and Mary Young Moore were cared for by Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher. Karl Lobdell, also of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, handled the legal elements for Henry Boos while Spencer Thorpe, who is an attorney, looked after his own interests. Roy V. Rhodes was attorney for W. Ross Campbell Company.

Commenting upon the move of Barker Brothers, Henry S. McKee, president of the firm, said yesterday, "The business of Barker Brothers has had a half century of uninterrupted growth and success. It is today the largest establishment in America devoted to furniture and home-furnishings. Its display rooms contain probably the greatest collection of fine furniture assembled under any one roof in the United States.

"The business has a financial net worth of about $7,500,000. The present move to a new building, especially designed for its activities, of limit-height occupying an entire block of frontage on Seventh street, is based upon complete faith in the future of Los Angeles."

The new structure will be designed after the Italian renaissance period, according to Curlett & Bealman, architects. It will be featured by an exceptionally beautiful front of brick and terra cotta having a massive entrance of decorative stone which will reach some three stories in height.

UNUSUAL FEATURE

An unusual feature of the building will be the sub-basement which will extend under the entire area of the building, there being only one other building in the city having this innovation in Los Angeles' building construction. The sub-basement will serve for shipping and receiving departments and all loading and unloading of trucks will be done there, relieving the curbs from traffic congestion. It is expected that the new building will be completed by January or February, 1926.

The entrance hall of the building will be massive, having a height of nearly forty feet. It will be finished in American walnut, while the floors will be of Italian travertine marble imported from Italy. The interior of the building will be finished in keeping with the character of Barker Brothers' business.

At the end of the entrance hall will be eleven elevators of the newest passenger design, while freight will be handled on a series of six freight elevators. In point of equipment the building will be one of the most complete in the city, the architects say.

Barker Brothers will be able to carry out many new ideas and plans in the new building, officials say, not only for the presentation of many added features of service and convenience for the satisfaction of the purchasing public, but also create in this new home-furnishing structure a store which, in its facilities, conveniences and beauty will be completely suited to the business for which it is intended. It will also be a store, they declare, in which Los Angeles may express a justifiable pride as an institution pre-eminent and a building beautiful, impressive to Angelenos and the city's hundreds of thousands of visitors alike, to spread afar the fame of Los Angeles as the center of a home-abiding, home-loving and home-building people.

GREAT FUTURE

"The Sun Realty Company mutually shares with the public of Los Angeles, the belief in the great future in store for Los Angeles," said I. Eisner, president of the Sun Realty Company, yesterday, "and our belief is further increased by the fact that this largest of all realty transactions has been consummated. From our standpoint, the movement of Barker Brothers will mark the beginning of a new era in the development of the downtown business section which will see the development of West Seventh street as far west as Westlake Park as one of the city's major retail streets.

"It bespeaks of other gigantic developments in this section and as we see it, all that is necessary to give additional momentum to this progress is the development of West Seventh-street properties by improvements.

"The Sun Realty's faith in Los Angeles is attested to by the fact that in the last two years we have erected eight buildings, while our present program calls for the erection of two more."

From a start made forty-four years ago, Barker Brothers have shared in the progress of Los Angeles and followed its line of development. With their first store in the Plaza section of Los Angeles when the city was little more than a village, Barker Brothers kept pace with the expansion of the business district until finally the present finds them on Broadway and the immediate future will see them making another progressive step into the newer and greater business section of Los Angeles.

FURNITURE MEN

One of the explanations for the consistent growth of the business is that ascribed to the fact that the members of the company dating back to the founder of the business, O. T. Barker, father of Charles H. Barker, the present senior member of the organization, have been "furniture men," devoting their attention exclusively to that particular business.

Since its beginning the company has always been a Barker concern, beginning with O. T. Barker, its founder. Then followed his sons, Joseph, William A., and Charles H. who came into the business and assumed full and active direction of its affairs. Of these original members of the firm, of the second generation, Charles H. Barker, present chairman of the board of directors, is now the only one surviving. Associated with him are his sons, Clarence A. Barker and Erle P. Barker, vice-presidents, both actively interested in the conduct of the business, and C. Lawrence Barker, son of William A. Barker, also vice-president. These all represent the third generation of the Barker families.

Following the death of William A. Barker, Henry S. McKee, leader in Los Angeles business, banking and financial circles, was invited to the presidency of the organization, to aid in the greater development program.

In an interview, Charles H. Barker, yesterday said, "The Creator made Southern California a most delightful place. That made people want to live here. It made thousands of homes necessary, so many in fact that when looked into casually, one learns conclusively that home-making is the greatest business in this part of the world. Certainly in no other part of the globe have so many people gathered, migrated and congregated of their own free will in so short a time, chiefly because it offers so many attractive residential inducements. Of course, there are other cogent reasons for the monumental peopling of the Southland of California, but we must, in all fairness, concede first place to nature's blessings in the form of a bland and benign climate wherein man's age-long instinct to create and to have and to hold a home finds active sympathy and positive helpfulness in the air he breathes and from the sun that shines upon him.

OPPORTUNITY HERE

"Thus the endowments of nature created opportunity here for those fitted by temperament and training to assist in the creation of homes through the production and supply of all things that go into making a house a home. To share in this opportunity has been the privilege of Barker Brothers and it is significant that they should, after forty-four years, have maintained and occupied their high standing in this metropolitan center of California.

"It is a source of no little pride to us that the life of this business as the House of Barker Brothers spans and parallels the whole interesting development of this great city. Our ups and downs have been mutually shared, enjoyed and endured with those of the city which has made our business possible.

"Specifically, I think we have succeeded because we have made and kept friends. We have endeavored to make it easy for people to like to trade here and once started we have tried to maintain this formula of successful business.

"Forty-four years ago when Barker Brothers first opened their doors, Los Angeles had a population of 11,183 people. Today, after a great period of expansion, Los Angeles is well on toward its second million inhabitants. Paralleling this growth, Barker Brothers' roll of employees shows an interesting development. From 1880 to 1900 the average number of employees in the institution was twenty, while important expansions in the following ten years brought this number up to 100, but in 1910 the store's business had increased to such proportions that the volume of business transacted required the services of 300 men and women. The final decade finds approximately 1500 workers within the organization.

"The original home of Barker Brothers still stands at 133-115 North Spring street, in the old historic Plaza section which was the birthplace of our now great city. Comparing the thirty-five-foot frontage of this first store to our new home with its 335 feet of frontage and its 750,000 square feet floor area, the strides made jointly by this institution and Los Angeles can well be visualized.

MONTH'S RECORD

"In one month, 100,000 people visit this store, the number varying from 3000 to 5000 on an average business day to as many as 15,000 on special occasions. Every week an average of thirty-five carloads of furniture and home-furnishings are received into our reserve warehouses from all parts of the world, coming to Los Angeles by freight, through the Panama Canal and into the Los Angeles Harbor and by truck from local factories. The yearly total reaches 1800 car-loads.

"The fleet of motor-delivery trucks and service vehicles totals 125 and the records show that these vehicles cover in excess of 1,100,000 miles per year. Their area of delivery covers approximately 15,000 square miles, reaching 150 cities and towns and extending 100 miles north, 100 miles south and twenty miles west to the sea.

"The average day finds 130 loads of furniture and furnishings going out from our shipping department, making necessary 15,000 calls per week, this serving more than 50,000 homes each month. In point of business, Barker Bros.' volume is considerably in excess of $1,000,000 per month.

In the development of Los Angeles as one of the world's greatest home centers, Barker Bros. have contributed much to the now apparent result through their interest in co-operating with the Better Homes movement, through educational lecture work in a co-operative way with prominent women's clubs, parent-teachers' associations, colleges, universities, high schools and other organizations.

The Better Homes movement, at its inception, was responsible for Barker Bros.' magazine "Better Homes," which is devoted more particularly to an interesting and constructive presentation of helpful home-furnishing ideas. More than 100,000 homes are reached by this publication in Los Angeles and the Southland with each issue, while the lectures embracing a wide variety of important, appealing home-furnishing ideas reach approximately the same number.

FISTS FLY IN COURTROOM

Prosecution Witness at Robbery Trial of Wilson and McCormick Slugs Another on Jaw

Two prosecution witnesses engaged in a fist fight in Judge Keetch's Superior Court late yesterday and almost caused a riot in the trial of Carey Wilson and Clifford McCormick on indictments charging robbery.

A. A. Lamorere struck Eugene R. Case in the exciting incidents which threw the courtroom into an uproar. The spectators milled about as Judge Keetch demanded that order be restored and the bailiffs separated the irate witnesses. The encounter followed a reading by Dep. Dist.-Attys. Fricke and Orme of the statement of Clifford McCormick made to the District Attorney's office after McCormick's arrest on the robbery charge.

In the statement McCormick referred to the plans of himself, Godfrey Cowdrey, who has been convicted of murder of Joseph Langley, Wilson and others for the commission of various robberies. Lamorere, who testified for the prosecution that he was a friend of Wilson and McCormick, became incensed at the statement which involved Eugene R. Case.

As court adjourned for the afternoon session and while Judge Keetch was still on the bench and the jury was preparing to leave the jury box, Lamorere suddenly walked up to Case and without a word slugged him in the jaw. Immediately Deputy Sheriffs Joe Coyle and Erwin Toplin rushed at Lamorere and placed him under restraint. Case made a dash for the door during the excitement that followed the onslaught. He stopped, however, when he saw that the deputies had subdued his attacker.

Judge Keetch ordered Lamorere locked up on a charge of contempt of court until today at 5 p.m. when he will be given a hearing.

The only evidence of witnesses during the day was that of E. C. Fitts driver of a motorbus for the Pacific Electric Company, who said he was held up by Cowdrey and Wilson. Fitts was dismissed from the witness stand after only a slight cross-examination.

The entire day was consumed by Fitts's testimony and by the statement of McCormick which was read into the records. Spectators who filled the courtroom found the proceedings dull and listless until the spectacular incident which closed the day.

The trial is to be resumed at 10 a.m. today.

WEST VIRGINIA MADE FLAGSHIP

ships of the battleship type, subsequent to 1924, the present organization of the battleship divisions will be in effect.

It is as follows:

Division Five: West Virginia (flagship, battleship divisions, Vice-Admiral Henry A. Wiley,) Colorado, Maryland and Tennessee.

Division Four: New Mexico (flagship, Rear-Admiral William V. Pratt,) Idaho, Mississippi and California (also Battle Fleet flagship, Admiral Samuel S. Robison.)

Division Three: Pennsylvania (flagship, Rear-Admiral Louis M. Nulton) Arizona, Nevada and Oklahoma.

Battleship Division Five is rated by naval experts as the most powerful fighting unit on the seas. Three of the ships, the West Virginia, Maryland and Colorado, are sister craft, mounting 16-inch guns and electrically driven, while the Tennessee, mounting twelve 14-inch guns and also electrically propelled, is considered equally effective. This division would bear the brunt of the attack in any action which the battle fleet might encounter.

Division Four is practically equal in power and effectiveness to Division Five, except that all of its units are equipped with twelve 14-inch guns of .50 caliber as their main batteries. Two ships, the California and New Mexico, are electrically driven, while the Idaho and Mississippi, sister ships, are propelled by steam turbines.

The four ships of Division Three are the oldest units of the twelve battleships. The Pennsylvania and Arizona are sister ships mounting twelve 14-inch guns of .45 caliber, while the Nevada and Oklahoma, also identical in design, mount but ten 14-inch guns of .45 caliber.

APARTMENT OPERATORS BACK CHEST

Program to be Given at Meeting; Another Will be Broadcast by Film Folk

The Apartment House Association of Southern California has indorsed the Community Chest as a method which will provide for charitable work without harassing the public continually for fund appeals, it was announced yesterday. The association represents ownership of 1700 apartment-houses, bungalow courts and flats, which house 65,000 persons. A Community Chest program is to be given at the next meeting of the association, Thursday evening, at Fraternal Brotherhood Hall.

A Community Chest radio program will be broadcast Thursday evening also from Radio KNX. The Universal Studio band, William Desmond, Reginald Denny, Norma and Constance Talmadge, Walter Hiers, the Christie band, Harold Lloyd and Charley Murray are expected to appear. Other programs will be arranged later from other broadcasting stations. The Community Chest drive starts November 10 and will continue to November 20.

HELD AS FUGITIVE

As a fugitive from justice from Portland, Or., where he is said to have swindled Italians in a bunko game, David Pariot, alias M. S. Page, was arrested yesterday. Asst. Capt. O'Brien of the bunko squad, who made the arrest, notified the Portland authorities by telegram and said the man will be held for extradition.

TALK ON SUN AND PLANETS

Dr. Frederick C. Leonard, Ph.D., will speak at the Southwest Museum Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the assembly hall on "The Sun and Its Planetary Family," illustrated with lantern slides. The Southwest Museum is located opposite Sycamore Grove at Avenue 46 and Marmion Way.

Make Any Room a Bedroom for only $55.50

SLEEP in the living-room, the library, the dining-room, the porch. Just push a Roll-A-Way Bed where you wish, lower it, and sleep comfortably. During the day conceal it in a closet.

Why pay $1000 or more to build a spare bedroom into your home when a Holmes Roll-A-Way Bed for $55.50, $62.50 or $72.50 will do as well?

For 15 years the many mechanical superiorities of Holmes Conceal-A-Way Beds have caused architects and contractors to prefer them for the leading hotels, apartments and bungalows. Pay a visit to the big exhibition hall of the Holmes Disappearing Bed Co. in the Pacific Electric Depot at 618 South Main St. See all the different Conceal-A-Way Beds in use. Learn their superiorities. Demonstrations daily.

1. Rolls out of the closet. Lowers easily to floor.

2. Lowered, it makes a full-size, comfortable bed.

3. Roll to porch window for airing. Easily cleaned.

4. Next morning—roll it back in closet, out of the way.

Dental statistics prove that four out of every five over 40—as well as thousands younger—pay Pyorrhea a toll. Do you want to elude this dread disease?

Your teeth are only as healthy as your gums

The gums are the keys to health. You must keep them firm, strong and healthy if you would escape Pyorrhea and its attendant ills—loosened teeth, neuritis, indigestion, anaemia and similar diseases.

Prevent Pyorrhea with Forhan's

This safe, efficient, pleasant-tasting dentifrice counteracts the effects of harmful bacteria; hardens soft, tender gums, keeps them sound, firm and pink. Furthermore, it cleans and whitens the teeth and keeps the mouth fresh, clean and wholesome.

Ordinary tooth pastes are powerless to prevent or check Pyorrhea. Even if you don't care to discontinue your favorite dentifrice you owe it to yourself to take this precaution: Start brushing your gums and teeth at least once a day with Forhan's.

It is a preparation of proved efficacy in the treatment of Pyorrhea. It is the one that many thousands have found beneficial for years. For your own sake, make sure that you get it. Ask for, and insist upon, Forhan's For the Gums. At all druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.

THE GLAMOUR LOST

Some of these perfect passions do not seem so perfect when the judge and jury get to assaying them.

MONEY FROM A PUMP

The Democratic National Committee reports numerous individual campaign contributions from $10,000 to $25,000. Considering the hopelessness of the Democratic cause, some members of the party must be exceedingly careless with their money.

WHAT THINK THE BOYS?

The boys who suffered all the tortures that war means, the fathers and mothers of boys who made the supreme sacrifice—what do they think about La Follette's statement that they suffered and died merely to save the financial skins of the big bankers?

THE FIRE HAZARDS

In Massachusetts the State fire marshal is striving for a law which would provide arrest and punishment for persons whose abject carelessness is responsible for loss and destruction of property by fire. It would seem but right that a person whose downright carelessness results in the destruction of the property or lives of others should pay fit penalty—even to confinement in a prison cell with conscience as companion.

MANY ARE CALLED

In some States there are nearly a dozen Presidential tickets on the ballot to be voted next week. In Indiana, for instance, there were demands for places on the ballot for electors for parties designated as American, National Independent, Commonwealth, Socialist-Labor, Progressive Independent, Farmer-Labor and Workers. These were in addition to Democratic, Republican, Prohibition, Socialist and La Follette groups.

A SNUBBED STATESMAN

Because a radio station at Des Moines declined to substitute a speech by Senator La Follette for the usual bed-time story the Wisconsin wasp charges a plot on the part of the administration to suppress free speech. He says that the station was licensed by Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, and any broadcaster who gives his hearers a callow bed-time story in preference to the inspired utterances of Bob La Follette is an enemy of the nation.

AMONG THE AVERAGES

According to figures gathered by the National Chamber of Commerce, the per-capita expenditures in this country last year were $98.58 for food and $47.03 for clothing. At the same time there are a lot of dames who spend $47 a month for lingerie. Likewise, the average male citizen would have trouble in appeasing his tummy on an allowance of $3 a month for nourishment. The average person apparently is living far above the average.

O. K. EITHER WAY

It is not yet known whether the loan to Germany will be sent abroad in the form of gold or remain here as the purchase price of American goods. If either happens the United States will be benefited. The great mass of gold in this country acts as an embarrassment upon us and, at the same time, impedes the ready movement of goods in the foreign markets. A stimulation just now to American industries would help greatly to overcome the uncertainty and uneasiness which are the reaction of the Presidential campaign. The loan is primarily for Germany's good. But many countries will profit with her.

THE FRENCH DICTIONARY

Members of the French Academy have been working for forty-six years on a complete dictionary of the French language. They have just finished the letter H and now find that there have been so many changes and new words because of the war and modern sciences that the work thus far accomplished must virtually be done over again. It looks as if the French would never have a complete dictionary at that rate. It would apparently take a century to finish up the rest of the alphabet and then it would be time to go all over it again. Fortunately, the French people are not suffering for words. They manage to plug along mighty well with the words they already have. There is no famine in language because of a missing dictionary.

DUTY OF AMERICANS

In a few days the Presidential election will be held. If the duty of voting is appreciated there will be no slacking at the polls. People who do not go to the polls and perform their solemn duties as citizens are just as great slackers, are failing as utterly in their obligations to the nation in time of peace, as any slacker we had during the war. There are peace-time obligations as great as any war-time obligations. The man or woman eligible to vote who does not vote should feel just as guilty on November 4 as those who failed to do their bit in winning the great war.

An American who uses the ballot for what he or she honestly believes is for the country's good approaches the 100-per-cent rank about as nearly as any one can think of in time of peace.

WHAT WILL THEY DO?

One of the uncertainties developed during the Presidential campaign this year in California hinges upon the election-day attitude of the State's registered Democrats. It appears to be a foregone conclusion that every radical wearing the Democratic label will vote for La Follette and Wheeler. A serious attempt has been made to persuade the general body of real Democrats to do likewise, but there is no evidence that this attempt will succeed.

It is probable that the great majority of Democrats in California have not yet decided for whom they will vote for President next Tuesday, but the probability of a tremendous swing to Coolidge is already manifest in the private and public utterances of hundreds of the most substantial and consistent members of the party.

The expression has become common among Democrats of the State that, although never before voting for other than a Democratic nominee for partisan office, the hopelessness of the Davis cause in California and the danger of success for La Follette's attempt to throw the election into Congress, with consequent depression and unemployment, impels them, under existing circumstances, to follow the only course that guarantees national stability—to vote for Coolidge.

Economic loss, financial stringency, men and women out of work, national uncertainty, all combine to make conditions as unfavorable to a Democrat as to a Republican and, under a system of government that recognizes party only to the extent that party serves the general good, a Democrat may prosper equally with a Republican during a Republican administration.

Attorney W. H. Anderson, one of the foremost Democrats of California, commenting upon the unlikelihood of success for Davis and the consequent struggle between Coolidge and "the La Follette conglomerate," asserted that "success for La Follette and his radical agitators would be little short of a disgrace to the State."

"Personally," Mr. Anderson said, "I am, both by inheritance and predilection, a Democrat and personally I have the very highest admiration for the splendid gentleman who heads the Democratic party this year; but, nevertheless, in view of the imminent possibility of the catastrophe above noted, I feel it to be my duty to support the Republican electors and to that extent to vote the Republican ticket. This is in no sense an abandonment of my party or principles, but it is my opinion a necessary and patriotic step to prevent a threatened political crime."

Mr. Anderson's sentiments are reflected in similar utterances by equally representative members of his party. And, whether such sentiments spring from a desire for self-protection or a disinterested determination to forget "party regularity" in contributing to the public interest, hundreds and thousands of Democrats in California and elsewhere will vote for Coolidge this year who have never before voted for a Republican nominee. In fact, many of them go so far as to say that in this instance they will vote the Republican ticket both for the first and for the last time.

WIDEN THE STREETS

The people of Los Angeles will have an opportunity at next Tuesday's election to make a real start toward permanently relieving traffic-congestion troubles by voting "Yes" on municipal propositions "A" and "B."

The city grew so rapidly that there was no time until recently to provide wide, long and straight streets to handle the burden placed upon them by present-day traffic. The metropolis of today is trying to do business on the present inadequate patchwork of narrow streets. Congestion is costing the people of Los Angeles hundreds of thousands of dollars daily in the delays in moving traffic. If the situation is continued the growth of the city will be strangled. The situation is critical.

A vote of "Yes" on Proposition "A" means that the voters give their approval to future improvement of streets along a modern, scientific plan worked out by experts of the Traffic Commission and covering the entire city. By opening, widening, extending and straightening of streets designated in the plan there will be created a system of broad streets and boulevards from eighty to 100 feet wide, leading through and from the city in all directions, easily accessible from the minor streets and avenues and forming the main arteries of traffic. A vote of "Yes" on Proposition "A" carries with it the voting of no money, but is simply a "straw vote" on the plan to discard the present hit-and-miss method of improving streets and substitute as the city's guide to action the Major Traffic Street Plan so that all new development will be logical, orderly and for the greatest service possible for the people of the city.

Proposition "B" is a bond issue of $5,000,000 to create a fund from which the city will pay a share of the cost of twenty-five or more street improvements designated as the first unit of the Major Traffic Street Plan so that the expense of the necessary improvements of general benefit will be divided between the property owners and the districts adjacent to the improvements and the city at large. The engineers of the Traffic Commission have declared that in making a start toward the ultimate solution of the traffic-congestion problem the streets designated in the first unit of the plan should be improved at once and converted into traffic arteries. The City Council and the City Planning Commission have given their approval and support both to the Major Traffic Street Plan (Proposition "A") and to the bond issue (Proposition "B") which will start the actual accomplishment of the street openings, widenings and straightenings recommended in the first unit of the plan.

The Times strongly urges a "Yes" vote on these two propositions at next Tuesday's election, for they spell action which should have been taken years ago toward providing Los Angeles with a system of wide streets which the city must have if it is to continue to grow and prosper.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

Capital punishment may not stop crime, but it does put a period to a particular individual's criminality. It is argued that imprisonment is a deterrent equal with death, but, if this be true and is to remain true, there must be a fixed minimum of imprisonment which cannot be abridged and life sentences must mean nothing else than confinement for life. Public policy and interest demand this, for it is evident that every early liberation of a malefactor encourages criminality by increasing the apparent chances of escaping punishment.

DAWES AND THE BUDGET

Dawes was named by President Harding as the first director of the plan to get Federal expenditures down to a systematic basis. The services rendered by Gen. Dawes since he sprang into prominence in war time make him a figure among the conspicuous men of the nation and leave no doubt as to the wisdom of the Republican National Convention in choosing him as the party's candidate for Vice-President. His war record denotes superior energy and ability. His part in aiding in the solution of the most perplexing problems standing in the way of peace in Europe and the world is historic. His service in giving the budget plan a start that at once made it a thing to be respected established an excellent precedent for the other directors to follow.

The need of a budget had been apparent for a long time. Not a single sound argument could be advanced against it, but its enactment was delayed by Congressmen, backed up by department heads, who realized that their free-and-easy juggling with the public money might be curtailed. It was only when the demand became irresistible that Congress yielded and passed the bill.

But that was not the full achievement of victory. Congress could not delegate to the Budget Commission the right to pass final judgment upon appropriations. Congress has the right to lay aside the recommendations, to alter them in any way it pleases. When Gen. Dawes came upon the scene as the first director he read the riot act to Congress and to the department heads. His address to the chief officials in assuming his duties was a memorable exhibition of courage and plain speaking. He informed the department heads that the budget was intended to save money and they must shape their estimates accordingly. He gave Congress to understand that the budget to be presented would represent a careful, business-like planning of necessary expenditures and if the old political log-rolling and graft were continued he would carry his case to the people.

Congress and the department heads gave heed to what Gen. Dawes said and the budget started out well. A less courageous director would have been ignored and it is doubtful whether the new system would have been an improvement over the old. Dawes rendered invaluable service to the nation. Dawes is a man of action, one to be depended upon in a crisis such as confronts us at this time.

HALLOWEEN PRANKS

Tonight, in accordance with a time-honored custom, goblins and witches and sprites on frolic bent will be abroad in the land. But they must be good-natured goblins, winsome witches and unoffending mirth provokers; otherwise the celebration of Halloween becomes "a custom more honored in the breach than the observance."

Nobody, of course, expects to put old heads on young shoulders. Nobody wants to invest sprites and imps and fairies with the melancholy wisdom of age and experience. Halloween, whatever its ecclesiastical origin, has in America become the feast of the good spirits that accompany youth and health and stored energy. It is well to remember, however, that the emphasis is on the word "good."

True fun is not found in raising a laugh at the expense of another. The practical joke that consisted in removing a chair on which some innocent bystander was about to sit down went out of fashion at about the same time that the thumbscrew was abolished. And all so-called Halloween jokes, patterned on this ancient model, only prove the would-be jester has failed to distinguish between humor and malice.

The amateur who tries to emulate the example of the slap-stick comedian of the films will quickly discover that even a custard pie can have a nasty come-back. If some Halloween practical joker thinks he has some novel mirth-provoking stunt up his sleeve let him try it first on himself or on his own belongings. The man who cannot stand a joke at his own expense is in no position to practice his peculiar brand of humor on his neighbors.

These things it is well to remember on the night of Halloween when some extra license is permitted to the patrons of merriment and mischief. For good-natured fun there is as much scope and such a wide field for the employment of ingenuity that only the dullard and the dumb-bell will descend to acts of vandalism and destruction, in themselves merely evidences of either a diseased nature or a barren imagination.

Our modern lives, in their commonplaces too often drab and desperate, need the fun tonic of humorous nonsense and revelry once in a while, and the Halloween celebration affords this opportunity to open up the safety valve. But only a fool will knock a hole in the boiler to relieve the pressure.

PHOENIX TO LOS ANGELES

A highway improvement of interest to California as well as important to Arizona is contemplated by the latter State in the proposal to be voted upon next Tuesday to issue $3,500,000 in bonds to build 120 miles of highway from Phoenix to the Colorado River at Ehrenberg.

If the issue is acted upon favorably by Arizona voters a direct route from Phoenix to the State line will be provided which will save 100 miles in travel distance to Los Angeles. By the new route the distance between Los Angeles and Phoenix will be about 405 miles.

Across the river from Ehrenberg in California is the Blythe terminus of the Mecca to Blythe highway to be built in California. With both the Arizona and California highways completed there will be a fine, direct route all the way from Phoenix to Los Angeles and better service for several important districts in Arizona, including Salt River Valley.

One argument being used on behalf of the bond issue by Arizonans is that the undertaking of the work by that State might lead to the securing of Federal aid for the Hassayampa-Ehrenberg highway and also for the Mecca-Blythe highway in California.

CHANGES IN MEANING

If we wish to label anything strange or barbarous we say it is "outlandish," but when the Bible speaks of an "outlandish woman" it means a foreigner.

Another curious expression in the authorized version is "The other basket had very naughty figs." That means fruit which was good for naught. Today the word "naughty" means "ill-behaved." In the prayer book the word "presently" means "at the present time," but today it always means a future time.

When the authorized version of the Scriptures was first printed the word "careful" meant "full of care and anxiety," as in "careworn," but if a man were said to be careful it would today be a good testimonial. When the New Testament tells us to be "careful for nothing" it is not enjoining wastefulness and speaking against thrift, but simply telling us not to worry about anything.

RIPPLING RHYMES

OUT OF PLACE

When winds are bleak and skies are gray
And rain soaks through our clothing, the man who is too blithe and gay is looked upon with loathing. From words the sunshine experts flaunt small comfort can we borrow; on dreary days we only want companionship in sorrow. There is a time for everything, for borrowing and loaning; there is a time to dance and sing and there's a time for groaning. It is a scene of unmixed bliss when grouches get together and sigh and weep and hoot and hiss and curse the beastly weather. They're having such a bully time before the clouds are clearing!
And it would be a sordid crime to bring a message cheering. It is a blunder, nothing less, to hand them consolation; there is a comfort in distress, a balm in indignation.
When men are sore at life and fate, talk not the bright tomorrow; they want to meet up with a skate who has an equal sorrow.
Their miseries they would compare, their scalding tears they'd mingle, and walk the floor and rend their hair and make the welkin tingle. So let them loaster to and fro and in their sorrow languish; there is a rapture in such woe, a solace in such anguish. But when you see them spring once more a smile of latest model, confront them by the Blue Front store and talk your sunshine twaddle.

SOME REFLECTIONS

BY J. A. GRAVES

One hears constant complaints, on the part of the consumer, of the prices charged for most commodities. Take shoes, for instance. The retail price is high, but there is a reason why the price is high. Hides are cheap, but leather is high, owing to the fact that the tanners pay for labor twice as much as they did in 1914; that all supplies used by them have doubled in price; that their State and county taxes have more than doubled and a new tax, the income tax, has been added to their burdens; that freight on hides and on finished leather has advanced, while selling costs have also been largely increased.

The shoe manufacturer is, for these reasons, compelled to pay more for leather than he did in 1914. His shoe findings, for similar reasons, cost him more. His labor costs him double what he formerly paid for it. His taxes have also doubled. His rent, electric light, telephone and advertising bills have grown in proportion with his labor costs. His selling costs have also increased. He must get a largely increased price for each pair of shoes sold or go into bankruptcy.

The retailer is similarly afflicted. The same increases have come to him that came to the tanner and the shoe manufacturer. It can readily be seen that his selling price must be high in order for him to exist. Every other manufactured article on the market is in the same predicament as to cost as are shoes, hence high prices. It is evident that taxes and labor costs are the two factors which, at the present time, control commodity prices. A reduction of taxes can only be had by an intensive interest by all voters in political affairs. Voters must be honest with themselves and with each other. They must stand for retrenchment and economy in the administration of public affairs. They must insist upon the same attention to detail in the management of public affairs that they practice in their own affairs. Reduce taxes and an opening in the reduction of the selling price of commodities will have been made.

When the cost of living is reduced wages must follow suit. After enforced idleness of many of the textile mills of the country and of many shoe manufacturing concerns, by reason of their inability to make both ends meet under recently prevailing wage rates, employees of these concerns have seen the light and accepted a cut in wages. Other institutions will, in time, be able to secure similar reductions.

Owing to President Wilson's favoritism to the railroad employees and the passage of the Adamson Act, and more particularly to the generosity, at the public expense, of Mr. McAdoo, while Director-General of the Railroads, in constantly boosting the wages of railway employees (indirectly, by his arbitrary classification of employees,) the railway employees of the country have become so thoroughly intrenched in political power that it would be a difficult undertaking to get their compensation reduced to a reasonable figure. In the meantime the public must suffer. It must pay the increased rates necessary to allow the railroads to pay the present wage scale of their employees and their other charges of conducting their business. But a reduction must and will come, in time, in the wages of the railroad employees. As long as Mr. McAdoo remains, by his intriguing for office in the public eye, his part in fixing the present wage for railroad employees must not be overlooked or forgotten. His record stamps him as an unsafe man to invest with political power. Even his fellow-Democrats, at the New York convention, came to this conclusion.

No more reassuring thing could happen to the general public than the entrance of the labor unions into business enterprises. It is a good thing for them to establish banks. One has recently been opened in Los Angeles. The unions will find out that they cannot regulate interest rates by strikes. Competition with the money markets of the world fixes interest rates. Their banks will have to make loans at the open-market rate. Nor can they invest their own capital or their depositors' funds through spleen or hatred of capital. They must seek sound investments or go broke. Such investments can only be found among their bitterest enemies, the capitalistic class, or in enterprises of union-labor people run upon the safe and sound plan which similarly invested capital devises.

Members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have invested some $3,000,000 in coal mines in West Virginia and Kentucky. Their mines are shut down, return no interest on the investment, do not even pay for taxes and upkeep, because the owners, being themselves union-labor men, refuse to sign a wage agreement with that highly unionized body, the United Mine Workers of America. These owners say they cannot pay the union scale and make both ends meet. Wouldn't that jar you, coming from a union-labor official? If these same men were selling their own commodity, "labor," they would put up the price. They cannot advance the price of coal because other companies are ready to undersell them if they do. Members of the brotherhood paid no heed to the railroad managers when told by them that they could not pay the wages demanded and make both ends meet. Their answer has always been, "Put up your rates; make the consumer pay. It is none of our business how high rates reach."

Through the many benefactions of Mr. Wilson and of Mr. McAdoo while he was Director-General of the Railroads the railroad brotherhoods are so thoroughly intrenched that, by strikes and sundry intimidations of the public, they have, up to the present time, enforced their demands. It is to be hoped that the brotherhoods, in their arrogance, will become the owners of some trunk-line railroad. You can rest assured they will not operate it, if they do, upon the [illegible] lined lines upon which [illegible] erating the other roads of the country.

No particular amount of [illegible] fur is yet flying in the Presidential election. La Follette and Davis are extensively advertised under varying brands of [illegible] dulge in wild [illegible] ranted accusations and [illegible] slanderous abuse of Coolidge and Dawes. The more [illegible] better for the friends of [illegible] and good government. [illegible] praising everything [illegible] President Coolidge, while [illegible] about everything he [illegible] he has been in office, and [illegible] disqualify him on account of [illegible] posed irregularities on the part of others, for which he is [illegible] responsible. President [illegible] keeps on the even tenor of [illegible] pleading for common sense [illegible] embraces honesty of purpose [illegible] omy and thrift in all [illegible] activities, and the people [illegible] in him and trust him. [illegible] Dawes goes right into the [illegible] camp and discloses the [illegible] of the demagogues, La Follette and Wheeler, and the [illegible] of the Davis ticket.

All friends of good government should take heart of the situation. They should, at the same time, make [illegible] to get out the vote. The [illegible] will all go to the polls. There [illegible] not be any stay-at-home vote this year if we are to see law and order prevail over lawlessness and disorder by an overwhelming majority.

Let us take a look at some of the things that La Follette stands for. In his platform for which he advocates "election of federal judges and abolition of injunctions in labor disputes." Representative of party, the member of the bar of the United States who is most unanimously [illegible] Federal judges, who must have appointment, are a better class of men and better lawyers than those who are elected to [illegible] especially since the [illegible] came into vogue. Under the primary anyone [illegible] can obtain sufficient [illegible] be a candidate for [illegible] quently, where a dozen [illegible] to be elected, there [illegible] forty to be voted for. [illegible] the strongest political [illegible] belong to the [illegible] orders and fraternities [illegible] to be nominated, [illegible] character or ability.

What La Follette [illegible] tute for injunction [illegible] putes he does not [illegible] supposed that he and his [illegible] when a strike comes, [illegible] strikers to have the [illegible] tude, including the [illegible] beating up strike-breakers, [illegible] ising entire [illegible] starving out whole [illegible] If the abuses [illegible] disputes, cannot be [illegible] injunction, then [illegible] Red-blooded Americans [illegible] ing to stand by and [illegible] perpetrated. [illegible] of that down in [illegible] ty in Arkansas within the [illegible] few years. Abolish [illegible] and civil war follows.

He also advocates [illegible] control the [illegible] try." It is already [illegible] by law. Any further [illegible] simply make more [illegible] expense to consumers, [illegible] holders to be paid [illegible]

He advocates [illegible] Esch-Cummins law. [illegible] only sane constructive [illegible] islation on the question of [illegible] agement of railroads that [illegible] had in the United States [illegible] years. Of course, La Follette [illegible] his followers oppose it because [illegible] der it the railroad employees [illegible] not handle the property [illegible] they owned them. He [illegible] cates "public ownership" [illegible] roads with democratic [illegible] with definite safeguards [illegible] reaucratic control." [illegible] beautiful example of [illegible] ownership of railroads [illegible] administration under [illegible] his successor as Director [illegible] of the Railroads. It [illegible] tion billions of dollars [illegible] railroads billions more [illegible] stock ran down and was [illegible] Railroad tracks were [illegible] Discipline among [illegible] ployees absolutely [illegible] More robberies and [illegible] road employees of [illegible] while the government [illegible] charge of the railroads [illegible] curred in twenty years [illegible] that time. The object of La [illegible] lette in destroying [illegible] "bureaucratic control" [illegible] ply be to turn the [illegible] unionized labor to be run [illegible] irrespective of expense [illegible] nadian roads, now [illegible] owned, creates a deficit [illegible] 000 a year, which the [illegible] Canada have to put up [illegible] on these roads, while the [illegible] for passenger and [illegible] are as high, and in many [illegible] higher, than those in the United States.

He is also advocating [illegible] stump the right of Congress [illegible] feat the action of the [illegible] Court of the United States [illegible] claring a law unconstitutional [illegible] simply repealing the law. [illegible] course would destroy one of the [illegible] branches of the government [illegible] would make Congress the [illegible] vagaries, the supreme power [illegible] the fate of the people of the United States. If [illegible] rule the Supreme Court [illegible] the end, control the people. [illegible] people of the United States [illegible] not yet ready to abandon [illegible] stitutional rights under which [illegible] are guaranteed "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

That suggestion of a [illegible] street tunnel leads to the [illegible] suggestion that we might [illegible] derground runways for [illegible] trians and permit the [illegible] less motorists to [illegible] battle among themselves.

The Long Beach [illegible] two burglars before they [illegible] to burgle the bank. [illegible] will do unexpected [illegible] times.

BRITISH POLLING INFLUENCE SEEN

Railroad Official Predicts Like Swing in America

Reports Renew of Interest in Political Issues

Finds Economic Conditions Generally Sound

The victory of the Conservatives in Britain's recent election will be reflected in an increased vote for the Republican ticket at the polls in this country, next Tuesday, in the opinion of E. E. Calvin of Omaha, vice-president of the Union Pacific Railroad system.

Mr. Calvin, who is at the Biltmore, said the result of the election in England indicates a return to conservatism and sanity in government in that country.

"I believe it marks the beginning of a reaction against the radical tendencies that have prevailed throughout the world since the war, and that the action of the British electorate will be repeated in other countries, first of all the United States," said Calvin. "The radical element of England has had its fling at government. That its rule was not a success is indicated by its overwhelming defeat, and I believe the American people are going to benefit by the experience of the Britons."

SEES COOLIDGE VICTORY

Calvin added that he had observed political developments in this country closely during the last several months, and that in his opinion there is no doubt that Coolidge will win.

"One of the most favorable signs is the increase in interest in the election on the part of the more conservative element of the people," he observed. "Of the almost 50 per cent of the voters who failed to cast their ballots at the last Presidential election, a majority represented the conservatives. This time these people have been awakened to the importance of expressing themselves. This awakening has been particularly marked during the last two or three weeks, and I am of the opinion that the returns will show a larger vote at this election than at any previous time in the history of the country."

Calvin stated that his presence here at this time has no particular significance, this being merely one of his periodical visits to look after the business of his company in this section.

REVIVAL POSSIBLE

"The railroad business has not been of such volume this year as last, due mainly to the slowing up of all forms of activity prior to the election," he said. "A mass of reports received by our offices indicate, however, that if the election results in a Republican victory, a revival of business will follow immediately.

"Economic and financial conditions throughout the country are excellent, particularly in the Middle West, where the recent increase in the prices of agricultural products has placed the farmer in better shape financially than at any time since the depression. He is rapidly paying off his obligations and is laying plans for future improvements, in case conditions remain unchanged, all of which is having its effect in augmenting the general prosperity of this section. The same thing is true in the mountain region, where an increase in the price of metals has worked to the advantage of the mining interests."

PAMPHLETS ON TRAFFIC RULES FREE

Police Safety Bureau to Distribute 300,000 at Automobile Show

A total of 300,000 pamphlets explaining traffic regulations of the city and State will be distributed to the public at the twelfth annual automobile show at Exposition Park from November 1 to 9, by Sergt. McCaleb, head of the police safety bureau, and two of his assistants.

The distribution of the pamphlets will form part of an anti-accident program to be carried out by the police bureau during the show. The pamphlets will include jay-walking edicts, warnings to motorists, traffic maps of the city showing stop restrictions and speed-limit regulations, and charts illustrating the increase in the number of accidents from 1917 to 1924.

Sergt. McCaleb and his two assistants also will be present at the show every afternoon and evening to answer questions of motorists.

Fire Company Heads' Pay Rise Plan Approved

The Board of Fire Commissioners yesterday gave its approval to a petition to the City Council filed by a special committee representing the 175 company commanding officers of the fire department who hold ratings as captains and lieutenants, asking that their salaries be increased. The petition, which was signed by Lieut. James T. McCann, chairman, and the other members of the committee pointed out that the salaries of firemen and other officers had been greatly increased during the last twenty years in excess of the increases given the commanding officers. A fire company commanding officer now receives $195 a month, and the petition asks that this salary be increased to $235 a month, which is the same salary received by a police department detective lieutenant.

New Design in Upholstered Group

Rouses Great Enthusiasm For Both Its Beauty and Its Moderate Price

The group is delightful! First the solid walnut, carved base—richness, dignity—there! Then the satisfying lines! See the graceful curves—the ample depth that guarantees utter comfort and relaxation. And the coverings! Only the newest and most interesting fabrics have been used. Lovely colorings—rich textures. And above all the price! Such beauty and such dignity—and prices extremely moderate. For example:

One group covered with a lovely Jacquard velour in tete de negre and rose combined with tete de negre Ramie velour—exquisite—prices, the sofa at $120
Chair, $70; Wing Chair, $72.

Another especially attractive treatment shows a plain blue mohair covering with faun and gold damask cushions. A rich combination—beautiful! The sofa priced at $135
Chair, $74; Wing Chair, $76.

Reed Group Displays Beauty At Very Low Price

Here is the opportunity to introduce color—joyous, stimulating color—into your home scheme. This particular group is made of carefully selected machine cut reed, bleached and woven by skilled craftsmen to give perfectly finished pieces in graceful flowing lines. Extremely comfortable—and the price! Think of it—in natural reed—

Settee, $25. Chair, $11.50.
Chaise Longue $21.50

May be had in any color or combination of colors at a small additional charge. Help in choosing upholstery materials for cushions and working out color schemes gladly given.

47-Piece Dinner Set, Only $9.95

A bargain! A lovely design—conventional medallion of black and pink rose buds with gold lines—a beauty. And fine quality, too. Regular Knowles, Taylor Knowles semi-porcelain. Complete service for six—with six each of cups, saucers, fruit dishes, soup plates and 4-in., 5-in. and 7-in. plates, and one each of 8-in. and 10-in. platters, round and oval vegetable dishes and gravy bowl.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

One of the beautifully appointed weddings of the week was that Tuesday evening, of Miss Marguerite Platt, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Platt of Pasadena, who plighted her troth to Frank Valentine Marshall in the First Presbyterian Church of the Crown City, Rev. Robert H. Freeman, D.D., officiating. The gorgeous shades of autumn, orchid and yellow, were employed in the church decoration, and the stately bride was assisted by her young sister, Miss Evelyn Platt, as maid of honor, while Mrs. Lloyd De Wese was matron of honor, and the bridesmaids included Misses Louise Ley, Dorothy Welch, Lorice Hotaling and Doris Dean. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in an imported gown of satin and velvet, embroidered in pearls and crystals, with long train. The filmy veil of tulle, edged with lace, completely enveloped her, and fell in a court train, fastened to the head by a coronet of duchess lace. She carried orchids, rosebuds and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore yellow brocaded moire, with trimmings of ermine tails and she carried roses to correspond. The matron of honor was attired in orchid and silver brocade metal cloth, and carried roses and foliage, while the bridesmaids were costumed in yellow and orchid georgette, and carried sweet peas and ferns. All the attendants wore becoming bandeaus in their hair which added an artistic touch to the effect. Little Joan Lehman was the dainty flower girl. Lawrence Platt served Mr. Marshall as best man, and the ushers included Jackson Kemball, Edward Doriestein, John Wilke, Fred Waitney Marshall and Lloyd De Wese. After the wedding ceremony a reception and supper followed at the home of the bride's parents in North El Molino avenue, where the decorations carried out the same color scheme. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall will make their home in Pasadena, where they are completing a new home at 1161 Armada Drive.

For Visitor

Honoring Mrs. Telfair Creighton of La Jolla, who is visiting Mrs. Anna Shaw Lowe at her home in North Larchmont Boulevard, Mrs. Bruce H. Cass entertained yesterday afternoon with a mah jongg tea at her home in Fourth avenue. Others sharing honors with the visitor were Mrs. Lowe, Mrs. A. B. Smith and Mrs. Christian C. Rohrer. Mrs. Creighton was the guest for several days of her sister, Miss Bettie Meade Creighton, in St. James Park, and is returning home Sunday.

Bridge Luncheon

One of the delightful affairs of the week was the bridge luncheon with which Mrs. Marian Churchill-McCartney of Estrella avenue entertained yesterday afternoon at the Wilshire Country Club, honoring Mrs. Russell Drinkwater and Mrs. Edgar Stapper of Denver. Mrs. Drinkwater, who has been in Southern California all summer, is returning shortly to her eastern home, while Mrs. Stapper is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stapper, in Ivar avenue, Hollywood. The decorations were effectively carried out in the Halloween motif, an immense basket filled with chrysanthemums in yellow, bronze and brown, combined with autumn leaves, centering the table, while the favors and place cards were Halloween fancies, marking covers for sixteen guests.

At the Virginia

Angelenos who have been sojourning for the week-end at Hotel Virginia, Long Beach, include Mrs. J. W. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Will C. Harris, Edythe L. Holliday, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Gieke, Mrs. J. Fearnley, C. W. Fearnley, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brewster, Mrs. Ray Steele, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Ames and Mr. and Mrs. L. Lyons.

Honeymooning Here

Mr. and Mrs. Walter K. Neill are in Los Angeles to remain for a brief stay before continuing their journey northward, following their marriage in La Jolla the 24th inst. Mrs. Neill was formerly Miss Edith Gunn, and her marriage to the young Coronadan was one of the interesting affairs of the month. After their wedding trip they will make their home in Coronado.

Carlton-Hayes

Mrs. Laura H. Carlton announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Lillian Mabury Carlton, to Harry McDonald Hays of Worthington, Ind., the ceremony taking place at the Drake Hotel, Chicago, the 21st inst. Miss Florence Wallace of Chicago assisted as maid of honor, and Harvey Wallace served Mr. Hays as best man. The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace, which white lace picture hat, while the maid of honor was attired in a lace gown with orchid picture hat. A dinner at the Drake followed the ceremony, which was attended by immediate relatives and a few close friends. Mr. and Mrs. Hays will be at home after December 1 in Jackson, Tenn. Mrs. Carlton and her daughter, whose home here is in Elden avenue, went to Chicago several weeks ago.

At Country Club

The Midwick Country Club is planning a celebration dinner-dance for Halloween tomorrow evening, when the decorations will carry out the yellow and black in flowers and fancies, those planning to be hosts at dinner including Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Etienne, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Price, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Delano, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Sussell, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pitcher, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Byron McNulty, Mrs. Albert E. R. Carscallem, Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Pitner, Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. Allen J. Murphy.

Church Wedding

The marriage of Miss Mary Louise Simon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Simon of West Boulevard, to John E. Bell Bishop, son of Richard Moore Bishop, and the late Mrs. Bishop of Eighth avenue, will be solemnized at half past five tomorrow afternoon in St. John's Church, West Adams street, Rev. George Davidson officiating. Miss Clara Simon will assist her sister as maid of honor, and Mr. Simon will give his daughter in marriage. J. B. Flora will serve Mr. Bishop as best man. Little Carolyn Jane Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Howard Thomas (Elizabeth Bishop,) niece of the bridegroom, will be the dainty flower girl, and will carry the ring in a basket of Cecile Brunner roses. After the ceremony a wedding dinner will be served at the Biltmore for the immediate family, and Mr. Bishop will take his bride East for their wedding trip, making their home here after their return.

Club Dance

The Leaders' Club, one of the foremost young people's Jewish clubs of the city, will hold its annual dance at the Friday Morning clubhouse in South Figueroa street, Wednesday evening, November 5. Part of the proceeds of this dance have already been appropriated for various Jewish reliefs through the city.

Felicitations

Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Alvan Burrows are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a tiny daughter Tuesday morning the 28th inst. The dainty little miss has been named Lyla Jane. Both mother and daughter are doing nicely.

Afternoon Tea

One of the delightful affairs scheduled for tomorrow afternoon will be the Political Tea for which Mr. and Mrs. Isadore B. Dockweiler are planning to open their home, 957 West Adams street. The hours are from 3 to 6 and their many friends are invited to be present. Assisting the hosts will be Mrs. Hancock Banning, Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, Mrs. Grantland Seaton Long, Mrs. Robert London, Mrs. William J. Chichester, Hon. and Mrs. Thomas Patter, Mr. and Mrs. Chappel Q. Stanton, Judge and Mrs. Benjamin F. Bledsoe, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Shepherd, Mr. and Mrs. Mattison Boyd Jones, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Superfluous Hair, Roots And All, Quickly Go!

At last! A genuinely effective method of removing unsightly hairy growths has been discovered. The phelactine process does not merely take off the hair-ends; it actually removes the roots! It does this quickly and harmlessly. It does not act anything like the depilatory, electrical, or other methods. Phelactine is non-odorous, non-poisonous, non-irritating. Get a stick of it from your druggist, follow the simple instructions, and have the satisfaction of seeing the roots themselves removed.—(Advertisement.

Los Angeles Times
THRIFT CLUB
SAVE AT LEAST ONE COIN EACH DAY

Tomorrow Children's Day!

Thousands of pocket savings banks are being unpacked for the biggest day's distribution which has yet to take place in The Times thrift campaign---Saturday, Children's Day!

A bright little bank will be waiting for every boy and girl who calls. With every bank will go a one-dollar check good for opening a savings account. No obligation on your part. Nothing to do but step up and receive one. (Children under 12 years must be accompanied by an adult.)

Novel Attractions

will help to make Saturday a gala day for the young folks. Children's favorite film stars will help distribute Talisman banks in the main lobby of The Times Building, Broadway and First, on Saturday, between the hours of 10 a.m. and noon, and 2 to 4 p.m.

Children of Today—Citizens of Tomorrow!

On parents rests the solemn duty of teaching right principles. Nothing exceeds thrift in importance. The Times wants to co-operate in teaching this lesson to local boys and girls. YOU FURNISH THE YOUNGSTER. THE TIMES WILL FURNISH A BANK AND A CHECK.

Regular distribution of banks and checks will continue today and tomorrow at The Times Main Office, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., and at the Times Branch Office, 8 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.

Orange Pekoe

Written large on the minds of tea-drinkers now are two fragrant words: Orange Pekoe. But—let this "settle" in your tea-cup: there is orange pekoe and orange pekoe. To get the real, flavor-full Orange Pekoe at your grocer's you must prefix it with Tree Tea, thus: "Tree Tea Orange Pekoe." In this way you will get the most in orange pekoe tea-enjoyment. And—equally enjoyable—you will pay less!

—for those who prefer green tea there's Tree Tea Japan

League of Penwomen

In the Italian Garden of the Mary Louise Tea Room the Los Angeles branch League of American Penwomen conducted a delightful meeting luncheon Tuesday with Mrs. Bertha Lincoln Heustis presiding.

Helen Lukens Gaut spoke on the subject of fire protection and reforestation and recounted stories of John Muir. Miss Laura Matthews, a newspaper woman, who had interviewed Emilie Coue, told of her experiences with the celebrated Frenchman, and Eva Hamilton Young read a group of original poems.

Mme. Rusena Sprotte discussed modern opera and "American Women in Business" was the subject of Dr. R. Owen.

The Play Crafters

Young women who are interested in playwriting will have an opportunity to meet and hear Miss Anna Murray read a three-act play of hers, "Cobwebs," at that unique institution, The Playcrafters, at its own studio a la Greenwich village, Rowland hall, 409 Columbia Building, 818 West Third street, this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Miss Murray is a Southern California product in playwriting, many times a prize winner, a number of her "brain children" having been produced. "Cobwebs" is a psychological and problem play. An interesting feature of The Playcrafters is that all members "dig in" and "agree to disagree" in their caustic criticisms of plays read before it for comment. Young women who would like to find out just what kind of a crucible a play has to pass through before it reaches the public are invited to be present at this drama reading and criticism this evening.

STUFFED CABBAGE

Run through the fine knife of the meat chopper half a pound of lean boiled ham and half a pound of cooked beef; add to the meat one small onion and one seeded green pepper and run through the chopper again. Season high with salt, nutmeg, paprika and allspice; add one beaten egg, one tablespoonful of catsup and enough water to moisten. Boil a small head of cabbage for twenty minutes; cut out the stalk with a sharp knife and fill the cavity with the meat mixture; tie over the whole a piece of the stalk and steam one hour. Serve with melted butter.

PUREE OF TOMATOES

Bring one quart of milk to a boil and stir into it two tablespoonfuls of butter and a seasoning of salt and pepper. Bring two cupfuls of strained tomatoes to a boil, add one-quarter of a teaspoonful of soda and half a cupful of cracker crumbs; stir the tomatoes into the hot milk and serve at once.

PLANKED HAM STEAK

Have the butcher cut a two and half pound slice from the center of good ham; place in a baking dish, almost cover with cider, sprinkle with two teaspoonfuls of whole cloves and bake two hours, or until tender. Lift out to a hot platter and garnish with mounds of seasoned rice and Brussels sprouts.

LETTUCE AND PEPPER SALAD

Rub a cold bowl with a clove of crushed garlic, remove the garlic and mix in the bowl two heads of shredded lettuce, two chopped seeded green peppers, one chopped pimiento and a dressing made by mixing until smooth half a teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of paprika, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, four tablespoonfuls of olive oil, four tablespoonfuls of thick cream and one chopped, hard-boiled egg.

BANANA PIE

Mix two cupfuls of sliced ripe bananas with two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and half a cupful of sugar; place the mixture in a baked pie shell. Whip one cupful of cream to a stiff froth and beat into it two tablespoonfuls of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of shredded cocoanut and one tablespoonful of orange juice; pile lightly on the banana filling and serve at once.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Combined Fruits

Many housewives are canning various fruits together this year. They make delightful salads, desserts and fruit cups for next winter.

The Christmas List

How about that Christmas list? Now is the time to make it out and get your shopping done before you have to fight you way to a counter.

Use Good Soap

Some housewives economize on the quality of soap for washing dishes and then wonder why their hands are rough and red. If pure soap is used for this task the difference in the price will soon be made up in hand lotions that must be used to get those hands into condition again.

Bed Lamps

When making the attractive reading lamps that clamp on the head-board of the bed, it is wise to make the innermost lining of either white or cream-colored silk. It will create a much brighter light for reading than when a vivid color is used. The light lining may then be covered with the shade desired.

Easier Ironing

Clothes that are sprinkled evenly, folded somewhat in the lines in which they will be ironed and then rolled tightly will mean speedier and better work for the ironer.

Aching Feet

A handful of Epsom salts in a foot tub of hot water is a splendid solution to ease those tired and swollen feet. Soak them for about an hour and note the improvement.

Just a Little Thought

Pass on the magazines when the family has read them. There are plenty of institutions that will welcome them and much good will be done with little effort and no expense on your part.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

HE THAT CONQUERETH

"Dear Doctor: I am one of your ardent followers. I shrank my stomach and took my appetite in hand so that it would obey me, and it does so beautifully and has for a long time.

"Will you tell me if there will be any ill results in using a hair depilatory in the nostrils? C."

Of course, no one can predict what chronic irritations would result. I have known of cases where the hairs from the nostrils have been pulled out for years, without any apparent ill results. The formula for a standard depilatory was sent you if you enclosed a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Did you do that?

Your victory is glorious. "He that conquereth his spirit is greater than he that taketh a city."

YOU CAN GAIN, TOO

"Dear Doctor Lulu: It's no difference whether they call you 'Hunt Peters' or 'Pete Hunters'—you're a dear and I have had it on my mind for a long time to tell you how much good you have done for me.

"By counting my calories I was able to gain twelve pounds in six weeks, but as I am five feet, five and one-half inches in height and weigh 119, I still need some more pounds. Last winter I spent two months in Texas and became so anemic I could not sit up. I was told to eat more beef. I accumulated so much rheumatism in my knees that I'm ashamed to have anybody hear me go up or down stairs. Now I'm on a maintenance diet. How much should I eat to gain and get rid of my squeaky joints? It's so hard to eat during hot weather but I'm anxious to keep up the good work of padding my bones and building up my blood. MRS. N. E."

Your squeaky joints, unaccompanied by pains, show a low grade of inflammation with too little lubricating fluid. You are probably suffering from acidosis from your long period of undereating. I believe that when you gain to normal you will improve. It probably was not the beef alone that gave you the rheumatism, but you might have taken too much beef and with your bread, cereals and sweets, you had a diet that was too acid forming. The acid forming foods are meat, fish, egg whites, cereals and bread. That leaves fruit, vegetables, nuts and milk for your alkaline foods. We need acid forming as well as nonacid forming foods, but the diet should be largely from the nonacid group because the body fluids and blood must be maintained in a slightly alkaline state.

If I were you, I would continue to eat enough calories to gain to normal weight. You can probably eat from 2500 to 3000 calories a day. Include at least a quart of milk a day. One simple measure of increasing your calories is to take an egg yolk, in one-half glass of orange juice after each meal. After you get used to one egg yolk, make it two. They contain iron and vitamins and good fat. Rest and sleep as much as possible. The iron containing foods are as follows.

Vegetables: Spinach, string beans, cabbage, brussels sprouts, celery, tomatoes, carrots, peas and potatoes.

Animal foods: Lean meats (fish is not high in iron) and egg yolks (egg yolks have a very high percentage.)

Cereals: Whole wheat and oatmeal.

Nuts: Almonds, peanuts and walnuts.

Fruits: Dried fruits—dates, figs, prunes and raisins—are relatively high. Fresh fruits, while they do not contain a high percentage of iron, have it in a valuable form.

TUBERCULOSIS

Mr. E.—No, you do not have to go to a warmer climate to be cured of tuberculosis. You can live out-of-doors most anywhere if you are dressed warmly enough. Send for our article on the subject. It tells about diet, etc. You are, of course, under the care of a physician?

Tomorrow: Answers to Correspondents.

My dear followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing or gaining is the only one for which you must inclose 10 cents in stamps or coin. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 250 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally if prescribed by your mail. I am beautiful letters you send me, and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you send will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Hallowe'en is given over to the youngsters, and those who feel themselves young.

The older folks, on whom rests the responsibility of seeing the brood finally tucked away safely, will devote the evening to bridge, mah jongg or other social pleasures—light refreshments included. The beverage ought to be Brown Mill, a very splendid coffee, —worth telling again, about the 5c a pound saving on this highest grade coffee, due to the "economy" package.

MATE TOOK IN HER RIVAL, WIFE SAYS

Other Woman Kept Baby Diary; Home Was Ruined, She Charges in Suit

When Harley R. Arnold found a woman he liked better than his wife, he did not falter in the matter, according to the divorce complaint of Mrs. Amerila C. Arnold filed yesterday.

Without further ado, he promptly moved the other woman into the home, along with Mrs. Arnold and their three children, the complaining wife declared. She named Myrtle South as the other woman.

The intruder, according to Mrs. Arnold, added insult to injury by keeping a diary in which she blithely referred to Arnold as "Daddy," to herself as "co-respondent" and to Mrs. Arnold as "Myrtle dy's wife." On the 6th inst., Mrs. Arnold said, the home was raided by police and Arnold and the "co-respondent" arrested on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of the children.

FOREST PATROL RIDER KILLED

Motorcycle Hits City Bus in Pomona

Young Man's Head Crushed in Accident

Witnesses Clear Auto Driver of Blame

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

POMONA, Oct. 30.—His head crushed when the motorcycle he was riding plunged into a city transit motor bus, Freeman Palmer, 19 years of age, one of the United States Army special forest patrol stationed at San Dimas, was instantly killed shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Palmer, riding his motorcycle, with a sidecar attached, suddenly swerved into the path of the huge bus as the two vehicles approached each other on La Verne Road about one-half mile west of Garey avenue. Both were traveling at a fair rate of speed when they came together, and Palmer was thrown to the pavement with such force that his head was crushed.

The body was first taken to the Pomona Valley Hospital, where it was ascertained that life was extinct and later it was removed to the undertaking parlors awaiting disposition. Passengers on the bus exonerated Bruce Ellis, driver of the vehicle, of all blame.

Fines Follow Argument With Aged Preacher

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ONTARIO, Oct. 30.—As a result of hot words between an aged real estate dealer and a minister of the gospel and nasty action on the part of the pastor's young son, two of the participants were out $25 each this afternoon and the Ontario city treasury was $50 to the good.

Charging that Henry T. Essex, age 26, picked him up and threw him bodily from the porch of the Essex home, 430 Florence avenue, when he went to remonstrate with the young man's father, the Rev. I. W. Essex, pastor of the Church of Christ, Holiness, regarding some back payments on real estate, W. A. Lemon, age 61, real estate operator and building contractor of 959 East D street today caused the arrest of the youth on a battery charge.

In the police court before Judge George R. Holbrook, the younger Essex entered a plea of guilty, but explained that the aged realtor had waxed so abusive with his father that he had been spurred to action. After pointing out to the youth the error of taking the law into his own hands, Judge Holbrook pronounced a fine of $25, which he paid.

No sooner had this case been disposed of than the Rev. Mr. Essex appeared in court to swear to a complaint for the arrest of Mr. Lemon on a charge of disturbing the peace. When brought into court, the real estate dealer entered a plea of guilty and he in turn paid a $25 fine.

HONEST THIEVES STEAL THIS CAR

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HANFORD, Oct. 30.—Sheriff "Bill" Himes of Kings county says he has his faith in human nature revived every little while, despite the fact that autos are reported stolen every few days and there is always something doing in the criminal line. For instance: A small car belonging to Algie Benton was stolen from in front of one of the leading business houses of Hanford. A car was reported as standing near the highway some eighteen miles south of Hanford and upon investigation it proved to be the Benton car. Residents of that section said the car had been there eight days, yet it was still intact, not a thing missing, though there were four new tires on the wheels of the car and the owner's overcoat and other things were in the car.

OWENSMOUTH GIRL IN AUTO ACCIDENT

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

OWENSMOUTH, Oct. 30.—Miss Helen B. Feift of this city who is employed as secretary by Leo B. Lesperance, Van Nuys real estate man, is in Burbank Hospital with severe fractures to both hips as a result of an automobile accident in Santa Susana Pass, from which she may be crippled for life. Miss Feift was driving her Ford coupe when she hit a large rock in the highway. Her machine turned over, pinning her underneath. The rock had been carelessly left in the road by a truck driver who had blocked up the rear wheel of his machine while attempting to make the steep grade at the place of the accident. Miss Feift is well known in social circles in San Fernando Valley.

BOY FIREMAN SAVES AUTOS

Six-Year-Old Lad is to Be Made Honorary Member in Department

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 30. Lloyd Smith, 6 years of age, 1024 Seventh street, this morning saved five automobiles from destruction by fire when he succeeded in extinguishing a blaze in a garage in an alley near his home.

The boy, who is to be made an honorary member of the Santa Monica fire department, was on his way to school when he noticed the flames. He rushed to a nearby water faucet and carried several pails of water, extinguishing the blaze before any damage had been done.

The fire was caused by live coals in ashes which had been dumped in the rear of the building.

PROBATION PERMITS WEDDING

Ontario Youth, Freed by Court, to Marry School-Teacher Next Sunday

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 30.—Convicted by a jury that ignored Superior Judge Jesse Olney's instructions to acquit, Albert Wellborn, an Ontario youth, was paroled today by the jurist. Wellborn was found guilty of an assault to attack Peggy Colburn, 14-year-old school girl.

In asking probation for Wellborn, his counsel, O. N. Hilton, declared Wellborn was engaged to marry an Ontario school-teacher next Sunday. He pleaded for a chance for Wellborn to be returned to society and prove himself worthy of the faith the woman who is to be his wife has in him in the face of conviction for the crime.

Dist.-Atty. Johnson severely criticised Hilton for making such a plea, declaring that he had no respect for Wellborn for dragging the name of another woman into the case.

In the trial Judge Olney granted the defense motion to instruct the jury to acquit Wellborn on the grounds of insufficient evidence. The jury, however, ignored the jurist's instructions and convicted Wellborn.

NEW BANKING HOUSE

Hellman Huntington Park Branch Nicely Located

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON PARK, Oct. 30. Several hours were taken last night by "movers" who were engaged in moving the large safes, the books and other belongings of the Huntington Park branch of the Hellman bank to it's new location, and the work was completed about the midnight hour, the establishment opening this morning in the new home.

The new building, which was completed two days ago, is the largest office and bank building in the city. It occupies the southeast corner of Clarendon and Pacific Boulevards. The bank's counting room is 43x75 feet, the ceiling being twenty-four feet high.

Besides the bank proper, there is a double storeroom on the Pacific Boulevard frontage, while on the Clarendon street frontage there are two storerooms and a large garage.

On the second and third floors, there are forty-eight office rooms, these having hardwood floors, running water, heaters and clothes closets.

The entrance to the office part of the building is from the Pacific Boulevard frontage, and besides the stairways, a large passenger elevator has also been installed.

The building was erected at a cost of $100,000, it is said, and is known by the main bank as Huntington Park branch No. 14.

HOLD UP FRANCHISE

Inglewood Council Asks Oil Company for Data

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

INGLEWOOD, Oct. 30.—A franchise will not be granted the Los Angeles Midway Pipe Line Company, affiliated with the Doheny interests, until the concern furnishes the Inglewood city trustees the names and the terms on which the company has secured similar franchises in other Southern California municipalities, it was decided by the City Council last night.

The city trustees are averse to having the streets torn up for the passage of a pipe line unless suitable compensation is paid. By law the municipality is entitled to 3 per cent of the receipts of the company.

For more than a month attorneys for the pipe line concern have been endeavoring to secure a right of way through Inglewood to the Harbor. Such a right of way will provide a cheap form of transportation for petroleum from the new local field. A provision in the proposed franchise has been stipulated by the city to the effect that if the concern gives service to any other community along its right of way, Inglewood should be accorded the same service.

SLAP AT DIRECTORS

Chamber of Commerce Members Adopt Strong Set of Protest Resolutions

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 30.—Recent action by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce in opposing the El Capitan water development project and favoring instead the construction of a dam in Mission Gorge, has brought a protest from several hundred members of the organization. It is maintained that the directors' action was taken without first ascertaining the sentiments of the membership.

At the meeting of the directors, a minority report supporting the city administration's $4,500,000 El Capitan project, was rejected, and a compromise plan was recommended.

A protest, said to represent more than 400 members of the chamber, and signed by a score of prominent business men, was drafted today, it reads:

"We, the undersigned members of the Chamber of Commerce, do hereby enter our vigorous protest against the action taken by the board of directors of said Chamber of Commerce in executive session, on the 27th inst., relative to the pending bond election for additional water supplies for the city of San Diego, we holding that said board had no right nor power to bind its entire membership on a matter of civic interest as that concerning the water needs of the city.

"Further, we wish to go on record as favoring the proposed bond issue for development of the El Capitan dam and reservoir as placed before the voters of the city by the Common Council for a vote on Tuesday, November 18, 1924."

ANDY IS POPULAR

Pasadena Kiwanis Club Favors Gump Boom

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Oct. 30.—Andy Gump was given a rousing cheer at the "political day" ceremonies held at the Pasadena Kiwanis Club this noon. Stump speeches, music and a parade through the business section of the city featured the program.

Although there were speakers for Calvin Coolidge, John Davis and Robert La Follette, Andy Gump claimed the lion's share of the enthusiasm. If applause and cheers count future votes, Andy Gump will undoubtedly sweep Pasadena with a heavy majority.

J. W. Eberle, Henry Dickson, Lawrence Jones and David J. O'Leary were the campaign speakers of the day. The parade in which more than 100 cars participated was lead by Chief of Police Kelley, Capt. O'Dell and C. W. Norris.

TALK TO KIWANIANS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SOUTH PASADENA, Oct. 30.—Prof. R. Meyer Langer, head of the department of economics at the California Institute of Technology, addressed the members of the Kiwanis Club yesterday on the details of the Dawes report on reparations.

Guy Richards Crump, president of the club, who was appointed as a superior judge of Los Angeles county last Tuesday, spoke briefly of his regret at being forced to resign from the positions of City Recorder and justice of the peace which he has held for a number of years.

BURGLARS RUIN ROOF

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

BRAWLEY, Oct. 30.—Burglars literally tore off the roof of a drug store here and got away with loot valued at $100. Finding entrance to the store impossible at other points, the thieves apparently used axes in cutting a hole in the roof and let themselves down with ropes. The stolen property included mostly jewelry, fountain pens and other articles that in the opinion of the police indicate that the burglary was the work of Mexicans.

SANE HALLOWEEN

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON PARK, Oct. 30. It is the intention of the city to celebrate Halloween in a very sane manner tomorrow night. The city has engaged the services of eight extra men to act in the capacity of police officers to arrest anyone caught in the destruction of property.

Alhambra to Have Music of Its Own

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

ALHAMBRA, Oct. 30.—That Alhambra is to have a long-desired municipal band and orchestra available for community sings, civic functions and other functions was announced today. Dr. J. Campbell Johnson, a noted bandmaster and orchestra leader of England and Canada, and during the war director of the Eleventh Irish Fusileers Band of Canada, will have charge of the new musical organization.

In the city budget this year funds were set aside for the purpose of organizing a band and orchestra. The present plan has the indorsement of the Chamber of Commerce and city officials are said to be in accord with the project.

A preliminary meeting to perfect plans for the musical enterprise will be held on November 7 in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. According to present plans the municipal orchestra will consist of both men and women musicians.

Dr. Johnson, who was formerly conductor of the Seaforth Military Band of Liverpool, and of the Southport Symphony Orchestra, will locate permanently in Alhambra, he announced today.

London used to buy all of Costa Rica's coffee, but now America takes 34 per cent and London only 60 per cent.

AUTHOR AIDS HERO FUND

Favors Monument to the Memory of Noble Woman

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 30.—Rupert Hughes, famed author, today contributed $100 to the fund to erect a monument to the memory of the late Mrs. T. G. Kelty, who slashed her breasts that her little niece, Meredith Waterbury, might nurse from her blood while lost for three days in a mountain canyon. Mrs. Kelty's husband died in the wreck of his automobile and she with the girl was helpless in the canyon for three days. Mrs. Kelty died Sunday night, three days after her rescue.

Mr. Hughes wrote:

"Since there is no more precious quality in human life than self-sacrifice for another's sake, with no thought of reward and fame and since the devotion of Mrs. Kelty was so peculiarly beautiful and self forgetful, hidden from sight, in pain, terror and privation, a monument to her would be a monument to one of the loftiest of human achievements. It would give me pleasure to contribute $100 toward a fund for such a purpose. She shed her blood not for conquest or glory, but to sustain a fellow-sufferer whose agony she shared."

VICTIM OF KLAN LAW TO PLEAD

Aged Resident of Ontario to Answer Charge in Justice Court

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ONTARIO, Oct. 30.—A. McDougal, 71 years of age, who has been much in the limelight since his arrest a month ago, when he sustained a fractured skull in an attack by asserted members of the Ku Klux Klan, will be given a preliminary examination on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of 12-year-old Zelda Hollingworth in Judge George R. Holbrook's court here, November 7, it was announced today, following arraignment of the aged man, after he had been adjudged mentally sound at a sanity hearing before Superior Judge Benjamin F. Warmer.

McDougal's bail was fixed at $2000, in lieu of which he was turned over to the Sheriff. Complaint against the man was sworn to by W. B. Hollingworth, father of the girl in the case, a local tile manufacturer and prominent Klansman. McDougal is said to have attempted to lure the Hollingworth girl to his room in a local hotel with promises of candy and cash. The girl promptly told her father, who, instead of notifying the police, is said to have assembled a group of asserted Klansmen friends and to have attempted to take the law into their own hands.

In the attack which followed, McDougal sustained a fractured skull and was only recently released from the County Hospital. The case has been the subject of a county grand jury investigation.

OCCUPANTS INJURED WHEN CAR TURNS OVER

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ALHAMBRA, Oct. 30.—Grazed by another machine which was passing, a small coupe in which were Mrs. Robert J. Ogden and her small son of San Gabriel, was overturned today on Valley Boulevard at Almansor street. Both occupants of the car were badly injured and were extricated from the remains of their machine with difficulty.

Mrs. Ogden was found to have suffered deep scalp wounds and severe bruises. The boy was also bruised and cut. They were treated at the Alhambra Hospital.

NOTED SPEAKERS AT MISSIONARY MEETING

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DINUBA, Oct. 30.—Speakers from many places, including missionaries from Africa, appeared at the Presbytery of the southern section of the San Joaquin Valley in session here today, as guests of the Presbyterian Missionary Society of Dinuba.

Miss Margara E. Hodge of New York, vice-president of the board of missions for the United States of America, was chief speaker before the women's gathering. "Mission Work of the Church" was the subject of the day's discussions. Luncheon was served at noon.

HOLD CHARTER ELECTION

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON PARK, Oct. 30. Having recently completed their work of framing a charter the Board of Freeholders has filed it with the City Trustees, and this body, at an adjourned meeting, has set Monday, January 12, of next year as the date for the special election, when the voters will decide whether or not they wish a change in the form of city government.

The charter is a lengthy document, covering forty pages of typewritten material. It provides for a Mayor, Chief of Police, superintendent of streets, Fire Chief, City Clerk, City Treasurer, Park Commission and various other city officials.

ELKS AID ARMY AT DEDICATION

Social Service Building Opened in Pasadena

Fraternal Organization is Co-worker

Out-of-Town Notables Attend Ceremonies

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Oct. 30.—Dedication services of the new men's social service building of the Salvation Army at 34 North Delacy street were held here this evening in the presence of a large gathering of Salvation Army workers, contributors and city officials.

The new building, specially designed for men's social service work, represents the combined efforts of the Pasadena Elks, Salvation Army building committee, hundreds of contibutors and the Salvation Army members themselves.

Harry M. Tickner, chairman of the advisory board of the Salvation Army for Southern California, presided at the services this evening. He outlined briefly the history of the Pasadena organization and traced its steps of progress.

The honored guest and principal speaker of the occasion was Commissioner A. Gifford of San Francisco. He delivered the dedicatory address. C. W. Koiner, City Manager of Pasadena, represented the city, C. Hal Reynolds, the Pasadena Elks' Club, and the benediction was offered by Col. W. J. B. Turner of San Francisco.

Special music for the impressive occasion was provided by the Pasadena Elks' Club band, Salvation Army band, and soloists from the Elks' Club.

Makes Young Men Ashamed of Themselves

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

PASADENA, Oct. 30.—Maj. Harvey Bates, 90-year-old Republican, thinks so much of Calvin Coolidge that he is going to travel to Tucson, Ariz. tomorrow to be on hand November 4 to cast his vote for the President. Maj. Bates lives in Pasadena but is a registered voter of the neighboring State.

Despite his ninety years, Maj. Bates is making the trip solely for the purpose of voting. "I am firmly convinced that it is the duty of every American citizen to vote and I intend to do so November 4. I shall vote for Calvin Coolidge because I believe he stands for every true American principal."

RUTH NOT TO PLAY

Heavy Hitter Must Take Rest After Today

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 30.—Babe Ruth cannot appear in Porterville on November 11. Baseball Commissioner Landis has wired local civic organizations and legionnaires that baseball rules fix October 31 as the final date for league baseball men and that he is without authority to extend the time.

Local authorities had asked that the post season be extended by special dispensation to include Armistice Day in order that Ruth might appear in an exhibition game here in connection with the annual celebration staged on that day under auspices of Porterville Post No. 30, American Legion.

WINS IN RACE TO SHIP FIRST FRUIT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WOODLAKE, Oct. 30.—Expectations of Porterville district of being the first section of Tulare county, and perhaps the State, to ship navels to the eastern markets, were defeated last night when two cars left the F. H. Lancashire packinghouse for the Chicago auction market.

They came from Naranjo district, east of Woodlake, where oranges ripen quite early each season. Shipments are also expected to be made this week from several other local houses which are now filled with fruit.

Growers north of here have started picking. The shipment last night breaks local records. Fruit is of good quality testing higher than in recent years, being 1 to 10 and 1 to 12, while legal test is 1 to 8.

ARREST WOMAN FOR KILLING ANIMALS

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Elizabeth Altringer, 1121 Wesley Drive, was today held to answer in Justice Elliot Gibb's court on a charge of poisoning valuable cats and dogs in her neighborhood. She was bound over to the Superior Court of Los Angeles and bail was set at $500.

Neighbors instigated the complaints against the Pasadena woman after fourteen valuable small animals had been found dead, apparently from poison. It was charged that Mrs. Altringer put strychnine on dead chickens and fed them to the cats and dogs.

LANKERSHIM BANK CHANGE

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

LANKERSHIM, Oct. 30.—The First National Bank here has become the Lankershim branch of the California Bank. There will be no change in policy, Stockton Veazey has been appointed branch manager. For several months he has been in Los Angeles a member of the credit department at the head office of the California Bank. He came to the Southland from the National Bank of Commerce, Seattle. Mr. Veazey will make his home here.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

BRAWLEY, Oct. 30.—Two mules, whose present whereabouts are unknown, were the innocent or possibly stubborn cause of a freak automobile accident north of here, according to F. Kiami, Japanese rancher who attempted to lead the animals tied to the rear axle of his automobile truck.

According to the Japanese, he was moving merrily along the highway until his truck reached the new river bridge, which has a wooden floor. Instinctively the mules halted. Their stop was so sudden that it caused the big truck to swerve, just as E. L. Alexander, driving a smaller car, came up behind. His car collided with the truck and both vehicles were dashed through the bridge railing to the river bottom. Neither driver was seriously hurt. Alexander asserted that the mules kicked up so much dust that he could not see the truck on the bridge.

While a crowd gathered to view the wrecks, the mules quietly left the scene and were observed crossing the bridge they had declined to traverse a few moments before.

Man at Van Nuys Raises Tons of Finest Walnuts

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, Oct. 30.—For the first time in the history of Van Nuys and San Fernando Valley, a full carload of Van Nuys-grown walnuts will be shipped out to the Thanksgiving trade in the East.

The walnuts come from the thirty-acre ranch of Samuel Martin of Van Nuys. The nuts are of the Chase variety and bring the highest prices in the select eastern trade.

Martin states that his thirty acres yielded more than twenty-five tons of the nuts, which graded chiefly selects, and for which he received a flat price of 29 cents a pound when delivered to the association warehouse at Lankershim. The total value of the yield is estimated at between $12,000 and $15,000.

The trees on the ranch were planted in 1911, about the time Van Nuys was laid out, in a huge barley field.

AID SOCIETY MEETS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON PARK, Oct. 30. The autumn meeting of the Federated Women's Aid Society of Los Angeles Presbytery was held in the Highland Park Presbyterian Church today with an attendance of 600.

A program including musical numbers, addresses and a pageant was given. A noonday luncheon was one of the day's features.

BLAST OPENS GREAT TUNNEL

Workmen Stage Celebration

Edison Company Nears End of Gigantic Task

Project to Cost More Than Panama Canal

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

FRESNO, Oct. 30.—Amid cheers of workmen far below the earth's surface, Headings [illegible] and Four of the giant Shaver Lake tunnel of the Southern California Edison Company just at noon "holed through" with a single well placed blast at 1:45 p.m. today. The honor of firing the blast which was to the "graveyard" shift of Crew No. 61, going on duty at midnight, Camp 63 had fired a blast at 4:30 p.m. yesterday and were still clearing up the debris during the night. While they were clearing [illegible] was drilling for the blast which when all was ready crowded to the sides of the last remaining section of rock retired 3000 feet and waited for the dull boom which would complete the work of [illegible] ing the two headings.

When the dust settled from the shot it was found that an opening 9 feet by 16 feet had been torn out bringing the two intermediate sections of the tunnel together within the width of a [illegible] gernail. The terrific rush of air from the east and west ends of the sections swept through the tunnel but the opposing [illegible] scrambled over the broken rock and met in mid earth about o'clock this morning and in a flickering light held a weird celebration of their achievement.

To Tunnel Forebay Last

Camp 61 went the best in celebrating his triumphant arrival at the "hole through" where he met Colonel Forman M. Cabe and [illegible] ty men from Camp 63. There was handshaking and cheering and excited voices of the workmen echoing through the long tunnel of 12,000 feet which the "hole through" blast had united at center.

Today's accomplishment is the first of three successive blasts which will mark the completion of the longest tunnel in the history of its bore, at a cost of approximately $17,000,000 and which has been observed by the engineering and construction fraternity of both continents. Its completion will mark the successful finish of one of the most daring and original pieces of engineering ever conceived in the San Joaquin-Big Creek-San Joaquin River project, which will cost $18,000,000 more than the Panama Canal.

The remaining section of the tunnel will "hole through" in February and March and the waters of the upper San Joaquin River will be diverted more than forty miles from their natural course and will flow into Florence Lake through the tunnel under the 10,000-foot Kaiser Mountain into Huntington Lake to accelerate the power of the chain of four Edison powerhouses on the San Joaquin River Canyon and supply others that will be completed.

VOTE SEWER BONDS

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Oct. 30.—The $30,000 sewer bonds of the city of Arroyo Grande were carried in the election there today by a vote of 213 to 3[illegible]. The bonds provide for the extension of the sewer system on Bridge street to the sewer farm.

...ne of Robert Marsh & ...Co. Thorleif Olsen was the arranger of the program and had as his assisting artists the Harding Trio, three charming girls, who play violin, 'cello and piano.

We feel that the contribution of last evening was a sincere appreciation of the entire personnel of the Robert Marsh & Co. for their hours of entertainment and information which come to them nightly over KHJ. We, who boast of the marvelous growth of our city, must not forget that it has been the conscientious and persistent work and enthusiasm of the responsible real estate men that has helped materially. Among these firms the name of Robert Marsh & Co. is an honored one and to their long list of achievements is now being added thousands of new homesites in lovely San Fernando Valley.

Last evening S. P. Lev addressed Radioland on that subject of national importance of casting your ballot at next Tuesday's election, which is the first step toward public welfare and prosperity. The Harding Trio then played those three spendid folk dances of England from "Henry VIII," by Edward German. These were given with the rugged vitality and crisp rhythm so characteristic of the Anglo-Saxon peasant. Miss Harding gave two solos, including the haunting "Canzonetta," by D'Ambrosio.

The fine broadcasting quality of Thorleif Olsen's voice is well known to Radioland. Mr. Olsen specializes in the highest form of American and English ballads. Last night he gave songs including "I Know a Hill," by Benjamin Whelpley and "Pirate Dreams," by Huerter. The program ended with a delightful rendition of "Then You'll Remember Me," by the trio and Mr. Olsen.

From 8 to 9 o'clock we presented an attractive hour which we are sure our family enjoyed including a one-act play entitled, "A Flash of Truth," with Edward our assistant announcer, and Douglas Montgomery. Anton Chris delighted his audience with steel guitar selections and George Hood gave several of his famous old-fashioned readings. Ruth Florence, soprano, sang a group of art songs with skill and sincere enthusiasm for her work. Her accompaniment was furnished by our clever studio pianist, Edyth Petesch.

The noon hour started with a disappointment, due to the fact that Coy Barkley and his men could not be with us, but Paul Adams jumped gallantly into the breach and the hour passed quickly under the fire of his wit and song.

Those of us who love Peter B. Kyne had a beautiful time at 2:30 listening to the sonorous voice of Edward Murphey reading "The Go-Getter." No matter how many times you have heard it its spirit and indomitable courage fill you with renewed ambition for your own problems.

The children's hour brought Jane Adele Riley, 6-year-old reader; Aileen Beier, 12-year-old pianist; Jane Layton, 13-year-old violinist; two pupils of Carter Weaver, Elsa B. Cohn, 9-year-old reader, and Mary Jane Sharp, 7-year-old reader. Charles D. McRoy accompanied by Leo Hye on the guitar furnished genuine light entertainment for both the children and their families.

At 7 p.m. the KHJ studio was honored by the presence of the world flyers, who were presented with their portion of the Appreciation Fund by Capt. John D. Fredericks. It seemed most fitting that this great air feat should receive its crowning reward in the home of that greatest of all air children, Radio KHJ.

Harold Swartz, sculptor, of the faculty of the Otis Art Institute, gave his weekly talk on "Art" at 7:30 and in Sunday's paper you will find some interesting facts about the work Mr. Swarts is doing.

SWIMMING CURING CRIPPLE

Eleven-Year-Old Boy, Infantile Paralysis Victim, Regaining Use of Leg by Exercises

Young Billy Campbell of Los Angeles is swimming his way to normal, sturdy boyhood, in the face of a handicap that was declared by science virtually hopeless. He was born strong and healthy, but four years ago, when he was 7 years of age, infantile paralysis left him with a useless crippled leg.

Now, Billy and his father, Patrick C. Campbell, real estate dealer, are pinning their faith in water exercises under the instruction of Annette Kellerman, vastly encouraged by the results and confident of a complete recovery.

Billy's father, who traveled thousands of miles and consulted many specialists in the hope of restoring health to the lad who had to sit helplessly on the sidelines while his companions engaged in hilarious play.

INSTRUCTOR ADVISES

It was pretty tough for Billy. Sometimes the other kids would feel sorry for him and let him umpire a game of ball. But he wasn't sorry for himself. He confided to his father that when he grew to manhood he intended to become a physician and devote his life to effecting a cure for infantile paralysis.

Last April Campbell visited the Panama Canal Zone. He became acquainted with H. J. Griesser, government instructor in charge of swimming and athletics. Mr. Griesser informed him that several children suffering from Billy's ailment, had recovered complete use of their limbs by strengthening the muscles and restoring the dormant nerves to vitality through swimming.

Campbell heard that Annette Kellerman, herself, had been ill as a child and that she believed she had suffered through infantile paralysis. Her father had taught her to swim. Today she is a woman of remarkable aquatic prowess. He visited Miss Kellerman five weeks ago at the University of Southern California, where she was delivering lectures and supervising athletic courses for the girls. She became interested in Billy's case.

Billy could swim a little, perhaps fifty or a hundred feet at the most. Miss Kellerman took him to the Y.W.C.A. swimming pool and day after day devoted herself to the young patient.

MAY RACE SOON

"Billy's dead leg is coming back to life," said Campbell yesterday. "He can swim 200 yards trudgeon stroke, and is developing so rapidly that within six months, according to Miss Kellerman and doctors who have examined him, he will be able to enter any swimming race with boys of his age up to a quarter of a mile. And from present indications we look to see him a well boy inside of another year."

Miss Kellerman, in commenting on the case, said:

"This is just one of many such cases which bring up the question whether swimming is destined to bridge the gap between the curable and incurable in cases of infantile paralysis, without the aid of a surgical operation.

"All of the instances of which I speak have been with the full consent and co-operation of members of the medical profession. Noted physicians in America and Europe have been interested for several years in the possibilities of the water cure for the after-effects of infantile paralysis, and the successful results in cases I have handled lead me to believe that swimming is to be the long-sought been.

TIE ONLY THE BULL OUTSIDE

Home Zoos for Elephants, Bears, Hippos, Rhinos, Lions, Tigers, Leopards, etc. Must be Made Safe for Democracy if Ordinance Asked by Prosecutor is Adopted

Have you an elephant, bear, rhinoceros, hippopotamus, lion, tiger, leopard, wolf or any other wild, carnivorous or dangerous animal at your home? If you have, give heed! City Prosecutor Friedlander in a letter sent to the City Council yesterday viewed with alarm the growing practice of the people of Los Angeles of keeping wild animals around their houses "to the extreme annoyance of the people residing in the neighborhood as well as a danger to life and property." The City Prosecutor said that he had received many complaints from citizens who had been annoyed or frightened by wild animals in their neighborhoods, and so he recommended that more stringent laws be enacted to regulate, but not prohibit, this new fad of folks of keeping playful lions and tigers at their homes for the amusement of themselves and their children.

Under the ordinance proposed by the City Prosecutor a Los Angeles citizen desiring to tie up a lion or hippopotamus in his back yard must first obtain a permit to do so from the Board of Police Commissioners, and these permits the board will not issue until it is shown that the keeping of said lion or hippopotamus will not be a menace to the neighborhood. The board can provide that the tiger or leopard, as the case may be, must be caged or tethered to prevent the animals from making friendly calls on its owner's neighbors.

Violators of the ordinance are to be fined $500 or sent to jail for six months or both, for each day they have kept a wolf or elephant at their homes without having taken the trouble to secure the necessary permit.

WIFE SUING RICH MATE NAMES TRIO

Corespondents Listed in Maintenance Proceeding Against Landowner

Helen Louise Andrade filed suit for separate maintenance yesterday against her wealthy husband, Albert Francis Andrade, owner of 100,000 acres of land in Mexico, much of which is located at or near Tia Juana and Mexicali.

Mrs. Andrade names three corespondents. She declares that her husband from 1909 to 1915 lived at frequent intervals with Sammie Harris, and that he supported her during this time. In 1915, she asserts, he cast Miss Harris aside and became intimate with Margaret Plato, whom he also showered with expensive presents.

At the present time, she declares, he is living with Judith Lane Lavender at Santa Monica, and is paying all the latter's bills in addition to having set her up in business. He also has given her considerable property, Mrs. Andrade charges, asking that the court force the woman to return this property in order that a proper community property settlement may be effected.

Mrs. Andrade asks an allowance of $500 a month, $25,000 attorneys' fees for Attorneys Newby & Palmer, who drew the complaint, and $2000 to cover court costs.

Hebrew Body's Envoy Abroad Will Talk Here

B. C. Vladeck, former Alderman of New York City, who recently returned from Europe on a mission for the Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society, will deliver a lecture at Trinity Auditorium Sunday night on his experiences in Europe. Mr. Vladeck is general manager of the Jewish Daily Forward, one of the largest Jewish dailies in the world. His trip to Europe as commissioner of the "Hias" was primarily for the purpose of investigating the condition of immigrants at the various European ports who had left their home for America, but were detained because of the new immigration law.

The majority of these immigrants found themselves in a sore plight. They were declined permission to remain permanently in the cities where they were detained and Mr. Vladeck interceded for them with the various governments.

A musical program has been arranged for the evening.

FIREMAN'S DISMISSAL SUSTAINED BY BOARD

The dismissal by Fire Chief Scott of Engineer Charles Walters, who was attached to Engine Company No. 40, on Terminal Island at Los Angeles Harbor, was sustained yesterday by the Board of Fire Commissioners. The records brought to the attention of the board showed that Walters had been dismissed following his arrest chared with selling ten gallons of intoxicating liquor.

MULHOLLAND TO VISIT COLORADO

Plans Survey of Possible Aqueduct Routes

Engineer Leaves Tomorrow on Two Week's Trip

Committee Formulates Plan for Water District

Prepared to make another exhaustive personal study of the lower Colorado River and the 250-mile wide region separating Los Angeles from the river before making formal recommendations on the route of the proposed Colorado River aqueduct, Chief Engineer William Mulholland of the municipal water bureau expects to leave the city Saturday for a two weeks' inspection tour, it was learned yesterday.

Coincident with Mulholland's preparation, the executive committee of the Colorado River Aqueduct Association was meeting in Los Angeles yesterday to formulate plans for the establishment of a huge water district embracing some thirty-eight cities and towns desiring to secure water from the Colorado River aqueduct.

Accompanied by his reconnaissance engineer, E. A. Bayley, Chief Engineer Mulholland will make a close study of the wide stretch of mountainous desert country between Beaumont and the Colorado. He will also devote considerable time investigating conditions along the entire length of the Lower Colorado River.

SURVEYING PARTIES

At the same time preparations were being made to dispatch two surveying parties to the vicinity of Yuma to collect topographical data that will indicate whether or not a feasible aqueduct intake site could be established along that section of the Colorado River between Yuma and Needles.

Four parties of engineers have been working under Mulholland for several months collecting topographical data in the territory between the San Gabriel Valley and the San Jacinto Mountains. Surveyors will continue on this task for several weeks, it was announced.

The two surveying parties being sent to Yuma will complete reconnoitering work set under way by Mulholland last winter in the Cochella and Chuckawalla valleys. Because of high summer temperatures this work had to be temporarily abandoned during the past season.

Pointing out that Los Angeles and neighboring cities and towns have no time to waste in pushing forward the gigantic task of constructing the Colorado River aqueduct, Mulholland indicated yesterday that every effort is being made by his staff of engineers to complete at the earliest possible date the topographical survey of territory over which the giant water line must pass.

PLANS THOROUGH STUDY

In this connection, however, it was emphasized by Mulholland that he will not be ready to make his final recommendations on a route for the aqueduct until every possible phase of the problem has been studied thoroughly.

In his study of the Lower Colorado River, Mulholland will direct his attention to the selection of the most suitable site for the establishment of an intake for the aqueduct, it was stated.

Several points along the river have been selected by his surveying parties as possible intakes. Whether one of these will be favored by Mulholland or an entirely new point for the diversion of water into the aqueduct will be selected by the chief engineer, it was not known.

In that section of the San Jacinto Mountains where the territory separating Los Angeles from the Colorado rises to its highest altitude, Mulholland is also scheduled to devote considerable time in studying the most feasible and economical method of conveying the water across this natural barrier.

Under Mulholland's direction, several tunnel routes through the mountains in the vicinity of San Gorgonia Pass have been surveyed by engineering parties. The selection of one of these routes or the determination upon an entirely different scheme to bring the water into the Southern California basin will be worked out by Mulholland during the trip, it was expected.

Since the altitude at which the aqueduct will be brought over the San Jacinto Mountains and the point of intake on the Colorado will be the two factors that will, in a great measure, determine the route of the water line, it was believed that Mulholland would center his attention particularly upon these features of the work while on his tour of inspection.

Woman Seeking Decree Forgets Marriage Data

Mrs. Myrtle White never had obtained a divorce before.

So it was perhaps only natural that she should be a little upset in Judge Summerfield's court yesterday. Many women are nervous when they appear as plaintiffs in divorce actions but few so "rattled" as Mrs. White.

She even forgot her wedding date.

"What year were you married?" Judge Summerfield asked.

"I can't remember," Mrs. White stammered.

"Well, what day of the month was it," the court inquired.

"I don't remember, but it was in June," she faltered.

Judge Summerfield finally soothed the plaintiff to a condition in which she recalled that she married James White June 2, 1903, and that they separated December 28, 1917. She was given a decree on a desertion charge.

Property Sale Shows Increase in Local Values

For a reported consideration of $200,000, the northeast corner of Ninth and Main streets was sold yesterday to Joe Toplitzky by Edward R. Meier as an investment. The property has a frontage of forty feet on Main street and sixty feet on Ninth street, and is improved with a two-story brick building.

Twenty years ago this property was offered for sale at $40,000 and it could not be sold.

WANT-AD RATES

Effective March 1, 1924

Rates per line for insertion: For all classifications, in consecutive issues, 30 Daily, 8c; Sunday, 10c. Minimum charge for any ad, 40c. Average 5 words to a line. Capitalized words, 10c extra per line. Boldface words, 20c extra per line. Boldface capitals, 30c extra per line. Minimum space, 4 lines. Count 6 words for each line in figuring ads.

Terms: Cash with order, or charged to those having established credit. Ads may be ordered, changed or discontinued by telephone.

Basis of Measurement: Agate measurement, 14 lines to the inch. Column measurement, 2 inches to the column.

Copy: Ads will be received up to 12 midnight for the following morning's issue, except Sunday, when the hour is 10 p.m. Saturday. Ads ordered for "Situations Wanted" and "Personals" must be accompanied by cash.

Classification: Ads will be classified under the proper heads according to the best judgment of the Want-Ad Manager. Ads will be run in the city or district where ordered unless otherwise specified.

Proofs: Proofs will be furnished only when requested at the time copy is given. Errors must be reported in person at the office of publication before the second insertion of the ad, otherwise no allowance will be made.

Responsibility: The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

The inadvertent omission or incorrect publication of advertising will be rectified only by cancellation of the charge made for the service rendered.

Cancellations: Ads ordered for FRIDAY, 5 P.M., or during hour for the week issue of the Sunday Times, may be cancelled before 10 A.M. Saturday. Ads ordered for Sunday issue may be cancelled before 10 A.M. Sunday. Ads ordered for daily issues may be cancelled before the next issue after the ad is received.

Extra Charges: Charges for extra services, such as typewriting, bookkeeping, collecting, etc., are based on the time required.

Rates for Consecutive Insertions: Ads will be inserted under the following rates for consecutive insertions, Daily, Sunday and Daily, Sunday only, or Daily only, as ordered. USED CAR

SHOW TIME SALE

OPEN UNTIL 9 P.M.

The auto show always brings a flood of new car sales to Cadillac. We've got to clear the decks in the used car department to prepare for it.

To reduce stocks immediately we've reprized our used cars. You'll find wonderful values all the way from $250 to $4000. And remember, when you come to buy a used car the name on the building means more than the name on the radiator.

PRETTY GIRLS IN ALL NIGHT VIGIL

Eight Wait on Front Porch of Show Man's Home

Members of Theater Troupe That is Not Thriving

A vigil kept by eight pretty girls on the front porch of Henry Warner's home at 7284½ Fountain avenue until 2:30 a.m. yesterday was described some hours later by the girls to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Murray.

The girls told Mr. Murray that they assembled on the porch of Warner's home late Wednesday night in order to find Warner and interview him in regard to the future prospects of a theatrical troupe he had organized and of which they were members.

Warner was brought in and questioned. He admitted that the show he had organized and partially financed had not thrived, but convinced the prosecutor that his intentions were the best and was released. He declared that he was doing the best he could and prophesied that eventually the show would "make good."

The eight girls represent the feminine contingent of the troupe, which plays under the name of "Oriental Phantasy." Three of them are said to be winners of beauty contests conducted here and in other cities. These are Betty Corner, who came here from Kentucky and recently won a beauty contest conducted by a local newspaper in conjunction with a film producer; Beatrice Trift and Gertrude Heinecke, known as "Chicago's sweetheart," and winner of three beauty contests in that city. She has taken small parts in pictures since her arrival in this city.

The troupe of which they are members has been playing for eight weeks but the girls declared that all they had received was money to pay their board and room. They refused to sign a formal complaint against Warner, however, being convinced that he intended to do the utmost to fulfill his part of the contract.

DETECTIVE TO GIVE TALK

Featuring what will be another entertaining meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles, Detective Nick Harris will speak at the luncheon at the University Club at noon today on "The Juvenile Criminal and Its Relation to Modern Day Business." A musical program will be offered by Madlyn Hardy, Bobby Gross, Harry Hume and Murial Travers Dana. A. G. Arnold, the new secretary and general manager of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, will be an honor guest.

TAX REFUND CHECKS GO UNCLAIMED

Four Thousand, Totaling $50,000 Await Those Who Paid on Income in March

Four thousand checks for income tax refunds drawn in favor of Southern California taxpayers still remain unclaimed in the internal revenue office. About 500 taxpayers have claimed checks during the last two weeks.

Collector Rex Goodcell said yesterday that the unclaimed checks aggregate $50,000. They were mailed to taxpayers at the address they gave in the income returns they filed in March, and were returned by the postoffice marked "moved."

Every effort is being made by the collector's office to locate the taxpayers to whom the refund checks are due. Collector Goodcell advises every taxpayer who paid his income tax in full March 15 and who has not received a refund check to get in touch with his office as a check is waiting for him there. The checks cover the 25 per cent refund on 1923 income, which was allowed by the Revenue Act of 1924.

"Business conditions in Southern California must be pretty good when taxpayers forget to claim refund checks amounting to $50,000," Collector Goodcell said.

CAMPAIGN IS ON AGAINST BOY FLIRTS

Seven Lads Are Taken Into Custody as Ban is Placed on Juvenile Mashing

A campaign against juvenile mashers was started yesterday by Capt. McClary of the Crime Prevention Bureau and resulted in the arrest of seven youths, said to have flirted from automobiles with schools girls.

Six of the youths were released to their parents. The seventh, Edward Munoz, 19 years of age, of Watts, was locked up, booked on a charge of vagrancy and dissolute conduct. He was arrested by Officer Aslein and Policewoman Robinson near a school at Newton and Long Beach avenues.

Capt. McClary said he had asked officers on school crossings and other duty near schools to watch out for and arrest juvenile mashers and that in addition plain clothes officers will make a special drive to round them up.

Date Fixed for Second Annual Food Exhibition

The second annual Southern California food and household show is scheduled for the week of April 11-19, 1925, at the new Ambassador Auditorium, according to the announcement yesterday of the Southern California Retail Grocers' Association.

Exhibitors have been so enthusiastic over the success of last year's show at Exposition Park that a large number have already expressed themselves favorably toward the coming exposition, with the indication that there will be a larger number of exhibitors with more generous exhibits than have ever been seen locally.

The new Ambassador Auditorium, which is just being completed, has a floor space area of 200 by 275 feet. It has a capacity of 7000 persons and is already scheduled to be the scene of many great expositions during the coming winter.

Fisherman Pays Fine for Sale Small Lobsters

Carl Krog, a fisherman living in the harbor district, was fined $35 in Justice Court at Sherman yesterday, following his plea of guilty to a charge of selling lobsters less than the legal length of twelve and one-half inches.

Krog was arrested by Assistant County Game Wardens Thompson, McIntyre and Carter. Krog, according to the deputies, was the first to be arrested this week in connection with a campaign instituted by County Game Warden Flintham's office to prevent the selling of undersized shellfish.

LIQUOR CACHE FOUND

Discovery in Hollywood Garage Made by Accident

While investigating a "suspicious characters" report sent in to the Hollywood police station early yesterday morning, Officers Young and Erickson entered a garage at 1309 Gordon street and found approximately fifty gallons of moonshine liquor, according to their report to Capt. L. L. McClary.

The liquor was found in five-gallon cans, gallon bottles and other containers. It was taken to the police station while detectives started a search for the owner who is said to have rented the garage from the owner of the house several days ago.

VOTE ISSUES DEBATED

Hollywood Open Forum Meeting is Well Attended

Between 500 and 600 voters were present at the old Hollywood High School auditorium Wednesday night to hear various issues which are to be settled at the November 4 election debated by prominent speakers. The meeting, the first of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce open forums of the winter season, was in charge of Harlan G. Palmer, chairman of the open forum committee.

A short review of the work done throughout the United States by the publicity bureau of the Hollywood chamber was also a feature of the meeting.

OLDFIELD FILES DIVORCE ACTION

Pioneer Auto Racer Charges Nagging Ended Career

Declares Wife Had Habit of Leaving Home on Trips

I. L. Brunk, Pilot's Attorney, Starts Similar Suit

Berna Eli Oldfield, better known to several generations of speed enthusiasts as Barney Oldfield, the man with the cigar and iron nerve, filed suit for divorce yesterday against Rebecca Oldfield.

The veteran racing pilot, it appears from his suit, participated in many more heated brushes at home than he did on the race track. But, unlike his performance on the track, where he generally succeeded in romping home in the lead, at home he was always in the ruck and in trouble.

The suit was prepared by Attorney Ira L. Brunk, an intimate friend of the pioneer race pilot. Brunk, after filing Oldfield's complaint, filed one on his own behalf in which he seeks a divorce from his wife, Laura M. Brunk, and in which he accuses his wife of undue familiarity with a brewery employee, Frank Streefkerk.

ABUSE CHARGED

Oldfield, in his suit, declares that his wife's practice of constantly nagging and abusing him finally caused him to desert the race track. They separated on July 20, 1923, after sixteen years of marriage.

Their separation, he says, came one evening while they were entertaining some dinner guests at their home. Things did not go at all well, Oldfield says, and finally his wife arose from her seat and declared:

"I want all my friends here to know that I'm through with you."

She kept her word, he says, and left. Last March they effected a property settlement under which each received half of the community property.

It was not only his wife's nagging and abuse which finally brought him to the decision to abandon racing, but also her practice of remaining away from home for long periods and then refusing to explain where she had been, according to Oldfield.

As an instance of the treatment he was forced to undergo at home, Oldfield cites an occasion in February, 1923. He came home with a friend, he says, and his wife met him at the door. She informed both him and his friend that she didn't want them around and told them to get out.

SAYS BILLS WERE CLEWS

Soon thereafter she vanished, he says. He did not know where she had gone until hotel bills from southern cities began to reach him. Then he discovered that his wife was following the Boston American League team in its exhibition tour through the South.

Once in Indianapolis, he says, his wife arrived at his hotel without preliminary notice and took up her abode in his room. She refused, however, to speak or have anything to do with him for three days.

In his suit for divorce, the attorney declares that Mrs. Brunk frequently associated with Streefkerk and that she was named corespondent in a suit for divorce filed about a year ago by Mrs. Streefkerk. Subsequently this suit was dropped and the Streefkerks apparently became reconciled. The suit by Brunk was filed on his twenty-third wedding anniversary.

League Test of Craftsmen Will Open Saturday

The contest of craftsmen at the community house of the Assistance League, 5604 De Longpre avenue, Hollywood, during November, will open tomorrow and examples of handicraft for which the makers will accept orders may be registered from now on until the close of the contest, November 30.

Trunks, hampers or other containers, equipped with locks and suitable for the safekeeping of articles entered in the contest are needed by the league, the telephone number of which is HEmpstead 5133. This matter is being handled by Mrs. Payne, assistant secretary.

Every one of the 30,000 time tables issued by the Pacific Electric Company during November will carry an announcement of the contest. Banners will also be carried on the cars of the company. This advertising is the gift of the company to the league.

This contest is to help individual workers sell hand-made articles of silver, brass, bronze, leather, wood, linen, cotton, silk and wool. During the last six days of November food products may be entered.

Chamber Urges Improvement of Hawaiian Port

Improvement of Kahului Harbor, Hawaii, by the government as a means of further developing the trade to the islands from Los Angeles Harbor was urged here yesterday in a resolution passed by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, which will be forwarded to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors in Washington, D. C.

The action is a result of a request from the Maui Chamber of Commerce in Hawaii, following the opening of Kahului Harbor recently as a new port of call for the Los Angeles Steamship Company liners. A large and profitable trade is possible from the new port, providing certain improvements are made by the government.

HOLLYWOOD BANK TO MOVE

Removal of the West Hollywood National Bank from its old location on the northwest corner of Santa Monica Boulevard and Fairfax avenue to the new Hardy Building on the southwest corner of the same intersection, was announced yesterday. A new bank to be known as the West Hollywood Savings Bank will be started in the old location with F. C. Hardy as president.

CASHIER OF THEATER IS ACQUITTED

Girl Accused of Stealing Grauman Receipts Freed for Lack of Evidence

A charge of embezzlement made against Edna Kisthard, cashier at Grauman's Million Dollar Theater, following the discovery of a shortage of $2157 in receipts of the 12th inst., was dismissed yesterday by Justice Hanby on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

Witnesses at the hearing included Pearl Dunbar and Kern Martin, cashiers, Chief Accountant Christensen, who discovered the shortage, and Detective Lieutenant Wallis, who arrested Miss Kisthard during the investigation of the missing money. Miss Dunbar testified she sold $620 worth of tickets and Miss Martin said she took in $300 during the day previous to the time Miss Kisthard took charge. Miss Kisthard had testified the receipts while she was on duty totaled $1300.

At closing time, Miss Kisthard testified, she placed the receipts of the day in the safe and locked it. She maintained she did not take the money, nor knew it was missing.

The missing money has never been recovered, it was testified yesterday, although detectives have conducted a search for it since the 12th inst.

AIR ORPHAN ADOPTED

Child Whose Parents Were Killed in Plane Goes to Grandmother

Made an orphan when her father and mother were killed in an airplane accident, little Catherine Esther Belcher, 3 years of age, was given a new mother yesterday by Judge Archbald.

Osmond T. and Esther Catherine Belcher, parents of the child, died of injuries received when they were trying out an airplane invented and built by Belcher, July 27, last.

Mary Edna Belcher, a widow and grandmother of the child, was given legal permission to take little Catherine into her home.

LADIES RESPOND TO THRIFT PLAN

Mothers, Wives, Sisters Given Vanity Case Banks

Saturday, "The Times" Will Give to Little Folks

"Our Gang" Will be There to Greet Children

Ladies' Day in The Times' Thrift Club yesterday resulted in hundreds of mothers, wives, sisters and sweethearts accepting checks for $1 and pretty little vanity case banks to help them add to their accounts which were automatically opened in the Seaboard National Bank.

While every effort was made by Thrift employees to assist the women to open their savings accounts, the men were not neglected, and as in previous days of the Thrift campaign, there were nearly as many men in attendance as women.

SURPRISE IN STORE

Thrift has become a word with which thousands of Times friends have become familiar since the present campaign opened last Sunday. Parents who have always realized the necessity of a savings account have been quick to grasp the generous opportunity offered by The Times and the checks for $1, the initial deposit, have been eagerly received by the many thousands who have taken advantage of The Times' Thrift campaign.

Business as usual was the cheerful forecast for today from the twenty pretty Times girls who have carried on all week.

Because of the generous response accorded The Times by the many who have joined the Thrift Club and because The Times is not only progressive, but also appreciative of the spirit of thrift that has been awakened in Los Angeles parenthood, a still greater surprise is in store for the thousands who are invited to the first floor of The Times Building tomorrow.

"OUR GANG" TO BE THERE

Mickey, Farina and the rest of "Our Gang," Hal Roach's famous and beloved motion-picture juveniles, will be on hand, in costume, tomorrow morning, to greet and welcome Los Angeles youngsters in a day that can only be described as Children's Day. While many other entertaining features have been arranged for Saturday, the kiddies at least will agree that no greater treat could be in store for them than an actual visit with the children whose screen pranks have made them so popular.

From 10 o'clock until noon, Roach's kiddies will be on hand to meet all children, parents, relatives, friends and just everyone.

Betty Blythe and stars of equal prominence will also be there to aid and abet the spirit of thrift and together with the screen luminaries. Musical and other entertainment features will be presented on the spacious first floor of The Times Building.

BROADWAY SUIT READY FOR FILING

Condemnation Complaint Said to be Largest of Kind in City's History

The suit to condemn 196 parcels of land including more than 200 buildings which are in the path of the opening of Broadway from Pico street to Forty-fifth street, is scheduled to be filed today in the Superior Court by City Atty. Stephens. The complaint, which represents months of work by Dep. City Atty. Donald Keith working with Deputy City Engineer John R. Prince, is set forth in 300 typewritten pages and copies will be served upon 450 owners of the land to be condemned, who are named as defendants in the suit. With the exception of the Tenth-street opening and widening condemnation case, the Broadway complaint is the most voluminous ever filed by the city in proceedings of this kind.

It is expected that it will be two years before the case is settled and the awards made. The city will then come into possession of the land and buildings and will auction the buildings and they will be moved away by the purchasers. Work on the grading and paving of the street and the laying of sewers, curbs and sidewalks will follow. The city will pay from its general fund $500,000 toward the cost of the Broadway opening improvement, the rest of the expense to be borne by the property owners of the assessment district.
